

Edition 17 - No Stuff-ups So Far!
Thursday, March 01, 2001

Free Email Up
Weekly editions e
your email h

Bladder Sport

- Home
- AFL
- Cricket
- Olympics
- Previous Issues
- Other People's Bladder
- Members Services
- Contribute
- Behind the Bladder

Syndication Partners

- Yap! Student Portal
- eGuideAustralia

Welcome to Other People's Bladder

NATIONAL RUGBY LEAGUE

Rabbitohs Cruise Ship Sunk

By Worker
Wednesday, February 21, 2001

In a startling development this morning Rupert Murderer announced that the South Sydney Rabbitohs would in fact never be re admitted to the NRL. This may not come as a surprise to many, however muafc.com can now reveal that secret talks had been held between News Unlimited and the NRL, discussing readmission of the Rabbitohs for mid year. This was timed to promote Tom Cruise's new movie Vanilla Sky and was the brain child of News Ultd and Ed Media, a wholly owned subsidiary of Starbucks, the international coffee chain started out of the shed of a young Broadmeadows man, McEddie McGuire.

A spokesman for News has said "Since Mr Cruise has left 'Our' Nicole, we feel both cheated and let down and as such will stop all negotiations with the actor". It is reported by the NRL that Mr Cruise doubled Rabbitohs attendances when he and both Russell Crowe were in the stands at the SFS, "That's correct ... doubled attendances ... the crowd rose from 2, to 4. We were caught short one night as we had only cooked one hot dog and two pies, next thing we know Mr Cruise was looking for a pizza and Mr Crowe wanted to buy his 'pal' a Rabbitohs scarf! Well blow me over, we hadn't sold one of those things for at least 20 years, sure people are wearing them still but they tend to have their grandma knit them for authenticity reasons"

Since the break up of the fairytale Cruise-Kidman marriage News Ultd has shelved plans to reintroduce the Rabbitohs as they won't be able to take photos of Cruise in the stands anymore. "Sure we could take photos of bloody Andrew Denton, Ray Martin or even Mike Whitney but they lack the credibility of Cruise who has been a long time supporter by comparison ... we really don't know what the next step is ..."

Other People's Bl types of contribu

- stories
- photos, graphics
- videos
- audio

Search contributi

--- sport ---
stories
subm

What about you?

Yes you. Drunk on sport? Share it with on, visit our contri and sober up nagd.

Back to Top

Back to the contribution list

Sponsored By: PowerServe and Media Giants.
The Bladder is not a serious site. Everything is not real.

Read the disclaimer here.

