TOURNAMENT SUMMARY

PeeWee Castro and Willie Polanco took the Men's Open Doubles defeating Rookie Wright and Dave Rojas. PeeWee has won the doubles for the past three year's, each time with a different partner. While Willie has won several doubles tournaments in the past two years, this was his first championship at the Nationals.

Castro and Polanco advanced to the finals without much of a problem while their competitors Rookie and Dave had to slog their way up through a number of tough matches, including a surprising strong showing by four-wall legend Dave Chapman and his partner Emmitt Pieoxto. The added strain of Rookie making the singles finals also showed towards the end of the doubles competition as Rookie, a player with tremendous physical endurance showed some signs of fatigue. The match played out like a scripted repeat of the Mayor's Cup final. Rookie and Dave won the first game and then PeeWee and Willie captured the next. Down 6-2 in the tiebreaker, Rookie came up with 3 fly kills to narrow the score to 6-5 but PeeWee and Willie recovered and prevailed 11-8.
