

RICHARD LINEBERRY

Richard Lineberry and his wife Karen are lifelong residents of Oklahoma City. They have two grown sons and five grandchildren. Richard has served in Christian ministry for over thirty-five years in a variety of church backgrounds.

Over the last decade, he has taught in three different Bible colleges and seminaries. He has a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from the University of Central Oklahoma, an M.A. in Religion from Southern Nazarene University and a Doctor of Ministry from American Christian College and Seminary in Oklahoma City where he served as a professor for nine years. In 1996, he planted a Vineyard Christian Fellowship Church and served as the senior pastor for eight years.

Richard is the founder of the Joseph School of Ministry in Oklahoma City, an organization for training Christian leaders in local churches. He is the author of the book The Joseph School of Leadership: How God Trains Leaders. Richard can be contacted by writing to The Joseph School of Ministry, 3106 N Utah, Oklahoma City, OK 73112 or by e-mail at: rlnberry@aol.com