

Do you believe “Harrison Bergeron” is a utopia or disutopia?

Using this seemingly perfectly equal society, what message about equality/government do you think Kurt Vonnegut is trying to convey? Use at least two quotes to support your theory.