

Caddy Corner

Issue 1 Volume 1

Established in the Year 2000

June 7th, 2000

Bumba-Clot Ras !!!

Atlantic Golf Club Caddy, known as 'purple', says to wife, "Bumba-Clot Ras!!" As the slow month of June begins, 'purple' explains to his wife the increasing amount of new caddies walking ahead of his A-caddy status. "Ya cyont git no blood-clot work when dy pussy-hole mont a June brings dy young bwoys bac to dy course," argues purple.

Caddy Boasts New Fashion

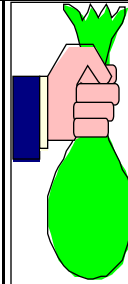

Lesroy Brown sports the new "sideways, I-don't-give-a-fuck" look yesterday as members continue to pay him fifty dollars. Lesroy hopes new look will scare them into paying him more, others disagree.

Albert Rests

First day off in Years

Notorious AGC Caddy named Albert, 54, takes first day off in five years according to course play documents. Even a sunny Thursday wasn't enough to inspire players to enjoy a game of golf. Immediate action will be taken into effect the following day to negate this atrocity.

June Outlook

Weekdays:
SLOW

Weekends:
Moderate

NightLife:
Expensive

Starving Caddy Eats Dead Bird

The lack of food in the yard has left many caddies to eat anything they can salvage, including dead birds. Steve Commander, 21, was driven to extremes and ate a bird carcass merely because of the impending hunger. "There's nothing here for us to eat," said Commander as blood dripped from his face. "Thank God for birds."