Special Guests: Penn Valley Paramedics (Emergencies)

Captain's Message-Mike Lesnewsky

Lady 9ers need help for their invitational on August 21st. Please help the ladies out and call Nancy Smith 432-9565 to volunteer.

A reminder we are here to have fun, so feel free to use the black tees just remember to enter your scores as such. The computer will automatically adjust the scores. The computer was down during the beginning of the month so check and see if all of your scores were recorded, if not re-enter.

A special message from the Pro Shop, if you are going to play golf after hours, please call the pro shop and notify them. The marshals will have a list of approved players. Don't just walk on.

Please note the date change for the August breakfast, due to the Nine Hole Ladies Invitational our breakfast meeting will move up a week to August 14th.

I have been notified that the Public Safety Committee has again alerted Security to the ongoing problem of golfcarts going the wrong way in the Clubhouse parking lot. The last lane of the parking lot often used to exit the area has an arrow indicating entrance painted on the pavement. Security will be stepping up enforcement again.

Get involved; it is to your benefit to attend golf committee meetings held the second Tues. of each month in the Cedar room @2PM. Don't forget copies of the golf master plan are available in the administration office. Thanks to those who attended the last golf committee meeting, we had great representation., Tom Knoflick, John Cook, and Bill Wilcock, joined Bob Martin and myself in representing the interest of the Men's 9 Hole Golf Group. It made a difference.

Don't forget to fix divots and pitch marks! The Pro Shop has free divot tools, just ask for one.

Don't use metal tees, the mowers don't like them.

A young man, his father and his grandfather were about to tee off to start their round when an incredibly good-looking woman walked up to the tee box.

"Would you like to join us and make a foursome?" asked the grandfather.

"I would, but on one condition," replied the lovely young woman. "I prefer to select my own clubs and make my own putts without advice from men. Every other time I've golfed with men, they try to give me advice. Will you agree not to give me advice?"

The men all consented in unison, none of them being particularly good players.

As they soon realized, this young woman was a fabulous golfer. She was getting par on every hole. The men were wondering who would have the nerve to give her advice!

On the eighteenth hole, the woman found herself facing a 35-foot putt, with a severe undulation on the green.

She studied it, and studied it, and studied it.

Finally, she said, "Gentlemen, I'm very happy that none of you tried to give me advice before this. I've never played a round with men when at least one of them didn't try to give me some advice. Right now, if I make this putt, I'll have par for the course, and I'm asking for your advice. If you help me and I make this shot, I'll sleep with each one of you!"

The young man rushed over, studied the putt, and said, "You have to aim for that small bush to the left of the hole, that should be the right break!"

The father ran over and studied the putt, then said, "No, I think you should aim at the knot on the log to the left of the hole, and that will be the right break!"

The grandfather walked up to the ball. "Heck," he said, calmly picking up the ball, "that's a gimme."
