

Troop 160 - Mountain View- Merit badge counselors (Last updated 2002)

The troop and the council may have some records, but ultimate record keeping is the responsibility of the scout. Save all merit badge cards and advancement cards.

Complete requirements are available for 3 dollars where scout supplies are sold. Requirements can also be found at meritbadge.com

1. Pick a subject. These counselors have special knowledge and are interested in helping you
2. Pick a buddy. Bring a friend. This can be another scout, parent, brother, sister, etc. All merit badges are to be passed off with a friend along.
3. Call the Counselor. Tell the counselor you want to start. Many, such as family life, personal finance, or pet care require 3 months of preparation. Merit badge books can be found at the church library or at Supply Depot.
4. Show your stuff. Now it is time to show, tell, demonstrate, and list.... Whatever the requirements demand. No more, no less.
5. Consider meritbadge.com It has a list of all requirements and a helpful worksheet to mark your progress.
6. Get the badge. Bring your signed slip to your scoutmaster before the next board of review. Hustle so you can get the badge at the next court of honor.
7. Don't wait for the troop. The troop plan is designed to help you get to first class. Rarely will you ever pass off a merit badge at a troop meeting.
