Dear Jennifer,

Congratulations! On behalf of North Carolina State University College of Design Faculty, I am pleased to inform you that you have been recommended for acceptance for the Fall 2007 freshman class in the Department of Graphic Design.

After careful consideration of many excellent applicants, you were selected to be one of approximately 130 incoming new students. In order to transfer to the College of Design, a university curriculum change form must be completed. Once Spring grades are verified, the form will be submitted for you by the College of Design registrar, Hazel Tudor, and your student records will be requested from your previous college.

As an on-campus transfer student, your admission is contingent upon maintaining an academic average of at least a 2.7. You will be required to submit an official transcript to the College of Design, Student Services Office (Campus Box 7701) indicating your academic standing and completion of at least 30 semester hours by the end of first summer session but no later than June 29, 2007.

Failure to submit a final transcript and meet the minimum requirements by the deadline will result in forfeiture of your seat. Also, since the College of Design will maintain a wait list, if you have already made your admissions decision, please take a moment to return the enclosed yellow College of Design response card today.

The study and practice of design is a life-long pursuit. It is a path chosen and a calling accepted. Design thinking is both a way of seeing that provokes intellectual growth and a way of doing that provides a common-sense strategy for life. Artanship, reflection and social relevancy measure the pursuit of a life in design. It is a search for meaning and harmony filled with the promise that comes with openness to new ways. We are pleased to offer you the opportunity to embark on your journey with us at the College of Design.

Your selection for admission indicates that we feel you have great potential as a student and future professional. The faculty and students thank you for your interest in the College of Design and hope you will join us in the Fall 2007 semester.

Regards,
