Therefore, our song list is always growing and changing. That being said, it's time to meet the band:

Tommy Woods is the lead vocalist and keyboardist. Tommy has a pleasing vocal tone and wide range that lends itself both to upbeat rock-n-roll, as well as soulful ballads. His keyboard work adds texture to the bands sound. Tommy's background lies mostly in melodic, pop and hard rock.

Brandon Wright is the lead guitarist and backup vocalist. Brandon brings the widest range of musical styles to the band, his past experience ranging from progressive rock, to hard rock, classic rock and even R&B. This has given Brandon a well-crafted style, along with a versatile sound arsenal that gives the band exactly what it needs for each song. Additionally, Brandon's vocal harmonies add nice vocal color to each song.

Keith Posey is the bassist. Keith's solid style provides the low-end thump for the band's rhythm section, which perfectly accompanies the drums. Whether rocking out or getting funky, his bass work fills the low-end range to keep your foot tapping. Keith's background ranges from alternative to pop rock.

Ken Reaves is the drummer and backup vocalist. Ken has a background ranging from heavy metal to melodic rock, which means that when he plays, he combines a deliberate power with a groove-oriented style that provides the anchor for the rhythm section of the band. He also provides vocal harmonies which add nice vocal color to each song.
