

TWELFTH HOUSE

Consider first which planets are in the 12th House, which are in 'hard' aspect to planets in the 12th House, and which planet(s) rule the sign on the cusp of the 12th House. Then read the comments below.

SUN hypersensitive, arrogant and egotistical. Illness may be an attempt to force guilt on others or the cosmos. No psychological contact with the father. Wants to be famous. A pawn.

MOON Why shouldn't I be as emotionally demanding as I want or need be ? Apparent coldness.

MERCURY What is wrong with the way I speak and think, and why doesn't anyone listen to me ?

VENUS self indulgent, lazy, vanity, pushes love and affection away, desire for money.

MARS egotistical, arrogant, I want it now, my own way (covertly)

JUPITER Everyone but me is wrong. Can keep secrets, waste of hidden potential, may not like to socialize.

SATURN The rules of the game of life are too tough and must be altered to suit my fears. No psychological bond with the father. There is a feeling that chaos is a hair's breadth away, glasshouse effect, feel not part of life, too scary to join, need solitude, constantly tired, sorrow, guilt, grief, resentment, demand to defy a moral stand or belief pattern, often the church. Structure life so much that life is snuffed out, fear of change, illness can be a 12th House manner of making other people feel guilty. Extraordinarily ambitious. Need to take one day at a time. Every time you work for your own ambition and needs, it doesn't work, but when ambition is for the good of others, then you get the status you want through working for the benefit of others. A degree of weariness.

URANUS Why shouldn't I be as individualistic as I choose, even if I am the odd one out ? Share secrets with those they trust. May have difficulty coming across authentically, even leisure hours are structured by others.

NEPTUNE Leave me with my dreams, reality is too awful to be faced, there are too many demands in the real world. Fearful, fear of chaos. Immense creative imagination, deep compassion not recognized by others, desire to escape, fear of using psychic abilities.

PLUTO Fear of crowds. Ending of some sort forces one to turn to thoughts of own creative potential. Feelings of powerlessness at a very deep level -subconscious. Prison may be real or psychological, enforced by someone else's actions pushed by your own actions. Cop emotional brutality from whoever is in your environment. As a child they think their 'willpower' made things happen. There is a need here to work on the self first. - resurrection.

With 12th House behaviour this can be clearly seen by other people but not by ourselves. We feel uncomfortable when we meet someone else who expresses our 12th House. With 12th House problems we can't recall the incident which triggered this, so it is necessary as a counsellor to tread carefully here. One has to learn to forgive themselves.
