

Anna Maria Arias

MEMORIAL BUSINESS FUND

Dedicated to the Memory of Anna Maria Arias (1960-2001)

Anna Maria Arias was a visionary and a champion of Latina empowerment.

In 1994, she launched LATINAStyle Magazine. It was the first national magazine dedicated to the needs and concerns of contemporary Latina professionals. LATINAStyle focuses on the needs of business owners, professionals, and college students, showcasing achievements by Latinas in business, science, civic affairs, education, sports, the arts and features on cultural traditions.

In 1998, Anna Maria created the LATINAStyle Business Series. The Business Series presents resources, relevant information, and tips to assist Latina entrepreneurs in starting, growing and managing their business. The Business Series also provides education for young Latinas about how to start a business.

According to Anna Maria, it was “time that the Latino community—and especially the Latina—be recognized as successful people in the business environment.”

Award for Outstanding Latina Entrepreneurs – Ten winners will each receive a grant of $5,000

Award Background and Purpose

Wells Fargo, LATINAStyle Magazine, and the United States Hispanic Chamber of Commerce all share a commitment to support the needs of Latina business owners. Anna Maria Arias was a role model for Latina business owners. She was a pioneer as a publisher, business woman and champion of Latina entrepreneurship. In recognition of Anna Maria Arias’s mission to promote Latina entrepreneurship, Wells Fargo, LATINAStyle Magazine and the United States Hispanic Chamber of Commerce collaborated in 2002 to establish the Anna Maria Arias Memorial Business Fund. The Fund is a tribute to Anna Maria’s dedication and commitment. The Fund will grant cash awards of $5,000 to selected Latina business owners across the nation who exemplify those business practices and support principles which Anna Maria championed. Awards will be presented at the United States Hispanic Chamber of Commerce Annual National Convention in Milwaukee, WI on September 14-17, 2005.
