

APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP

The Linguistic Society of Southern Africa is a scholarly society of linguists whose research foci are the languages of the southern African region. The aims of the Society are to promote, in southern Africa, studies and research in linguistics; establish contact with other societies which concentrate on language studies; organize conferences; and to issue a professional journal and other publications.

Membership fees are R200.00 per annum (R100.00 for full-time students and $60.00 for members with overseas postal addresses). This fee includes the costs of the journal SA Linguistics and Applied Language Studies as well as newsletters.

Cheques should be made payable to the Linguistic Society of Southern Africa.
