

"True Wisdom"

By Awen Eldorath

The words and wisdom of the Great Teachers waits Within, hidden deep in the seat of our Souls; its secret Light longing to be seen not for its own pleasure nor power nor pride, but for the Glory of the Eternal Divine.

The Spirit of Truth eternally renews this Ancient Wisdom, which lives in every Moment with unprejudiced Awareness. Its words are written for all to see; every sacred text reflects the longing Love of the Divine to set us Free. How can it be harmful to look with an open heart and mind upon the many roads to Thee, O Source of all Creation? For all great Teachers who speak of Thee have drawn from the same wellspring of inspiration and sipped the same cup of joy. You are like an Endless Sea; let us not become blinded by the many drops of water. Separation of things only distracts from Thee, in Whom there is Naught that is not Thee.

Through the many-splendor maze, the infinite facets, blossoms, and roads--in our deepest Souls we see Thee. Through the teachings of Inspiration, we hear Thee. Within the chambers of silent meditation and fervent prayer, we feel Thee. The summit of Thy Mountain is One. You are an Endless Sea, reaching out to fill the riverbeds of our Being.

It is by serving others that we serve Thee. By showing compassion and kindness to others, we offer our love and devotion to Thee; a part of You lives in all things, and whatsoever we do to the least of these we do to Thee. Let not our hearts become closed to Thee! Let not our ears or eyes turn from Thee! In all that we see, smell, taste, hear, and feel--may all Teachings remind us of Thee!

In our deepest Meditation and prayers, let us intimately know Thee. Let us peacefully ride the waves of Love that flow from Thee!

Let Thy Omnipresence flow through us and into all things, for Oneness is Thy Will, and Thy unending Love longs to sing within the hearts of all beings. So may it be!
