

My Philosophy of Agriculture Science Education

To instill an understanding, respect, and appreciation for agriculture in each and every student no matter their background, ethnicity, culture, gender, or religion. My goal as an agriculture science instructor is not only to insure that all students have the opportunity to learn the curriculum but also the opportunity to learn valuable life lessons.