TOURNAMENT SUMMARY
by Ben Brighton

What do Anna Calderon, Ted Williams and Mohammed Ali have in common? Each had long layoffs during the prime of their careers and came back to perform at championship levels. Anna's story is remarkable. As I've written before, a 15-year layoff, a dramatic change in her adolescent physique. She's worker very hard and the results have been amazing. Calderon left promising newcomer Lori Acevedo on 4. Lori has a lot of potential. I hope she is not dejected and uses this loss as a learning experience.

Brenda Pares advanced by beating former champion Dori Ten 25-14 but was stopped, in the semis, by Anna 25-14. Three time National singles champion Tracy Davis advanced with wins over Alethia Mendez 25-14 and Veronica Figueroa 25-11. A see-saw affair had Tracy serving at 24-22. An apparent tournament winning ace was appealed and ruled to be a short instead. Calderon took advantage of the opportunity and ran 3 points to capture the title 25-24. A stunned Davis was left shaking her head while a jubilant Calderon celebrated.

Anna possesses the best serve among the women. You need a calculator to keep track of her aces. Those foolish enough to return it are met with a swift response. The victory has to be a confidence builder in her quest for this summer's National title.
