

D.N.A and the Existence of God

Based on an idea by Tad Mann

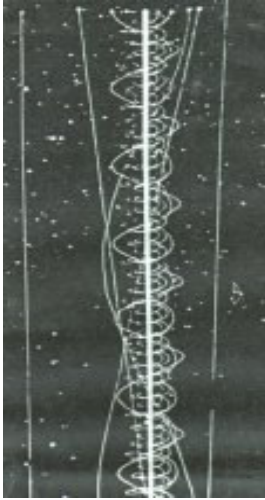

Alison Maciver 1990

In this discussion I intend to put forward the hypothesis that the discovery of the pattern or model of D.N.A proves the case for the existence of a Supreme Creator, whom I refer to as God (Jehovah).

The first diagram shows the movement of our solar system through time. Our Sun travels through space and through time at a rate of three quarters of a million kilometres every day. At the same time the planets of our solar system continue to revolve around the Sun, keeping pace with it as it moves at the speed of a bullet, if not faster. When you project the path of the Sun through time and space, the planets create spiral patterns around it. This has been called 'The Long Body' of the solar system. It has been hypothesized that our solar system functions as a huge step-down transformer of cosmic energy which comes from the centre of our galaxy, 'The Milky Way', and is transmitted through the Sun as a central filament, which is in turn stepped down into useable frequencies by the various planets of the solar system, which, in turn, resonate within the individual.

This area at the centre of the galaxy, commonly called the 'Galactic Centre' and found in the last degrees of the constellation of Sagittarius, is now the centre of a still controversial idea amongst astronomers that a black hole one million times more massive than the Sun exists there. Black holes are known to emit radiation.

Electromagnetic fields are created by movement. The solar system, of which we are a part moving on the line which is the path of the Earth, is a huge electromagnetic field, in the midst of which we are, that does not just sit there but has a very precise spiraling form.

The path of the planets - the inner planets and the Sun (Mercury, Venus and Earth) appear to be densely packed as a spiral. The outer planets, particularly Jupiter and Saturn, tend to show up as a double helix around that central core.

Long Body of the Solar System

The Sun, along with its own local star cluster, travels through our Milky Way towards the constellation of Hercules at the speed of twelve miles per second. In addition to this, the Sun has an orbit around the hub of our Galaxy. The length of our Sun's 'Year' equals 200 million of our own.

This is how long it takes for the Sun to make one of its orbital revolutions. It does this at a rate of 150 miles per second, compared to our orbital speed of 18.5 miles per second. The Sun is but one of possibly hundreds of millions of stars in the Galaxy.

This huge wheel of suns also has a distinct direction in its travels through space, for the Universal Mind, or God (Jehovah), has a definite geometric plan for all its creation, and that geometric plan or pattern is the same as that of the D.N.A double Helix. The Masons say that 'God Geometrizes'.

The second diagram looks very similar to the movement of the planets through time, but is the D.N.A double helix. It appears that the movement of the planets in the macrocosm is exactly the same form as the movement of the genetic code, or the form of the genetic code, in every living cell. Consider also that every single cell on this planet uses the same genetic code. We all basically have access to the same informational reservoir but each organism and each individual chooses selectively to utilize it in a different form.

DNA Molecule

Scientists say that the D.N.A in every cell is something like ten kilometers long but only a few feet of that genetic code actually go to creating a particular human organism. It has yet to be understood what is the function of the other 99%.

Here we see the age old idea of the macrocosm and the microcosm - as above so below - on Earth as it is in Heaven - Mankind (male and female) created in 'God's Image'.

At the moment we are conceived we are a fertilized one celled ovum, basically a single cell with a genetic strand in the middle of it, and yet at birth we are fully human. During the time we gestate in the womb, we repeat the entire evolutionary process within the womb.

From conception until about seven weeks later we go through a lower life form. We go through the form of early invertebrates, we develop a spine, we become fish like, swimming in the amniotic fluid. We become reptilian. All these forms are carried in the structure of our brains, because the first seven weeks is when our brain is created. Also at this point after seven weeks every single cell which we will bring to maturity during our lifetime is already there, such as the ovum in a female which may later be fertilized to form another human being. This creates a continuing spiral which goes ever backwards and ever forwards.

In the womb it seems that we are actually recapitulating history. After the creation of our brains comes the nervous system and then the lymphatic system comes into being. We see a continuation of the spiral when from birth until about seven years of age we create an emotional body within the structure of the home and family, and so on in the psychological quest for maturity.

'As above so below', 'On Earth as it is in Heaven'. Within each of us we have the same patterning as the Cosmos. The Bible states that we are made in 'God's Image'.

Genesis 1:26 And God (Elohim Saddai) said, 'Let us make man in our image, after our likeness ...' Many have assumed that because we have arms and legs, a head and a body, then so must our creator. If we look at the repeated patterning from D.N.A through to the spiral patterning of the galaxies, it seems far more logical that 'God' takes a form which some have referred to as the Universe. In John 4:24 we are told the God is a spirit. There must be some magnificent energy which keeps these millions of bodies moving as they do. We know from histories of many nations that our own planetary bodies may have followed different paths from their present ones, and that if any of them stray from their path, there are likely to be huge disturbances to our own earth either through showers of meteorites or through earthquakes and geopathic stress.

It has now being found that when Cancer occurs in the human body, something has gone wrong with a part of the D.N.A The problem facing medical research is how to rectify the problem or how to bring the D.N.A back into balance. It will be interesting to see whether future research traces all ill health back to malfunctioning in the D.N.A. The re-balancing is necessary in terms of bringing one back into balance with the electromagnetic influences of our planet system and from there into alignment with the Cosmos, into alignment with the 'Light of God'.

Genesis 1:27 'So God created man in His own image, in the image of God created He him. Male and female created He them'.

The male supremacy of the historical Christian teachings has worried many, particularly with the assumption that God is Male. Here we are told that God is both male and female, or somehow embodies both these qualities. The name of God, being Jehovah, combines two words meaning (male-female) - (he-she) - (father-mother). When we look to the microcosm of the molecular world we find that each element has either a positive or negative electrical charge and that it is the combining or balancing of these two energies which actually holds together a molecule. In simple terms, God (Jehovah) holds our cells together through a balance of His (for want of a more appropriate word) energy. When we look at creation in these terms, we can see that masculine energy is not superior to feminine energy, nor necessarily equal, but that these energies work to complement each other, and one cannot exist or function satisfactorily without the other. When we are told in the Ten Commandments to 'Honour thy mother and thy father', perhaps we are being asked to be thankful for the creative principle, which is God, which we see manifested 'On Earth' in each of our births.

Many people can understand and accept the idea of a Supreme Creator or creative force, but cannot see where 'Jesus Christ' could possibly fit into the scheme of things. At the end of the Old Testament, Malachi 4:2 we read, 'But unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of Righteousness arise with healing in his wings, and ye shall go forth and grow up like calves of the stall'. Christ is here referred in relation to the Sun, without whose energy, no life would exist on this planet. John 4:14 tells that Jesus is the Saviour of the World, and in John 8:12 it reports the He said, 'I am the Light of the world'. Jesus relates to the solar system in which we live. He is the Saviour of Our Galaxy. We are told that He was there 'In the beginning' when the Elohim created Mankind according to the patterns or designs of the Universe. The Bible tells us that 'Jesus Christ' is the 'Son of God' not that He is God.

There is no word which tells us what in spirit form is used as a channel for our life source. The nearest relationship we understand is that of reproduction, parent and child. Coming as Jesus did into a time when male supremacy was the order of the day, He would have fulfilled little had He come here as a woman. Sons were all important to families in the society which had developed, more so only sons.

It is also said that no man can 'see' God (Jehovah) and live. Is His' energy' of such a frequency that our physical bodies would shatter? So we need an intermediary, whom, the Bible says, has been with our Earth since the 'beginning of time'? And now we also know that we have the Holy Spirit, whose job it is to try to help us attain balance, to bring us back 'into the Light'. When we can bring our physical bodies back into the correct balance of chemistry, which involves the positive and negative electrical charge in the physical cells, then we find our self in harmony with the electromagnetic forces emitted or transmitted, by the 'Heavenly Bodies' within our solar system, and also the so-called fixed stars from other galaxies. Our mental and spiritual bodies, if also realigned with this energy, can speed up the process of bringing health to this most basic of forms, our carnal bodies.

'Jesus' takes His energy from 'God', just as it is being found that our Sun transmits energy to us in a frequency which our systems can assimilate. This is not to say that if we worship the Sun that we are worshipping Christ, for we are shown the energy behind the manifestations which we can see and comprehend.

Xray Cross-Section of a DNA Molecule

'Jesus' has been referred to by many esoteric writers over the centuries as the 'Hermetic Messenger'. If we take a look at the caduceus of Mercury which was also adopted as the symbol of Medicine, we see two snakes entwined around a staff - a double helix. Mercury deals with the dealing arts and with communication, and these were the main elements of Jesus Christ's task while incarnate on this earth, the essence of that communication being 'Love'.

It seems likely that there is life in other galaxies and that they each have their own Saviour, the one who can transform the energy from 'Jehovah' - 'Our Creator', into useable form. Jesus said that none could come to the 'Father except through Him - I am the way and the Life'.

To summarize, it seems that scientific research, rather than drawing people away from God (Jehovah) may be drawing them away from religion where Mankind has tried to bring God down to his level in order to explain Him, to make sense out of the mystery. Science is moving ahead in leaps and bounds to prove beyond all reasonable doubt that this universe, in which we are tiny specks, has been formed to a distinct pattern or design by an intelligence which we cannot begin to comprehend. That things go wrong is not the fault of the pattern or the design, but the fault of the 'little specks', who fail to work within that design, who work against the tides and not with them. Hopefully through the knowledge of the 'Ancients' and the 'Moderns', philosophers and scientists will soon realize that sometimes they actually speak the same language.

'The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament sheweth His handiwork. Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge. There is no speech or language where their voice is not heard. Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world. In them hath He set a tabernacle for the sun. which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoiceth as a strong man to run a race. His going forth is from the ends of the heaven, and his circuit unto the ends of it, and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof." Psalm 19.
