Dear Reader:

Hello, I am Larry Bifman. I am a professional cartoonist that worked for many companies. My job in this system is a storyboard artist. But I'll get to that later. The reason why I have made this website is that I am hoping that it'll inspire many kids and make them love cartoons. I am hoping that this will help future cartoonist too. For this website, I am going to do a little animation that'll show you how easy it is to animate and a comic of how we create cartoons.

During college, I have learned a lot of things about cartoons, but have been animating since I was a little kid. Since I've been animating my whole entire, I will tell you everything I know. I'll even show you how The Amazing World of Gumball works and the past shows I've been working on.

When I was a kid; I was really astonished by the cartoons that I wanted to become one really bad. By the time I got to college, I started researching what people had to do in it and what I have to do to get in it. After College, I sign up for this company and they gave me my first job. I was an animator for this show called The Teen Titans. I have learned a lot from that job but I still have some more things to learn.

Sincerely,
