REAL WEAPONS OF MASS DESTRUCTION

INTRO

This Volume uses a lot of what it is called Bible encodings (including personal) and encoded patterns. What are these? The intro to the "Dew From Heaven: Light 2 U Blog" has to be read. But Isaiah 45 said God purposely encode stuff, the book of Revelation is filled with it as well. But he said, it is the glory of Kings to find them, he leading them. For instance, notice this simply one that shows that all encoding or prophecy isn't directly about Christ, though everything is about him.

Hannah (wife of a priest) gave birth to a forerunner – Samuel.
Ana (wife of a priest) gave birth to a forerunner – John The Baptist.

Samuel ushered in the Kings.
John the Baptist ushered in THE King.

Samuel pulled in a new dispensation –Reign of the Kings of Israel.
John pulled in a new dispensation – Reign of THE King, Christ.
(Grace over Law)

Here is a little definition of some before we start. BIBLE ENCODINGS - General bible encodings that wasn't stated but obviously there and can be prophetic, like Hanna and Ana. BIBLE ENCODED PROPHECY - The same bible encodings, but this was deliberately done by God to prophecy/speak about something specific. BIBLE PERSONAL ENCODED PROPHECY - The same encoded prophetic but this time it was just personally speaking to me and might not have any relation to anyone or anything else. Just thought I might share. HISTORIC PATTERNS - Just simple patterns in general history note mentioning or decoded, not necessarily biblical history. Also, they are obvious patterns left by someone; like the example with Hanna and Ana, fallen ones have opt to leave their own trails, most often for evil.

REAL WEAPONS OF MASS DESTRUCTION

The following might be laughable, so if your mind is not open please do not read it; they are other articles I write that I want you to have the benefit of and this might devalue their credence, but as Ezekiel was with "fire shot up in his bones" when he tried not to teach, so am I at times, even though, as Peter said, "some things hard to be understood" (2 Peter 3:16). I'm not the least bit afraid of disdain, I'm afraid of blocking you from receiving "lesser" truths by the knowledge of "greater" truths you are not yet able to understand; as Christ alluded to here, "through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died? But when ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ" (1 Cor 8:11-12). So I wash my hands, desist from reading, if a simply revelation such as knowing that persons you work with, associate with or even see on television as stars or in authority are not humans but angels, most often fallen. If you can't grasp that, then stop reading, of course the aforementioned beings already reach the end of the document.

Are you thirsty for truth about Real Weapons of Mass Destruction, clear and present danger? Well, we can start when the Jews thirst in their Pilgrimage from Egypt to the Promise land. Twice they had a water shortage. One, when they came out of Egypt, when Pharaoh finally perished and they cross the Red Sea, journeyed 3 days and couldn't find water. Then they drank bitter water. Two, at the end of their wanderings, to now enter the wilderness and fight their first war. There was a third time they complained about water and they were struck with serpents and a brazen form was put on a pole high up to look at for healing, then they left for Oboth.

OBOOTH means, "bottles, an encampment of the Israelites during the wanderings in the wilderness (Nu 33:43), the first after the setting up of the brazen serpent" (Eastern Bible Dictionary). The meaning "water-skin" also came from the Strongs. I wondered what that meant, but when I saw bottles in the Eastern bible dictionary, I realize it could have meant bottles made of skin back then. However, that's not the interesting part, according to Strongs it is plural of "owb" pronounced obe (strong numbers 178). It means, "(apparently through the idea of prating a father's name); a mumble, i.e. a water-skin (from hollow sound); hence a necromancer (ventriloquist, as from a jar):-bottle, familiar spirit." "Prating of a father" could be personal. Oboth is the next place after the brazen altar serpent incident.

O (as in Othniel), it has both purposes - first, another living creature with intelligent capability to control and take over a human, which was the one obvious, from the analogy of a serpent. Second, which is the one O-both alludes to, it has a secondary purpose, used as a means to control the humans by a familiar spirit, hence, a fallen angel. It speaks through it and hence uses it to control a human much like a possession, and in a sense, mass possessions of entire nations. That's why Oboth was after the brazen serpent incident. Yes, it is now revealed, you see it or see that there is something there but this is why they didn't see it or see most things, it's not only what you see it has other purposes, hence, just drink the water after the fast and believe in me; herald in this verse, "The secret things belong unto the LORD our God: but those things which are revealed belong unto us and to our children for ever, that we may do all the words of this law" (Due 29:29). You see how precious following God is and how valuable his word is.

If this is what cockatrice alludes to today [Encoded prophetic verse given to me - Isa 59] it means that a fallen one is purposely creating them for this purpose of control and destruction, as in "They hatch cockatrice' eggs." I had played around with the thought of this being in the populace expressed in the word obesity, but through the notion that the "blues" had given it the popular name, saying "O Beast;" as in it has some centrality around Othniel, used against the domain preached to or discovery of it, yet known then by farseeing. But it would seem they could have done so from the word "obe," the singular form. In any case, and the aforementioned is needlessly said, this thing would be dangerous and stifling to the humans worldwide. As seen with the Silent Genocide essay, it would be another plan epidemic for America (where the eagle and his comrades finally settle) and the world.

Not knowing if this is so, because I could be mistaken in assuming a person as humble as Bill Gates could be involved in a conspiracy (though there is mind control [humans] and association ignorance [fallen angels]). But it sort of compute, but then... All these were born in 1955 and celebrate 50 years this year (on the 5th year of 45) - Bill Gates, Steve Jobs, Tim Berner Lee, and McDonalds. Besides the latter they are as follows - Bill Gates controls the software that runs "every" computer, Steve Jobs created Apple Computers the first giant of personal computers before IMB and Tim Berner lee Created the World Wide Web. These comprise the last great onslaught, whereby, as will be seen in ICI part 3, technology will be used to control the world as gearing up in Belgium (where the beast computer is and HQ of the EU) possibly by the Germans who are at the forefront of the EU. As seen in two small islands, England and Japan, one conquered the world and another conquered the East because of their technology; countries far greater than them, all because they had superior technology. Hence, in wanting to take over America and the world, this would be the means. Technology I mean that can control the ships, planes, banking system, power system, hydraulic system, army, cars (GPS systems) and even the doors in your house (home security system) from a distance computer system – holding the world hostage and make modern traditional warfare look ridiculous. At 50, the world and America is extensively networked this way through computer Internet technologies, but to my estimation, I really don't know how much, might still need further networking.

The second is McDonald, which brings us back to the O-Beast, when the Conquistador destroyed the Mayan cities, they then marched to the Aztec city in Mexico, they pressed on them with their superior technologies (guns, etc) but they lost even with help from other Amerindians. As noted in the Silent Genocide piece, the Aztecs were then completely wiped out, even to this day in Mexico, by biological weapon - small pox, allegedly. So when the technology failed, they resorted to biological weapons. The said thing will be attempted today, here with wide-scale use of the O-beast, liking having a second brain inactive in people, waiting to be activated for control or destruction of the person(s). How does McDonald come in, it would be the vehicle used to spread the O-beast (obese). At 50, McDonalds acclaims that it has served over 1 billion probably in the U.S. and/or worldwide; holding all things constant, if that applies to the US alone, it would serve all Americans -300 million- three times over. That would definitely spread the obeast as the backup to a failed technology plot. In fact, in the case of Obesity, 65% of Americans are overweight and 30% are severely overweight. Normally, with obese people I see this extra abnormal bulging of the lower abdomen, with even the fatter people elsewhere I never see it, could be that larger obeasts resides or reproduce on its own in that part of the body, for I would figure it is in the head or aligns from the abdomen to the head. I say the head for the symbol of the Egyptians was the snake on the heard ornament and they held the scab beetle as sacred, possible carrier of the "tadpole size-type" obeast back then. They were pre-occupied with the after life of which such an obeast might prolong a person's life; this is expressed in the movie "Dark City" a bit.

So, the things involve looks different, but the methods are still the same, the circles can't be breached. They used Technology and biological weapons in the pass, they'll try the same thing today.

Scriptures To The Obeast

When the Israelites were finally rid from the Egyptians when they drowned in the Red Sea, at their first stop in the journey they thirsted and drank bitter water; soon after they got good water. The bitter water could have also signified the drinking of medicine for the obeast in them, picked up from Egypt, probably the origination of it. At Marah, Matthew Henry noted, "rebellious Israelite shall fare no better than a rebellious Egyptian. The threatening is implied only, the promise is expressed. God is the great Physician."

Another thing that showed that this might be so is the fact that he gave them a prescribe diet they should undertake after getting rid of Egypt finally. It was on the very last night before they left Egypt, "And they shall eat the flesh in that night, roast with fire, and unleavened bread; and with bitter herbs they shall eat it. Eat not of it raw, nor sodden at all with water, but roast with fire; his head with his legs, and with the purtenance thereof. And ye shall let nothing of it remain until the morning; and that which remaineth of it until the morning ye shall burn with fire" (Exodus 12:9).

Why a food cleansing meal, when they are about to leave the scab beetle infested obeast

Egypt? To deal with the obeast then and when they left. The next time was when they finally left the Egypt area and drank the bitter waters. It was the first time they were commanded to eat unleavened bread. It signified one thing, when you roast the meat with fire it kills the obeast, which cannot be seen, because it is little like leaven but when enters the body becomes bigger in size and biggest in taking over the body; as in, "a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump" (1 Cor 5:6).

That was the first time, they thirsted, complained and God fed them. The next time they thirst, we get the imagery of what God was dealing with, "And the people spake against God, and against Moses, Wherefore have ye brought us up out of Egypt to die in the wilderness? for there is no bread, neither is there any water; and our soul loatheth this light bread. And the LORD sent fiery serpents among the people, and they bit the people; and much people of Israel died...Moses made a serpent of brass, and put it upon a pole, and it came to pass, that if a serpent had bitten any man, when he beheld the serpent of brass, he lived" (Num 21:5-6, 9). Easton Bible dictionary noted, "The serpent of brass was made by Moses at the command of God (Nu 21:4-9), and elevated on a pole, so that it might be seen by all the people when wounded by the bite of the serpents that were sent to them as a punishment for their murmurings against God and against Moses." The Brass snake was to be a reminder of their complaints against Moses and God, but also an allegory to us today of what he was doing. Pruning them of the Obeast they picked up in Egypt, but they not knowing what is happening complained. They thirst first and bitter water was given, again they thirst and the snake was shown - reason for the bitter waters. It was the symbol of the obeast inside, as upon the Egyptian head ornament.

The next time they thirst was when most of them who originally came out of Egypt died and they were now about to enter the Promise land area and engage in their first battle. "And the people thirsted there for water; and the people murmured against Moses, and said, Wherefore is this that thou hast brought us up out of Egypt, to kill us and our children and our cattle with thirst? And Moses cried unto the LORD, saying, What shall I do unto this people? they be almost ready to stone me. And the LORD said unto Moses, Go on before the people, and take with thee of the elders of Israel; and thy rod, wherewith thou smotest the river, take in thine hand, and go. Behold, I will stand before thee there upon the rock in Horeb; and thou shalt smite the rock, and there shall come water out of it, that the people may drink. And Moses did so in the sight of the elders of Israel" (Ex 17:3-6)

Another special water given. Notice, they last thirst and was given drink the final time after leaving Egypt, this was the newer generation, and some old, and was finally purged. Then they could fight and enter the promise land free of the Egyptian hidden nemesis. It would also seem that before giving the drink, fasting took place first, thirsting - as with when we are given medicine we refrain from eating for a while; especially if the obeast eats when you eat.

The middle experience is what is applicable to us today, we beholding this problem and dealing with it by faith, believing for healing. Other medicine incentive can be given and done. One problem is the scare of letting this epidemic known; as such things are hidden from the public today, X-files, to protect them. God did that same thing when he gave them the bitter water but didn't tell them why, but to us he did, when he told Moses to put a plant in it - medicine. He gave them the same treatment again with the fasting but this time they complained but he couldn't scare them with the epidemic, but was still agitated and let serpent bite them and showed them the Brazen serpent; saying, 'that is what I'm curing you from before the promise land'. He did it one final time before entering the promise land area and their first war. Today it is even worse, you can't tell the people to drink this bitter water and not tell them what it is for, because we fell from Judeo-Christianity theocracy and we are now in a democracy. Another thing why it might be hushed up is that McDonalds is worldwide and it might be said that Americans breed the obeast and send it around the world through their fast food chains; like how they tried that with the first Aids case reported in California, when millions were already dropping in Africa. Not to defend, for America is a good ground also, with its freedom, to compile sinister schemes and regimes. Letting the people know might be a good thing, but dealing with the problem is a must; for it seems to be intended at the American people, for reasons the statue of Liberty signifies. All this when I've never seen it before, to concur that it exist; though I've never seen the cold virus before, but I've been subject to it.

This was probably why the fallen angels (Pharaohs) in Egypt could have the Jews bound when they outnumbered the Egyptians.

So back to the word Oboth and its both meanings, it was an obeast, a bottle for a familiar spirit and two, destructive within itself. Seeing that bottle was mentioned and water was a treatment, in addition to faith, a system of bottled water or juice beverage (if the latter is compatible with the medicine) could be on the market or given out free at certain places. Not making the bottled water replace tap water (though the water supplies can be invested or the opposite, use to put the leaf -medicine- in), but offer that as a cure for the epidemic as well, or a possible on going prevention. The prayer of faith can heal the sick, so that will be done and the epidemic can be seized. With the saints, Christ told us our solution, a belief in it effects it, "They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover" (Mark 16:18).

that, the eagle himself; along with the "West Germans," affectionately called. They, primarily God's angels, probably have been doing something about it for years. For with his wisdom I was led to research other events of 50 years ago and got some encoded revelations. For instance, notice these on the following page:

SINISTER PLOT TO TAKE OVER AMERICA AND WORLD SEEN IN 1955

DONE IN 1955 IN PREPARTION FOR 2005 & BEYOND	MEANING IT HAS FOR 50 YEARS LATER AND BEYOND
The Birth of Bill Gates, Tim Berner Lee, Steve Jobs. This seems more than coincident, not the starting of the companies, that would be coincidence, but they were all born the same year and ended up chief pioneer of what was mentioned in the ICI.	Bill Gates = Computer companies were already in the main stream, IBM had since been. So, what else but to control the software that runs it - DOS then Windows – which even the IMB computers today use. In fact, my uncle told me that Microsoft lost a recent court case sued by other companies that blocked it from making their products the sole mainframe of all new computers. He said, according to that policy by Microsoft in agreement with other companies, only Windows can be placed on any new computer bought. Steve Jobs = Though IBM and others were around, there wasn't really a personal computer to spread the agenda. So, surpassing IBM, "the 1977 Apple was the first highly successful mass-produced personal computer." IBM's first was 1975, though IBM was in existence before Steve Job was born. "The first home computer with a GUI, graphical user interface" (about.com) Tim Berner Lee = Now to network all those computer and interweave it into everyday life, making it become a dependency. So he created the WORLD WIDE WEB and the rest is history. Scott McNealy = The only one born a year before, the secret man behind it all, when everyone in an effort to stop the "Internet Onslaught" tries to disable the first three, his agenda manifest and bring to the forefront that, as he said, "The Network Is The Computer," a "vision of seamless connectivity," or, it is already in effect by the computer alone, much more the added networking; which is really to get you involved. The founder of what? Sun Microsystems, "the leading global supplier of network computing solutions." "You have zero privacy anyway," Scott McNealy told a group of reporters and analysts Monday night at an event to launch his company's new Jini technology. Together, these four can take over the world, except the interweaving (networking) is not at peak as it should. Nevertheless, all the major institution are, from the banks, Army, to Nasa, to the cashier register, to almost all strata of life is run by their computer backbone.
Ray Kroc starts the McDonald's chain of fast food restaurants	Possible use for spreading the Obeast, as mentioned previously, with other methods. As the scripture has said, "They hatch cockatrice' eggs...he that eateth of their eggs dieth, and that which is crushed breaketh out into a viper" (Isa 59:5). Back then that was witchcraft, through encoding, today, this is biological warfare.
1955 (10 Jun) 1st separation of virus into component parts reported	Manipulating the obeast to perfection for its destructive distribution.
1955 (03 Nov) 1st virus crystallized (announced)	Manipulating the obeast to perfection for it's destructive distribution, reiterated

SPOIL OF THE SINISTER PLOT ENCODED IN 1955 AS WELL

DONE IN 1955 IN PREPARTION FOR 2005 & BEYOND	MEANING IT HAS FOR 50 YEARS LATER AND BEYOND
Salk Polio Vaccine Conquered Terrifying Disease. Salk polio vaccine safe & effective; 4 billion dimes marched	Not saying a vaccine is the prescribe solution, but seeing the encoding that a solution was gained. Though Salk Polio Vaccine was more so for prevention than cure. The best cure is faith, like Paul, who was bitten by a poison snake and the poison went into his body but he lived (Acts 28:3-5).
West German unions protest for 40-hour work week & more wages	Germans are the brainiest computer geniuses today and the pushers not only of the EU but the beast computer in Belgium, Brussel – HQ of the EU. Chinese mostly assembly what Europeans create. Fortunately, we might have some here, who as the Student Manifesto said, are “West Minded.” Not speaking of ethnic Germans, but computer geniuses here who can counter the computer onslaught. They, at the 5 th year of the 45, protesting for the 40: Where they might experience Robert Lee's "Inherit the Wind" which premiered in 1955 as well.
Congress orders all US coins bear motto "In God We Trust"	This is the strategy not only for the obeast, but also the computer technologies onslaught and all things. With it, anything is possible and can be overcome. In Yahovah God we trust make it blatantly clear that he fights for us. And “If God be for us, who can be against us?” (Rom 8:31)
Congress authorizes all US currency to say "In God We Trust"	This is the strategy not only for the obeast, but also the computer technologies onslaught and all things. With it, anything is possible and can be overcome. In Yahovah God we trust make it blatantly clear that he fights for us. And “If God be for us, who can be against us?” (Rom 8:31) Reiterated!

Now, as I said, some names and companies were mentioned, but they themselves might not be of the agenda knowingly, for you have mind control and fallen angels can associate with each other in ignorance; as satan himself have to convince other world leader fallen angel to join his last day plot in Israel – but he's good at that, as seen with Adam and Eve. Even more, some of those names called had co-founders that are out of the spotlight. So, they might be involved knowingly or mind controlled (if humans) or associate ignorantly (if fallen angels). Then again, which is most often the case, they can be part and parcel to the whole plot. By now, from above or beneath (hopefuls) such beings would have been dealt with, “removed” or their eyes opened. And lastly, I'm not saying I'm right with the persons/companies involved, but correct with the sinister plot and method. Fortunately, “In God We Trust,” and “our God is a consuming fire” (Heb 12:29).

Obeast Upgrade From The Days Of Egypt

Though I think the biological obeast is still more prevalent, their has been an upgrade from Egypt, and like all things it too has evolved mechanically, under the guise of an abet called Nano-docs. What are Nano-Docs? Not much info on them and the medical hospital site that I went to I don't now if it exist, but nano-docs do. They are microscopic robotic computers that function much like the obeast. According to the medical purpose, it is suppose to help you with internal wounds and sicknesses and assist in operations. Right? That purpose is only a gateway for its distribution, it more than like serves the same purpose as the obeast itself. Startling how far we have reached in robotics and here the biological plot (obeast) meets the technological plot (computer network). Here is how it would look up close, and under x-ray in a person too:

RYT Hospital patients can monitor their health in real-time via nanotech robots, or NanoDocs, which live and travel within their blood and tissue. NanoDocs can also provide clinical treatment by administering genetic therapies via specific gene vectors, attacking bacteria and viruses, or physically removing plaque from arterial walls.

Back to Top

A good argument would be, couldn't this be used to combat the obeast? It would be more than solving one problem and creating ten new ones, but creating the same one. Why such tiny creatures or creature like innovation arising as weapons of mass destruction, because as a documentary by animal planet or discovery channel (one of them I was watching at my uncle on cable) showed that the deadliest of all animals was not a snake, lion, bear or any of the others I thought that made it in top 10, but it was a tiny parasite creature that cause more deaths than all the other animals in the top ten. It enters the body seemingly and destroys from within, similar to what the obeast does and what this nano-doc is capable of.

In Concluding

All in all, we should prayerfully combat the obeast, stand for the faith of our domain and avoid such traps as nano-docs and other modern technological dependence. How best can we do that? It is more than just saying "In God We Trust." We must recognize who that God is, Yah or Yahovah, of Judeo-Christianity only. Then we must follow his method, which is summed up in this verse, "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land" (2 Chron 7:14). Notice how important the name is, "called by my name," hence you must know the name of the God you "trust." His personal manifestation for such deliverance and healing today is through the name of Yahoshua Ha Mashiah, or commonly called, Jesus Christ.

FACTS & THOUGHTS

Low Fat Spuds: One has to eat 11 pounds of potatoes to put on 1 pound of weight — a potato has no more calories than an apple. (Chips must be health food then! Sadly - no!)

Born Big-Headed: A newborn baby's head accounts for approximately one-quarter of its entire weight. (Big-headed adults are really babies, then?)

Small Beginnings: The seed of the redwood tree are so small that 123,000 of them weigh scarcely a pound. (450gms) (From an ounce of seed, a mighty forest grows.)

Reaching For The Sun: New York City has the most skyscrapers of any city in the world with 140. Chicago is a distant second at 68. The term 'skyscraper' technically describes all habitable buildings with a height of more than 500 feet (152 m). ((What goes up must one day come down.)

Passionate Energy: Scientists have determined that a passionate kiss burns 6.4 calories per minute. (But can you keep it going long enough to be useful as an exercise programme?)

JOKES & RIDDLE

A friend was walking out of church in front of me, where he waited to shake hands with the pastor. The pastor grabbed my friend by the hand and pulled him aside. "You need to join the Army of the Lord," said the pastor.

"I already belong," said my friend.

"Well how come we don't see you except at Christmas and Easter?"

My friend whispered back confidentially, "I'm in the Secret Service."

Q. Who was the greatest comedian in the Bible?

A. Samson. He brought the house down.

Q. What do they call pastors in Germany?

A. German Shepherds.

REAL WEAPONS OF MASS DESTRUCTION EXPLAINED

[Source: BT Magazine Staff Writer Oneil McQuick. 2006, but current for life.]

REAL WEAPONS OF MASS DESTRUCTION EXPLAINED

I had said this at the start of the first article,

The following might be laughable, so if your mind is not open please do not read it; they are other articles I write that I want you to have the benefit of and this might devalue their credence, but as Ezekiel was with “fire shot up in his bones” when he tried not to teach, so am I at times, even though, as Peter said, “some things hard to be understood” (2 Peter 3:16). I’m not the least bit afraid of disdain, I’m afraid of blocking you from receiving “lesser” truths by the knowledge of “greater” truths you are not yet able to understand; as Christ alluded to here, “through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died? But when ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ” (1 Cor 8:11-12). So I wash my hands; desist from reading, if a simply revelation such as knowing that persons you work with, associate with or even seen on television as stars or in authority are not humans but angels, most often fallen. If you can’t grasp that, then stop reading, of course the aforementioned beings already reach the end of the document.

Then I had presented the case of the obeast from Egypt; which is a plague and epidemic to Americans, Westerns and the World, even deliberately. I (or the guiding hands of God) had explained the origins and story rapped up in the Jewish Exile from Egypt under Moses; with possible suggestions for solutions, the ultimate is being an adherent to the country’s slogan / motto – “In God We Trust.”

I then gave the warning of the Internet computer takeover or control of the masses by a select few. I mentioned names and called persons by origin. I fostered beyond reason application and brought forward the encoding of 1955 that such exploits is well organized along with the obeast plague and hence it is a clear and present danger or as in the words of the title, “Real Weapons of Mass Destruction.”

It would then be good to seek that article wherever you might have saved it and reread it. If not tampered with, you can find it at these online

Obeast Complete Synopsis

Now, in the first Real WMD article I had mentioned the obeast, the blues naming it, its origin and possible cures or suggestion in dealing with it. Not having great knowledge in it, but by experience (Jer 8:21), the word and general knowledge, here is the synopsis.

Worm Wood

Possible cure for the obeast epidemic. The name alone in encoded prophetic form would suggest this but here is the rundown on it from one source:

"Heb la'anah, the Artemisia absinthium of botanists. It is noted for its intense bitterness (De 29:18; Pr 5:4; Jer 9:15; Am 5:7). It is a type of bitterness, affliction, remorse, punitive suffering. In Am 6:12 this Hebrew word is rendered "hemlock" (R.V., "wormwood"). In the symbolical language of the Apocalypse (Re 8:10-11) a star is represented as falling on the waters of the earth, causing the third part of the water to turn wormwood. The name by which the Greeks designated it, absinthion, means "undrinkable." The absinthe of France is distilled from a species of this plant. The "southernwood" or "old man," cultivated in cottage gardens on account of its fragrance, is another species of it" (Easton Bible Dictionary).

"Hemlock. (1.) Heb rosh (Ho 10:4; rendered "gall" in De 29:18; 32:32; Ps 69:21; Jer 9:15; 23:15; "poison," Job 20:16; "venom," De 32:33). "Rosh is the name of some poisonous plant which grows quickly and luxuriantly; of a bitter taste, and therefore coupled with wormwood (De 29:18; La 3:19). Hence it would seem to be not the hemlock cicuta, nor the colocynth or wild gourd, nor lolium daniel, but the poppy so called from its heads" (Gesenius, Lex.). (2.) Heb la'anah, generally rendered

"wormwood" (q.v.), De 29:18, Text 17; Pr 5:4; Jer 9:15; 23:15. Once it is rendered "hemlock" (Am 6:12; R.V., "wormwood"). This Hebrew word is from a root meaning "to curse," hence the accursed" (Easton Bible Dictionary).

On the other hand, Oxford seem to call the hemlock another word used for wormwood a "poisonous plant with small white flowers; poison got from it."

It is a bitter plant and so when placed in the water it becomes bitter. The said bitter waters the children of Israel were exposed to after leaving Egypt and a "type and shadow" of a plant being placed in that water; as mentioned in the first article, God dealing with the obeast in them after leaving overtly infested Egypt - originators. Surprisingly, the entire book of Jeremiah 8 seems to be talking about it literally, not encoded prophetic or "types and shadow" but straight contextual, even giving the people literal "waters of gall" to drink like coming from Egypt, not a symbology to represent suffering but literal bitter waters for medicine or cure of the obeast; as that chapter ends on saying this, "Is there no balm in Gilead; is there no physician there? why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?" (Jer 8:22) Making it plain he was dealing with a health issue caused by the obeast from the people of Israel mixing with the Heathen nations that have them; namely, Egypt. A word of prophecy was also inserted of Othniel to whom the blues name the epidemic undertone after today (o-beast) and any possible reason I might have had it, "For the hurt of the *daughter of my people am I hurt; I am black; astonishment hath taken hold on me" (Jer 8:21).

Indeed astonishment hath taken hold on me, not necessarily the epidemic and the knowing of it but the possible characteristic of the epidemic - intelligent beings; like those in movie land would call aliens among us. Or more fittingly, "horse-men;" called so because they would be like Jockeys upon man riding them by takeover, God expounded it like this to me while teaching me of it and the struggles with the South in Isaiah 31, in encoded prophetic form. This is more than a disease and mind control device, but a superior civilization amongst us and can be used against us and if corrected (Isa 31) can run wild in rebellion upon everyone, us and from their creators. Even worse, the 200 million man army the opposition gathered for war against Israel and the world could be comprise of "horsemen;" a quick easy way to gather a sold-out army, so to speak, like the orges in "Lord of the Ring: Return of the King" - a quick massive army. And they would be a force to contend with, even against angels because of their ability to tap into the reptilian core of our brains and have the ability that Jesus displayed in his risen body and like the angels, who are made just a little higher. But wait, don't all prophecy teachers point to China / Asia as the composite of this 200 million-man army? This might be so and if so, another breeding ground to create "horsemen" for this last battle, or people with horsemen eggs to be hatch for this last battle. These horsemen and breeders would have been preparing the world for their real self-exploits through the movies. That is, the Chinese arts are "men" who have defied what men cannot do in all their Martial arts, notice the word "Martial Arts," meaning combat. Things you see they do in the movies, especially the late ones - fly, move under the earth, knowing all the nerve endings and able to paralyze a man by touch, swift fighting and strength despite their frame and many more things. Maximum exposure once showed a Chinese police man who pulled a vehicle with his belly suction via a bowl. Again, I work and find out things now but the Eagle and blues work from then, being privy to some things the heavens do through me and why the Americans were the possible cause of the Opium addiction in China-Asia. This would seem bad but possible trying to eradicate the horsemen epidemic and carriers of the eggs; kind of off and "men" would seem to die from this addiction crisis, but just like the Children of Israel being reprimanded by the snakes at the Brazen Serpent Incident, for their complaint of thirst and drinking bitter waters, so might this be; for they don't know what God was delivering them from. This could be another reason why China had been so closed to the rest of the world and relatively still is, the opposition protecting and harvesting the 200 million horsemen army. Notice also,

The word "MARTIAL" means "OF WARFARE" or "SUITABLE FOR WARFARE". Martial Arts techniques were developed in India, China and later in Korea and Japan.

They are all forms of combat (usually unarmed) and are grouped together under names such as "KUNG-FU" (China), "TAEKWONDO" (Korea), AIKIDO, KARATE, JUDO (Japan).

The word "ARTS" indicates that they are not just forms of combat but expressions of EASTERN "SPIRITUAL" Philosophies and it is this "SPIRITUAL LINK" which lights the fuse to a deadly keg of 'SPIRITUAL, PHYSICAL AND MENTAL DYNAMITE!'

In the words of Fred Neff (Author of "Hand Fighting Manual").

But back to wormwood, the secret medicine seems to lie in the wormwood plant, whatever that is named today. Some say poppy, which opium is made from. If that be the plant, knowing it is one thing but extracting it for medicine purpose is another. I became elated by it to think of bottling this then sadden, remembering I saw my water bottle line (O2O) advertising on T.V.; not as I had want to advertise like so, "Drink O2O for the beast in you," referring to the obeast. The O2O would be when I first got this revelation about it with whom I am and the name of the Obeast, that is, from "Othniel to Othniel" (first lion from Judah and me) and played upon the H2O chemistry symbol for water; though no one would know why I named it that except friends that ask. However, he that warreth entangleth not himself with the affairs of this life or "Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches: But let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the LORD" (Jer 9:23-24). Nevertheless, all these things are optional, but as the scripture says, "one thing is needful," that is, prayer. And of such I have prayed and others and God already took care of it in this verse, of one of the woes of the book of Revelations:

"And the third angel sounded, and there fell a great star from heaven, burning as it were a lamp, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters; And the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter" (Rev 8:10).

If all is read from the "Real Weapons of Mass Destruction" piece to the horse-men expository later down, to this section on the wormwood, it showed and speaks of the waters we drink to become bitter, as the time the children of Israel came from Egypt. But notice, it used wormwood and it going into the water to make it bitter, that is, the men of the earth would have drunk bitter waters or waters with the obeast cure in it and so "many men died of the waters" would be horsemen. So prayer is more powerful than any innovation we can do.

However, if in a possible chronology, the above wormwood incident is before the 200 million man army, which arise after the bottomless pit incident with Abaddon (Rev 9:11); of course, most of Abaddon 's locusts are fallen angels but...

Yeast Infection

Knowing of God's faithful amongst us as ordinary men (blues) they might work and name things as they know it or from prophetic writing seen; yet not detracting from or obscuring such writings. Here in lies another scenario; angels might have the ability to foresee by virtue of their beings. Not divining, for they are divine (Sons of God) and divining would be apart of their nature. But purposely diving to suck in either types of suckry is wrong and woeful. This scripture might also play into effect if you can't handle being around a human and their stuff keep coming up automatically before you, not you sitting their diving into them (desist from doing such), "And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, than having two eyes to be cast into hell fire" (Mark 9:47).

Now, the blues themselves could have named the Yeast Infection disease from the analogy used in the first Real WMD Piece, that of the leaven; which might point to another major entrance. That is, the obeast is like Yeast, go in you small and become big, probably both physically and take over wise. It is like a plant and if seen under some machine within us, it might look similar to a root. Yeast Infection affects the vagina, another entry than the mouth, but the key here is that it is near where the eggs of men lie. Surprisingly, this problem with infecting a possible egg, etc, might be taken care of with what women called 'Period' or Menstrual Cycle. Whereby eggs that are discharged are pushed out if not used. This will tie in with the prophecy of the horsemen in the book of Job later and periodic fasting and prayer.

The Book Of Job

Surprisingly, I didn't think Job had encoded prophecy. But Job 20 speaks in a personal encoded prophetic sense of the prophecy of the end of the Horse Men. It also reveals some stunning physiology of the body, probably unknown to the medical world, but some tenets need to be confirmed thereby to prove it true. We started with Wormwood and it being bitter, bitter as gall. Such a medicine can be found in your body. Notice:

"GALL: (1) Heb mererah, meaning "bitterness" (Job 16:13); i.e., the bile secreted in the liver. This word is also used of the poison of asps (Job 20:14), and of the vitals, the seat of life (25). (2.) Heb rosh. In De 32:33; Job 20:16 it denotes the poison of serpents. In Ho 10:4 the Hebrew word is rendered "hemlock." The original probably denotes some bitter, poisonous plant, most probably the poppy, which grows up quickly, and is therefore coupled with wormwood (De 29:18; Jer 9:15; La 3:19). Comp. Jer 8:14; 23:15, "water of gall," Gesenius, "poppy juice;" others, "water of hemlock," "bitter water. (3.) Gr. chole (Mt 27:34), the LXX. translation of the Hebrew rosh in Ps 69:21, which foretells our Lord's sufferings. The drink offered to our Lord was vinegar (made of light wine rendered acid, the common drink of Roman soldiers) "mingled with gall," or, according to Mark (Mr 15:23), "mingled with myrrh;" both expressions meaning the same thing, namely, that the vinegar was made bitter by the infusion of wormwood or some other bitter substance, usually given, according to a merciful custom, as an anodyne to those who were crucified, to render them insensible to pain. Our Lord, knowing this, refuses to drink it. He would take nothing to cloud his faculties or blunt the pain of dying. He chooses to suffer every element of woe in the bitter cup of agony given him by the Father (John 18:11)" (Easton Bible Dictionary).

It's hard to explain from Job, because it seems like a touch-basis only speaking to me and foolish to share, but it is encoded prophetic because certain words were used. First, by encoded prophetic in Isaiah 31, it called the horsemen "He" because of it's intelligence, "he also is wise." In Job it begin to speak of their demise, especially now that you know they are more than a medical sickness, plague or disease you kill with a pill; but have human bodies, superior intelligence, likely to rebel and could number in the millions, in secret and China/Asia with the opposition's 200 million man army being the epitome. So it's no great thing for prophecy to refer to it as he. Job reads,

"Though his excellency mount up to the heavens, and his head reach unto the clouds; Yet he shall perish for ever like his own dung: they which have seen him shall say, Where is he" (Job 20:6-7).

They have evolved greatly to independently posses the straight archaic deep nature / abilities of man; and possibly excellent in knowledge. Also, though this verse doesn't say either ways, through tapping into man's DNA from beginning to end, they might have the ability to fly in our bodies. Some Egyptian statues and hieroglyphic with them give off this meaning and some men, like a Bishop name Joseph was noted as flying or some documents prefer flowing.

"The eye also which saw him shall see him no more; neither shall his place any more behold him" (Job 20:9).

Not everyone can grasp this; mostly the fallen ones, but those that realize the existence thereof shall wonder where are they.

"Though wickedness be sweet in his mouth, though he hide it under his tongue; Though he spare it, and forsake it not; but keep it still within his mouth: Yet his meat in his bowels is turned, it is the gall of asps within him" (Job 20:12-14).

This is the part I want to get to, I had first rendered it that it enters through the mouth via food, ignoring other parts of the body (though mainly), can hide in the mouth and the yeast or leaven effect takes place; the mouth referring to the opening down to the esophagus. But immediately as I read it to write that it came clearer to me. That is, if one gets the medicine of bitter waters, refuse to drink it, or it even hide under his tongue or lodge in the esophagus, possibly by a evil spirit influence, the obeast still can be killed in that stage of intake. That is, he refuse to take the medicine or the obeast hides and gets in the body via food "Yet his meat in his bowels is turned." His Dodo is irregular, with the dead obeast egg or infant. How comes this happen without the medicine of bitter waters? The next clause explains it. "It is the gall of asps within him." That is, within your body, is a secretion of bitterness that filters out obeast eggs or them in their infancy or possible wholeness. The book of Job tells us of the gall of asps and Easton Bible Dictionary said it is "the bile secreted in the liver." But how does that work? Wouldn't we always be protected from it? In a way, yes, if we keep God's commandments; namely, the Sabbath day rest. In other words, it is secreted when we are fasting and praying, doing our sabbatical rest. Notice Job 16:13, "he cleaveth my reins asunder, and doth not spare; he poureth out my gall upon the ground." His gall was released and poured out when he hadn't eaten, even much when he had eaten and was losing weight rapidly. It probably somehow enters the entire body through the blood stream, much like alcohol enters the blood too when drunken - blood alcohol level. That's how much fasting and prayer or keeping the Sabbath is important - another Theocracy V.S. Democracy issue. No wonder this verse states this of fasting, "The blueness of a wound cleanseth away evil: so do stripes the inward parts of the belly" (Pro 20:30). That is, the blueness redness you see on your hands when you get a cut is the built-in mechanism that fights the infections on it. Likewise fasting (stripes) does the same thing to the inward parts, automatically; in this case, secrete the gall of asps. So the children of Israel could be protected against it if they kept the Sabbaths, for if they picked up any in the week, by the end of the week it would be dead by this secretion on the Sabbatical rest and fasting.

Now knowing this secret of the secretion from the liver (or even possible gall bladder) the modern day doctors with a democratic mindset would conjure a pill to automatic arouse the liver to do this artificially and by-pass God's design again; rather than rest and fast one day a week and periodic cluster days of the year. Also, with most artificiality come problems, even unknown ones. For many pills on the market have several and combined side effects. This mechanism of sabbatical rest is like "The Period" women have, when they pass out eggs with blood once a month. Hence, as Job 20:15-16 said, "God shall cast them out of his belly. He shall suck the poison of asps: the viper's [OWN] tongue shall slay him."

However, what if it had gotten really bad. I'm not sure if the sudden switch to this mechanism would work or bitter water intake. For instance, in the analogy, a woman's eggs are being put out monthly and doesn't become a baby because it is not fertilize and hence put out, if the woman becomes pregnant with a baby her period cannot put out that egg or now, the baby. Likewise, the weekly sabbatical fasting rest is the preventive method or kill method at infancy or maintenance never to get infected. But what if someone didn't obey the Lord like the Children of Israel, then they would need the literal bitter waters to drink in great consumption, to kill that growing obeast or whatever methods the blues have devised thus far.

To solidify this Gall theory of the liver secretion and that Job 20 has encoded prophecy on it, verse 25 says, "It is drawn, and cometh out of the body; yea, the glittering sword cometh out of his gall: terrors are upon him." And if he taketh a body for himself, the person who it belonged being dead, because of this, the body shall be a snare to be in if the gall is activated in them; especially by some ingenuity of the blues, saints or hopefuls, "All darkness shall be hid in his secret places: a fire not blown shall consume him; it shall go ill with him that is left in his tabernacle" (Job 20:26). In other words, this darkness or secret is in the flesh they have, like a fire it shall consume them, the head one in the body and possible others in the that body (tabernacle); much like how with a spirit possessions many spirits can posses a body but one is the head spirit. Nevertheless, "left in his tabernacle" could also more importantly suggest the obeast taking the body, left in the body of a person after killing them and taking over. How shall someone find a way to activate this bomb in them if the earth don't even know of them, "The heaven shall reveal his iniquity; and the earth shall rise up against him" (Job 20:27). Even through this and the last article on Mass Destruction.

Another thing too, many doctors don't know the purpose why an organ or two maybe in the body and then conclude we don't need it. Like we can live on one kidney, the second is not need. Everything was placed in the body by the designer for a reason; nothing was just arbitrarily there. So everything in the body is need, from both your kidneys, to tonsils, to all organs created by God. Removal of some of these things could be a plot. Even Gall stone removal and the cutting there into and possibly what was the liver in the Bible is what we call the gall bladder today or vice versa, we don't know. Science decided to divorce all godly source and went her way and though seems advancing, is really going nowhere and has done much harm while attempting good.

One scripture in Job, just simply looking at it, is a typical example that the gallstone could be ludicrous and just a ploy to remove the gall bladder proportionally, as to advance the agenda of horsemen. It says, "The waters wear the stones: thou wastest away the things which grow out of the dust of the earth" (Job 14:9). The obvious implication would be that the very gall asp would break away the stone in it, as it being a blockage to the ducts and need removing. But I could otherwise logically conclude that anything in water for a long period breaks apart and dissolve, even iron break away and rust; and what is in the gall bladder is acidic and would do just that to even any cholesterol build up. Saying a solid stone is formed in a liquid of acid is like saying I'm mixing cement under the sea in an open container pouring it in from the bag openly too. Especially that the liquid in the gall bladder wouldn't be static or linear in excretion but cyclic, in that it is squeezed out and retracts and would move up and down in distribution. Not only that but the physiology of the body would dictate that, for we are not motionless and hence a residue couldn't per say build at the bottom of the gall bladder much more to form solid stones. If cholesterol increases, I assume the body produces enough to take care of any levels of consumption we can handle, the designer is wise like that. Say we produce 24 units of gall of asp or bile every day or 24 hours. Then say we consume a full course meal, I mean the works, in one hour that uses up 2/24 of this bile each time, somebody eating 10 full course meals would use a lot of it but still have some left. Nobody can eat that much, proportionally, in 24 hours. What the designer would have done is not only leave it at this safety edge but made it impossible to run out even if we eat one full course meal every hour for 24 hours. He would have made it that we would produced not 100 but millions of units of bile in 24 hours. Just look at other parts of the body he designed to confirm this; like the sperm testicles, it produces millions of sperms yet we can't have enough sex to use them all and so goes the eggs in women. But modern medical wheeling would find a way to dictate otherwise and continue cutting out the "the glittering sword [that] cometh out of his gall" (Job 20:25) and if challenged on the medical field we can seem to falter for they control and are drenched in the books, what we know of science and all aspect of health. What we have is the word that knew these things before modern science. What the word does say is that it cometh from gall, it didn't identify where that is or it didn't speak of a stone growing and clogging it, but plain logics over science would dictate that "the waters wear the stone;" especially if the method given by God for living and utilizing it is instituted, a life of prayer and fasting - often fasting would control cholesterol build up and other imbalances. As seen in ancient Israel, weekly fast and holidays fastings (several days together); exercise would help too. I guess why fasting is also key to the release of the gall of asp or bile to kill the obeast is that the secretion is never ending. That is, it is not secreted only when food is in the stomach or for other stimuli, but is always being secreted and if nothing is to be digested, it is dispersed among the body and hence cleanses it. You might say that would be like turning on a car and never turning it off when not driving. It might look that way, but we would be driving everyday many times and have to force our bodies not to drive; when not driving would be like starting your car in cold Canada before driving, to get it warm and melt away the snow, the snow being the obeast.

Also, by the scripture we don't know the organ or where it is located that secrete this, so the gallbladder or liver, though placarded in modern science might not be it or it, but somewhere in that region or a sub-organ of one these organs in that region; what we call the gall bladder could be the producer of the of the bile and the liver the distributor or vice versa. If the gallbladder is a sack for reserving excess bile and the bile is never-ending as stated above, then cutting it out, under the assumption that it is not needed and secretion flows from the liver directly to the digestive system, then even more fasting would help release this bile and kill the obeast because it flows never-endingly and not stored to the brim and released from the gallbladder sac. Then, those attempting to cut out this "glittering sword" would sharpen it even more attempting to deceive by re-wording medicine. If the gall bladder is the producer of the secretion and it is cut out, then what produces the secretion for digestion? The digestive juice could be produced by another organ or the stomach itself, while the gallbladder bile is a stronger secretion for stronger and quicker break down. While 3 chews can break apart a food for swallowing, 32 chews make more for swallowing and consumption. For instance, when sex is about to take place the penis gets a secretion some call "pre-cum" and is not the sperms. It is secreted to make ready the piercing of the vagina – slippery, so the speak. Two different secretions for the one intended event. So both the gall and liver could secret bile and the stomach uses both for digestion, but can survive on one for digestion, the liver; but for dealing with the obeast and other such strong contaminants of the body the secretion from the gallbladder is needed. So cutting it out might not severely affect the digestive process but lessens that acid in the stomach. And possibly because of this we hear of stomach ulcers, whereby if the two were secreted then the sore or festering in the stomach couldn't take place by the obeast. Again, take this analogy. There is a detergent on the market which look like two bottles glued together, because they are separating the chemicals but needed together when squeezed out for cleaning; hence, two tap head. Either one can clean your bath, because it is a soap chemical but together it gets the desired job done.

Concerning the gall bladder and liver, whether 'together', 'one flows into the other', 'separate' or 'none of the two is this glittering sword', are all theories by me and not necessarily fact, though modern science hold to one of them. What I'm trying to say is that such obscurity to the identification and location could be allowed by the divine to prevent the very act of removing it from the innocent. In fact, the divine seems to directly say or intend that in the encodings of Job 20, "All darkness shall be hid in his secret places: a fire not blown shall consume him; it shall go ill with him that is left in his tabernacle" (Job 20:26). "All darkness" means that the entire scenario of it is dark or clouded and cannot be understood less tampered with. "Shall be hid" means that regardless of how advance we get in science we'll never find it or if it be literally before us, still never find, less tampered with. As seen with the mass gall stone removals done yearly, the enemy would win for who can question science, we just pay our monies to the doctors and somewhat feel alright, not knowing anything they do. What trust we place in man and yet cannot place that trust in God. What he gives us is that fasting will release that secretion and help the entire body; no money to do but actually save money. Concerning the piercing of the side to the crucified, will touch on why I mention this later, for the blood and water (asp) to flow out, such an organ has to be big enough so that any ordinary soldier can pierce the side of the crucified. So that big organ could be a major receptor and distributor from the organ that create the gall of asp; and possibly this organ distribute to all organs of the body, even heart, so locating the gall of asp creator organ might not be needed for the crucified but only burst one of the major distributor organs. I guess the liver would fit this, but...So you see the darkness being displayed.

Here is a chart on a possible internal physiology and map of the gall bladder, liver and workings thereof:

(I can't remember the site where it is from; I only got the pictures so I don't know of the narrations concerning them. I was just looking for pictures of the inside with the gall bladder; google picture search does a find job too.)

Though twists and turns foster, you see that the bible or the Judeo-Christian religion has scientific potency that even predates modern science, which later caught on. Then how utterly stupid it is for the schools and government to shun and prevent schools from accepting and teaching biblical creationism, even as a science; some try to remove the overt bible potency from it and call it Intelligent design, it's the same thing science did when they divorced religion, when Michelangelo and all the renaissance scientists and doctors were Christians and guided thereby, which has helped us to get this far then we turn our backs from the divine and say we can handle it on our own and has produce endless errors and problems. It is always a plot of the adversary to think we can do it on our own and be isolated from God to see us fall. Return to our foundations and put the truth back in our schools, biblical truth is the only truth.

Back to the book of Job chapter 20 encoded prophecy on the obeast -

:Concerning the book of Revelation's Wormwood Prophecy:

"In the FULLNESS of his sufficiency he shall be in straits: every hand of the wicked shall come upon him. When he is about to fill his belly, God shall cast the fury of his wrath upon him, and shall rain it upon him while he is eating" (Job 20:22).

:Concerning his service as the Opposition's Army:

"He shall flee from the iron weapon, and the bow of steel shall strike him through" (Job 20:24).

:Concerning his ultimate Demise:

"The increase of his house shall depart, and his goods shall flow away in the day of his wrath" (Job 20:28).

:Concerning their salvation and/or prolonged grace in a body, as briefly mentioned, being intelligent beings:

"He shall not see the rivers, the floods, the brooks of honey and butter. That which he laboured for shall he restore, and shall not swallow it down: according to his substance shall the restitution be, and he shall not rejoice therein. Because he hath oppressed and hath forsaken the poor; because he hath violently taken away an house which he builded not [HUMAN BODY]; Surely he shall not feel quietness in his belly, he shall not save of that which he desired" (Job 20:17-20).

Horse Men And Salvation

Just to interject here, since the last verse encodly said "save of that which he desired," with their intelligence and obvious human qualities being in a body, the notion of salvation would come up. And being one with the human body, tapping in the reptilian core, affectionately called, would not only give them the desires of human qualities, but like the angels, even if not seeking it for themselves, look into salvation. I write this smoothly now for the first thought of it was obviously ludicrous mischievous madness to me and somewhat still is. But God in my personal devotion also brought this up and open and close the brackets on any salvation.

In late 2005, I had anticipated reading Isaiah 45 with an encoded prophetic sense, now reaching there in a book-by-book drain out read from Genesis down, chronologically; as against the first time doing it, which was purely contextual (direct and prophetic). But when approaching Isaiah 45 I was led away in that devotion, way back to Isaiah 31 and didn't get to read it, but learnt the above of the horsemen then and the term. When I went back to read Isaiah 45 now I wasn't that stir in finding more encoded oodles and probably was wondering if I was correct in it's possible pointing of a redemption for the fallen ones. But then it suddenly jumped out at me from the leading of the Lord, the correction I made in The Voice (Do animals go to heaven?) and the learning of the horsemen in the last devotion. Isaiah 45:9 reads, "Woe unto him that striveth with his Maker! Let the potsherd strive with the potsherds of the earth." Firstly, woe on him that strive with God their maker, in other words, none of God's creation can really strive with him, what is man? What is Angel? Then it said, let the potsherd (earth ware, created) strive with their created potsherd and don't let this come up to me. If God created can't strive with him, how much things his created has created, so don't let this come up to me at all. Possible speaking of the horsemen, as it said, "or THY work, He hath no hands?" Then it said,

"Thus saith the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker, Ask me of things to come concerning MY SONS, and concerning the work of MY hands command ye me. I have made the earth, and created man [HUMANS] upon it: I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host [ANGELS] have I commanded" (Isaiah 45:11-12).

This was the verse he used in personal mode to speak to me about the fallen ones, but it not only solidifies that but also open and close the brackets on salvation. That is, ask me about salvation for my sons, the works of my mine, the intelligent beings I have created. Then gladly for the hopefuls, this didn't speak of man only for it said "the heavens...and all their host." So salvation for any fallen being would be for his creation, his sons. Reason being, in the FAQ, Do Animals Go To Heaven, I had said salvation is only for intelligent beings, not saying it but if found out was including the fallen ones in that loose definition, if not, it didn't state that. But indeed the definition was loose, "For he also is wise." And would mean that horse men can be saved because they are "intelligent beings." But God made it clear in his directive to me, "Ask me of...my sons...the work of my hands." Especially when I was pondering another prophecy about some beasts and strange creatures to be left alone in the mad max America. But when put in perspective, they might be intelligent, but still fall under the category of artificial intelligence, regardless of how wise they may be. And the synonymous thing would be like saying a robot can be saved, because he is an A.I. with intelligence. Another thing would be that they wouldn't have a soul and would be like the lower animals, if they too don't have souls. So if you're going ask me about salvation for any beings, it must be fallen "Sons of God" and 'ask me, the answer wont kill you'.

The last point that would close the brackets on salvation would be his narration to me, "I the LORD, the first, and with the last" (Isa 41:1). Moses the first, Yahoshua (Jesus) the second but first of the Lion of Judah and lastly, the last dispensational Lion of the Tribe of Judah, possibly. In that same pattern, Moses was succeeded by Joshua (Yahoshua or Jesus) who was succeeded by Othniel (who married Caleb's daughter – of the same family, Jews that is). "The last" would suggest that it finishes with the last; and with that command of asking about humans and angels, then it means it finishes with angels possibly; or in this pattern, Jews > Humans > Angels. So Isaiah 45 not only speaks encodly of a possible redemption of the fallen ones, as I'd thought of and was looking for more nuggets, but it opened the brackets wide and closed it. To the only wise being, be majesty, dominion, honor and power forever. Amen. Again, THE ONLY WISE BEING, we as created beings and sub-created beings cannot begin to fathom what wisdom is.

Isaiah 46 went further with it encodly but I didn't include this because I don't know how these possible horsemen are created on a whole, if carried in our women's womb at all. But the verse from Isaiah 46 says, "Hearken unto me, O house of Jacob, and all the remnant of the house of Israel, which are borne by me from the belly, which are carried from the womb."

This is a motherly reason why he would care for us and why if argued by God through me for a possible fallen angel redemption, this verse from the said Isaiah 46 would come into play, "I have made, and I will bear; even I will carry, and will deliver you." He created you and if you want, he will redeem you. It's just the nature of the parent.

Christ Jesus (Yahoshua) And The Obeast

I had thought that when the heavens do reveal this thing and their ability, the heretics would have a very good argument against the resurrection of Jesus. For an obeast in a human, the human being dead, have the abilities that Christ displayed upon resurrection. So what could have been resurrected was not Christ, but a horseman. This was one of the reasons the Egyptians created them; they had an affinity with the Dead or afterlife, in preserving life. The obeast was a creation of this and Revelation 11:8 (they would even have scriptures like these to use) states "which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also our Lord was crucified." So where the Lord of this scripture was crucified is spiritually called Egypt. But was an obeast resident in him alive and activated to maneuver the body when he was supposedly resurrected; like the Egyptian deads?

No and again no? You might say, how can I know this or who can know it? The entire gospel and redemption of us is centered on the fact that Christ went to the Cross, suffered, died and resurrected. This is what fooled the princes of the world, bruised the head of the Dragon and set us all free. Since then, satan has been trying to mock it up to cover up his shame, in that God came as a mere carpenter and in his rage to kill the redeemer set us all free. It was a heavy shameful blow. Without it there would be no Christianity or redemption. So Christ, knowing that he would revealed the operation of the obeast made sure he didn't leave this one open.

Firstly, the obeast was known by the fallen ones and easily kept at bay; it would be only latter times they have live here long enough and master all our knowledge for them to think rebellion and be indistinguishable in exploits from angels and stronger than men intellectually (though when this is ripe, "In the FULLNESS of his sufficiency," the hand of the wicked will be upon him and the star called wormwood takes place). So they knew how to destroy it in the body and of course God too. Hence, when employing crucifixions, methods would be used to kill not only the person but also the obeast if they were obeasted; another hidden undertone of an angel society within a man society and all angel dealings masked under every day things we do - much like the underground economy. Three things were attempted to make sure Christ was dead and very dead by no obeast possibly inhabiting him.

1. Before his crucifixion they platted a crown of thorns and knowing the Romans they didn't put it lightly on his head, but pressed it down and would damage the area of the resident operation of a possible obeast. "And the soldiers platted a crown of thorns, and put it on his head" (John 19:2).

2. We found this. "The drink offered to our Lord was vinegar (made of light wine rendered acid, the common drink of Roman soldiers) "mingled with gall,"...the vinegar was made bitter by the infusion of wormwood or some other bitter substance, usually given, according to a merciful custom, as an anodyne to those who were crucified, to render them insensible to pain. Our Lord, knowing this, refuses to drink it. He would take nothing to cloud his faculties or blunt the pain of dying. He chooses to suffer every element of woe" (Easton Bible Dictionary). This was the custom. But wait, wasn't wormwood the hidden antidote to cure the obeast? So why was it given to criminals about to die. Right, to ease their pain? They were criminals and brutality and suffering was the intent, not easing the pain. It's like saying I would walk into a bank and rob it, but halfway down the street I turned back to return a thousand dollars for I notice the porch outside needed a bit of renovation and I don't want to look that bad, you know. Yeh, right, to ease the pain. But having a society within a society, you can't tell the people of the hidden obeast that could prolong the body so they gave them the medicated bitter water even more bitter with vinegar to make sure they along with any possible obeast, is dead. Quite easy to carryout by fallen angels, since they "run" everything, they simply order it done to all executive. But at last, guess what, these heretics would win in saying the resurrected Jesus was a horseman because Christ refused to drink it and he spat it out or pretend to be tainted thereby. Though Christ could have drunken it to seal this element of doubt, he also had to fulfill prophecy, whereby if he had drunken it with the idea of it's usage to dull his pain in the minds of the people, he would have eluded the suffering on the cross to them. He rather choose to drink of the "cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?" (John 18:11); to portrait to all, his obedience/prophecy to his entire suffering, no doubts. The crown of thorns couldn't have killed an obeast alone, so what?

3. They pierce his side. Big deal. Remember the teaching of the gall of asps in us from the encoding of Job 20 and that in us is a device to kill it, "It is drawn, and cometh out of the body; yea, the glittering sword cometh out of his gall: terrors are upon him." It is activated through fasting for the periodic cleansing. But also, the verse that followed that said even if they take over the body "a fire not blown shall consume him; it shall go ill with him that is left in his tabernacle" (Job 20:26), especially if somebody finds how to do this with the gall secretion in them. Now, when they pierce his side. They did something remarkable. They pierce also his liver or gallbladder or a major organ with the gall of asps, whereby blood and water and/or this secretion ran out in the entire body. Blowing up the liver or gallbladder in this way, in us alive now, would kill the obeast yes, but it will also kill us. But Christ was dead and when they pierce his side in also fulfilling the prophecy of none of his bones being broken, they unknowingly cleared up any attempt of this heresy disqualifying the cross. That is, they burst the bag in man that has the gall of asps that can kill the obeast. It usually secretes enough to kill possible only the infant or egg obeast upon fasting, but when it was busted it bleed into the entire system and not only would have killed a possible obeast in Christ but made his body saturated with the gall of asps from the liver / gallbladder; and hence made it also uninhabitable by the creature upon his death. Making him not only very very very dead but dead and hence his resurrection very very true.

So he refused the protocol of number 2 that would prove his death by obeying prophecy rather, and another prophecy proved his death even more, by they not breaking his legs but piercing his side instead.

Let me show you how the latter part of the piercing of the liver or bag with the gall of asps to saturate his body was important. I had started out from Jeremiah 8, which deals with the obeast issue all over it. But it startled me further when I re-read verse 1 and 2. Notice,

"At that time, saith the LORD, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of his princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, out of their graves: And they shall spread them before the sun, and the moon, and all the host of heaven, whom they have loved, and whom they have served, and after whom they have walked, and whom they have sought, and whom they have worshipped: they shall not be gathered, nor be buried; they shall be for dung upon the face of the earth" (Jeremiah 8:1-2).

First, Easton has this to say, "The principal prophecies of Scripture regarding Egypt are these, Isa 19:1-25; Jer 43:1; 8:1-13... etc."

The obeast originated fully in Egypt. But what this startled me on was the fact that these stupid Israelites forsake God so much and in such idolatry that they dug up the graves of the prominent dead to be obeasted. They could have possibly just seen a dead come to life by these Egyptian and/or horsemen and thought it wonderful and dug up their dead for them to come alive too, advise by the same allege magicians. So what would actually happen in this verse was that actual dead bodies were dug up and could be used as host for obeasts; that would be frightening and disgraceful as God's children. It possibly wasn't just bare bones but preserved flesh with bones wrapped up in cloth, like the Egyptian mummies. Then they would be obeasted and the "simply" among the masses believe they have been raised from the dead - if God allowed them to carry this through. Even after this 'bare faced-ness' he help them with the aforementioned cure, "Why do we sit still? Assemble yourselves, and let us enter into the defenced cities, and let us be silent there: for the LORD our God hath put us to silence [FASTING], and given us water of gall to drink [POSSIBLY BOTH EXTERNALLY AND INTERNALLY], because we have sinned against the LORD. We looked for peace, but no good came; and for a time of health, and behold trouble!" (Jeremiah 8:14-15).

So, in piercing Christ's side and releasing the gall of asps all over his body, it made sure that in the period of those three days, no obeast could inhabit his body in a possible pseudo resurrection.

Hence Job's narration in Job 16:13, "he cleaveth my reins asunder...he poureth out my gall upon the ground" wasn't also teaching us of the gall asps and obeast, but was also a type and shadow of Christ. His suffering was certain, his death was certain and his resurrection was certain. Therefore, we who believe and are born again (Acts 2:38) are certain.

Note: This same rhetoric should be applied to those resurrected by Christ and his saints, and especially of the two witnesses in the Book of Revelations to come.

Obeast And Tradition – Undertone Society

Fasting upon the death of someone was a customary thing done. But it could also be one of those hidden protection in our culture then, like the Sabbath was. Someone can die and if that body was obeasted and housed several obeasts or eggs, upon termination, that doesn't necessarily mean the obeast or all the obeasts (infant and eggs) died and with no body to live in, would immediately seek the next; even if the main one was terminated. The next bodies would be the mourners, but if fasting, as they did 7 days for the death of King Saul then such persons would have their bodies full of the bitter gall secretion to prevent infection. Probably just the atmosphere of death alone could bring about other obeasts.

As seen in the Egyptians, the obeast can seem to resurrect or sustain the dead, they now being that intelligent life force behind it. However, if while out of their sufficiency, their masters wanted that body dead they would have to give it up or die; especially if such death was authorized from heaven. Their possible offspring and possibly themselves would seek the next closest body to invest and that would be the mourners. No wonder the scripture admonishes us always not to remove the old landmarks.

On the other side, fasting while mourning could just simply be in astonishment that appetite is lost or console the immediate family while their appetite is lost. This would be the upfront reason and possible main cause to fast while mourning the dead.

Another tradition used to pacify the obeast problem is a little wine after or with a meal. Sometimes chocolate and wine; it seems to like sweets which draws it out then they usually drink/touch the alcohol which kill it. Notice the word alcohol, the same word used for the medicated alcohol that kills germs and cleanse the wound. Now there is medical, chemical, biological, coincidental and other reasons why the two probably have the term - but drinkable alcohol seem to have the same properties the other has. When thrown on swine's flesh before preparation the worms visibly come out. Often times, as a youth, mother would use the alcohol and apply it to chest and head, the drinkable one; normally this is rum (vodka) and not necessarily wine. Paul did advised, "use a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities" (1 Tim 5:23). Notice the purpose of it, the intent is not consumption for consumption sake, but thy often infirmities. This was probably a reason for its introduction, then to make it mainstream sweeteners and other flavors were added along with social stimuli; then it got out of control. For I often wondered why men like to sit in a bar and drink bitter juice to seem macho, it probably evolved that way; especially that upon much consumption it was found out that one can hallucinate or go in a state of ecstasy, hence, as the scriptures says "forget all their worries" or feel some release from the stresses of life. This is what makes it bad, "be not drunk with wine, wherein is EXCESS" (Eph 5:18). If you drank drinkable alcohol in its purest original form, you would spit it out; some are straight potato fermented. Wine in its purest form would be simply juice. To drink the bitter water for infirmities, it would have been then surmised good to mix it with the wine or grape juice, and probably how the tradition came of our mainstream liquors; that is, wine with its slightly bitter taste yet delightfully consumable, like sweet and sour chicken. Some of the straight alcohol is preserved in what the Caribbean call rum or vodka or probably Absolute. Straight beer comes next, then wine last. If used, only in the form Paul mentions, for medicine, like tablespoons amounts in a shot glass; many of you can't manage more than that anyhow.

Don't know for sure, but possible controlled smoking. At present, in Egypt, they are smoking shops where men come and smoke these long challis pipes of several bushes; probably the tobacco bush of Middle America had those medicine properties when smoked to control any obeast outbreak. However, this later tradition is too addictive to be advised; as seen with scenario's surrounding it and men.

As seen in the gall given to the crucified, the fallen ones amongst us know of the epidemic and remedies to control it, which is ceded in many traditions. I don't know if all knew of the piercing of the side to release the gall within; or even the breaking of the leg to prevent the obeast from taking the body seeing it wouldn't achieve its purpose having an upright body since being made to walk on its belly in Genesis. But the fact is obvious that many remedies are ceded in our traditions to deal with the epidemic. The foremost should be prayer and fasting.

Jeremiah did ask, "Is there no balm in Gilead; is there no physician there? why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?" (Jer 8:22). God is our balm; if we want to be healed we must submit to him. It wouldn't be too much to ask, after reading this, for a week each year of national fasting and prayer – schools, shops, restaurants, businesses and everywhere lock down for one week and what is placarded on the media is fasting and prayer, literature distribute on the "why's", "how's" and need. For tourists, I guess some shops could remain half open to get a frozen dinner or join in the custom. Though this is sucked in Islam by the deceiver. The start of the year would be good, like the first week, "I" do on the first day; but not all can do that for they celebrate the night before, so if such a thing is enacted, using tact is extremely important, but more important is listening to the Lord if given a decree for date, settings and place. You fallen ones did so when Jonah came to you back at Nineveh (built by Nimrod with Babel at an attempt at building the Gate of God), the same fallen ones that Christ said, "the men of Nineveh shall rise in judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it" (Matt 12:41). To get the idea of the term "this generation" read Mark 13:30, which in Matt 12:41 represent the final days generation and all the mystery of God is stirred and completed, including questions on a possible redemption of all fallen beings. Hence, the same men of Nineveh back in those days is present in these days, referring to fallen angels who never die and remain as humans by continued successive lives until the end of days. Even some among them who have a little fear of God, that dwelt in all the ancient attempts at the Gate of God, shall condemn this generation with their irreverent selves – as they were condemned when Jonah warned them. Like Jonah, no one wants to take that challenge to preach against or to them, because like Jonah, why should we seeing they are cursed fallen heathens worthy of the eternal destruction to come. But you see what God said to Jonah (Jonah 4:10-11), who like me or any other true preacher have this perception; that is, Jonah's. But...

Answer Note: In that same last chapter of Jonah, with the gourd and worm, God was encodly speaking of the obeast, in contrast with the fallen angels of Nineveh and possible salvation. The two main types represented by the gourd and worm (Isa 30:6), as salvation wouldn't pertain to them, though "intelligent," because they have not a soul but are like plants, "which came up in a night, and perished in a night" (Jonah 4:10). Epitomize in this personal encoded to me, "Now the Egyptians [Fallen Angel Ones] are [like] men, and not God; and their horses [OBEASTS are] flesh, and not spirit" (Isa 31:3), so don't fear them. So though asking and wondering for all, the bracket is closed with Sons of God, fallen sons of God. However, there is a lot involved and hence further deliberation – hopefully, with God, will lead to the book, "Demonology Appealed: The Fallen Race" and more importantly, hope for all achieved. Also, by scripture dialogue I know of the two, but they could possible be many types one might say. That might be so but all could come from these two, like you have many cats (household, lions, panthers, etc) and many dogs (pit-bull, hyena, German Shepard, etc); but it is simply cats and dogs. By this Jonah encoding of the worm eating the gourd and that of Moses, snake eating snake, it might be that the latter created obeast is enemy to the first; as cats to dogs. This also creates another problem in our society, as cats would be fighting against dogs. Or, to see that notion clearer, vampires versus werewolves or aliens versus predators. So praying is a must!

The End

Concerning Jeremiah 8:21, just before Job 20, this consoled me also concerning any possible infection of the obeast, "And though after my skin worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God: Whom I shall see for myself, and mine eyes shall behold, and not another; though my reins be consumed within me" (Job 19:26-27). So you and I can hope, for Job lived and was fully restored after such a devastating state. So, like Job, let us sit until our change comes. If God be willing, it must come!

Circles

What Are Circles

This supercedes reason and too "wonderful" to even be taken seriously and questionable, but give some added ammo to something said in the previous articles. Basically, all things proceed from God and made of God so all things have God in it and nothing cannot be made by another except it is made within his patterns. For instance, someone trying to draw a square on a spinning flat fan nose. You can't. You can only draw circles if you put the marker to it moving. So is everything consisted in existence, and especially time. Filled with circular patterns, so, "if you know this you can know that" or "this is patterned in something that is a fore or a by product of it or with it." Basically, "Everything is in Everything." Or what the bible says, "The thing that hath been, it is that which shall be; and that which is done is that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun...That which hath been is now; and that which is to be hath already been; and God requireth that which is past" (Ecc 1:9 and Ecc 3:15). This could also mean that everything that is to be is already set and you can't get out of the pre-settings or settings; even though if one could see, you might see multiple streams in the "Valley of Vision" that can be taken and even logic dictates that to us, yet all is set. Much like Proverbs 16, it started out saying "The preparations of the heart in man, and the answer of the tongue, is from the LORD." What you think to do and what you do God did it. Then the rest of the chapter goes in etiquettes on doing and formulas for doing, etc.; yet what we think to do, and do, are all influenced by God. The last verse of the book solidifies this, "The lot is cast into the lap; but the whole disposing thereof is of the LORD." Your lot is given to you to do but what is done was done by God. This is a paradox and needs balancing and away from the point at hand, but shows the complexity of what we are dealing with.

The impossibility of what I'm trying to say concerning the circles would sound like this, me looking at a piece of something and it confirms by pattern something I did with the whole of that piece; because nothing is done isolated but all things connected. I have to be careful because this would draw it self close to things like astrology, tarot, tea leaf reading, star gazing, decoding dreams and other such abominations forbidden by God; though, not that those things aren't real but forbidden, for as God patterned things on earth he can pattern things in the skies, but that is not for us humans - which brings another paradox, for this is sent to angels as well - so we would have to factor in the essence of why it is forbidden and apply that to them, which might simply be God saying look to me only and not the things I have created; as for us and them letting us see it or be involve in it, it is forbidden. Yet God can work with that same thing, like a star in the sky the night Christ was born or Joseph and Daniel being able to decode dreams - you see how complicated the issue can get; with the latter I guess since nothing is isolated, do nothing isolated from God. He himself admits that they are secret things but reserved to him, "The secret things belong unto the LORD our God: but those things which are revealed belong unto us and to our children forever" (Due 29:29 also, Gen 40:8). The circles can almost never be figured out and folly the result of such attempt. This might even seem philosophic, but not and why I said it should be avoided generally, as God advised. The words of one author kind of got it, "So, not only are we understandably skeptical, but also, we still possess a mindset of civilization which is linear rather than CYCLIC" [Malcolm Godwin, "Angels, An Endangered of one Processor Version of the SOFTWARE PRODUCT on the COMPUTER.

Notice that you can't install more than one copy of the software (which all companies use) but companies have several machines and people, so they have to buy several copy licenses, which can cost a lot. Then to try to alleviate that cost they would just use the net meeting software that conveniently comes free to indirectly force networking computers; and though not the computer manufacturer, all use Microsoft/Intel operating system and hence networking of all the computer this way. A clever guise, which, if you look at the plain sense of it from a layman like me, why in ... can you stop me from putting the same software I purchase on all my computers. But their agenda is known and hopefully resolved. Sad to say this would be undetectable and hence doubt; for it would be convenient or solve a problem and hence look like the effect of a cause rather than an agenda. Similar to how the false prophet and beast will implement that Mark of Beast system by what prophecy teachers say that he "shall make craft prosper." In other words, he would solve the economic and financial problems with it; hence, it wouldn't be seen as an agenda or planned, but cause and effect and sometimes inevitable. Most often this economic and financial collapse would be falsely created to usher that in and this also can be undetectable, because it would seem as an evolution or normal everyday progressions; for example, "the boom and bust" theory. I'm simply the watchman on the wall, you "people among the people" know yourselves and who is who or who is what. I call it as I see it, you fix it or deal with the consequences; but the blood would be washed from my hands.

Notice micro-suns system notice in the Microsoft Eula, well not micro-suns themselves, but they are chief leaders responsible for java. Look at how powerful these four could be by controlling all computers:

"JAVA technology is not fault tolerant and is not designed, manufactured, or intended for use or resale as on-line control equipment in hazardous environments requiring fail-safe performance, such as in the operation of nuclear facilities, aircraft navigation or communication systems, air traffic control, direct life support machines, or weapons systems, in which the failure of JAVA technology could lead directly to death, personal injury, or severe physical or environmental damage."

Just the few examples of things java uses above is enough to be scary, "weapons systems." indeed if anyone had such capabilities to control these four companies would indeed have the capability to hold a technological advance country as the US hostage and easy take over. Not knowing who controls IBM or if they are authentic, though they call them "the big blue," most of the above systems would be designed by them but according to the magazine micro-sun system controls most of their mainframe networking.

Hence, concerning the first article on Real WMD about the four entities, Microsoft, Micro-Suns, Cern's World Wide Web and Apple,

Super Sized

It would seem that the present manufacturers of the obese have upgraded it significantly and if distributed by McDonalds and other fast food chains, as stated, then they would have distributed the upgraded one which somehow is built stronger from the Egyptian desert origins - now the "flying fiery serpent." The circles would catch up with the fast food giant in the term - super size - they are not serving the original obeast that I guess all fallen angels know of and can defeat, but the super sized one that probably only they have the antidote for; so to speak. However, as said to me, these horsemen shall not only rebel against these yellow bellies who buy them here but also the present Egyptians who made them - Isa 31.

It's hard to decipher how they've upgraded it; it would be paradoxical in saying tolerance to water for the body is like 90% water or to the cold, since an allege horse line (latitude equator like line) lies in the South of USA, hot territory.

Again, someone knowing of these things, the horsemen, is responsible for the Lord Of the Ring (The return of the King) movie or Suckry / Omelet. It too was released in 1955 (book), though not all the things release encodly in 1955 was bad, you had the congress act of in God we trust. In the movie, the org would represent the horsemen among us (horsemen in a cheeky way for they would be jockeys and we the horse, as the scripture says, stronger than men yet this tiny; by virtue of accessing and the ability to manipulate the reptilian core of our brains and would possible have abilities like the angels have); not humans yet humans and advancely intelligent by virtue of the brackets above. Yet those who made them had them under wraps this long, but "he [HORSEMEN] also is wise, and will bring evil, and will not call back his words: but will arise against the house of the evildoers [HERE], and against the help of them [SOUTH] that work iniquity." So the intelligence is acknowledge, they will bring evil as they were created for, but will also bring more evil by virtue of rebelling (not call back his word) against those here who buy/utilize them and the Egyptians in the South who created them. These three you have to contend with and Satan and the yellowrites haven't come into play yet.

*Denotes, fiery flying serpent comes from Isa 30:6 - "The burden of the beasts of the south: into the land of trouble and anguish, from whence come the young and old lion, the viper and fiery flying serpent, they will carry their riches upon the shoulders of young asses, and their treasures upon the bunches of camels, to a people that shall not profit them."

The Young Lion comes from Egypt, that is Othniel, first Judge and person to start fulfilling Jacob's prophecy of Judah, to the old lion. That isn't the key, Egypt produce the first Othniel and the last one. But wait, Egypt is in Africa. The latter Egypt is metaphorically referring to them in the South of USA, that are masters of the line and probably some of the fallen angels that ruled ancient Egypt. That's not the key either. What is startling is that these Egyptian created the first obeast and the super sized ones. Both Lions (Othniel 1 & Last Lion) and both Obeasts come from Egypt. And if the last lion is correct he would have resided or come from Middle America (Mexico and Caribbean downwards); noteworthy is that knowing of this prophecy could be a good reason, as stated in the Silent Genocide piece, why the Devil has clamped down on present Egypt with Islam, stifling any Judeo-Christian prophesized liberators (Hosea 11:1). Also, as said in a previous possible exert of University text, the land space is not the issue with being a master of the line, wisdom is far above any other element of weaponry and through it, as seen in the scripture above, them here carry their riches to them for a line or possible obeasts, etc.

Xbox

The Scott McNealy was a mock ... that is, the computer is already the network as against Microsoft/Intel, Tim's Worldwide Web and other companies. So the intent is seen of catching up with their ploy. So the Xbox could be another of that sentiment, not directly, but circles. Referring to this allegedly game (which it is not but real life woes, just analogies), which the Xbox is a game system. The circles would fall in the animated logo of an alien egg breaking, representing the alternative McNealy back up, the obeast - all else fails release the obeast on mass proportions. X standing for unknown, the unknown box or base here where it is created proportionately.

One of the other places created in 1955 was *Disney land (in obeast analogy, Jurassic Park). I didn't include it previously, for it seems innocent and doesn't fit in being in existent 50 years before but now a park 50 years later, making 100 years of Disney magic. However, while praying after learning of the South Economy, supposedly different hopefuls separate themselves in the South under the leadership of the Egyptian descendants; they also were of the ancient hopefuls, as was the first Babylon. However, encoding dictates they are doing things that doesn't categories hopefuls and even mutiny to the west, created by the eagle. The South is Mexico and the Caribbean down; sometimes touching southern seashore states. But they also seeing 2005 made preparation against the forthcoming in 1955 as well; yet they think it not that this is not hope, says the scripture encodly. That is, they created a base in the US for operations and horseman civilization - Disney Land area and possible Florida. Horsemen are not only destructive; they are employed by some here for several 'jobs', so to speak; being that they are stronger than men.

When I look back in the events of 1955 I saw that the foundation for Disney land was laid in Orange County. Orange, used loosely for the blues special op unit - flames of fire the scriptures call them (Psalms 104:4; Heb 1:7), while strict blues are ministering spirits as humans; but they are "all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister." Meaning, they were only laying their deathbed, God knowing of and allowing stirring thereof; God who controls the circles. On that same 1955 was a reported meteoroid hitting a woman, that's probably how they will do it - the orange unit, orange being the color of fire, is the most fierce of the blues and possible all angels - very ferocious and deadly in exploits as mainly godly destroyers, yet being on the good side. The base here would also be a master based for the economy the South Fosters - suckry, farming thereof; as they, with the Egyptians are the masters of line. Undetectable enslaving men and women and selling the souls thereof (lines). Hence the reason why at the end destruction of Babylon mentioned in the book of Revelations it refers to the cry of a slave and souls of men, yet slavery ended in 1833. For that is what suckery is, slavery all over again; this time undetectable. It then fosters the same scenario back in the Civil War, the south mainly composed of suckerer farms while the North relatively free, though those who buy thereof often utilize in those regions. As the nation couldn't go on before slavery ended, the refreshing cannot come except the institution of suckry is ended. The South I mention and the plain (Florida) also, one scripture mentions the destruction of the South and Plain - dual/encoded prophetic. Mainly for its suckry, wherewith a cry was made, a decree was given and yet still refuse to hear - "Should ye not hear the words which the LORD hath cried by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, and the cities thereof round about her, when men inhabited the south and the plain?" (Zec 7:7), and, "But I scattered them with a whirlwind among all the nations whom they knew not. Thus the land was desolate after them, that no man passed through nor returned: for they laid the pleasant land desolate" (Zec 7:14). 7 & 7 and 7 & 14, the two 7's and the three 7's. It mentions whirlwind, and could be referential to the hurricanes of 2005; but the land is not necessarily desolate, so could be only a beginning. The only place made desolate by the hurricanes of the Southern region was New Orleans. Will they stop? For the sake of the innocent, I hope to God. Otherwise, we might see a repeat of Sodom and Gomorrah type desolation.

The South also is the prime breeding ground of the obeast or horsemen. On an old map I saw, it had a line, like the equator, that passes through Jacksonville, on that same latitude all around the globe. That line is called the horse line and the map is 200 years old, I doubt that is on maps today or if that map with the line is true; but it computes. Under the horse line would be prime breeding ground and civilization of horsemen. On the other side of the globe, that same line passes through North Egypt. The area of Egypt directly opposite on this hemisphere relates to the Caribbean and Mexico or middle to South America; where the most and most complex pyramids have been found other than Egypt itself, other sightings in other areas of the world are usually "a one or two" small ones with no pyramid civilization or patterns clearly seen and most times just earthen mound, though.... Hence, the majority of Egyptians (the fallen angels progenitors) have migrated from Egypt and dwelt in the Central-South America / Caribbean region. No other place on the globe has such a display of pyramids as Central America, like Egypt. And most ancient civilization centers around that Horse line which might cast doubt, but... My deduction, not knowing much of the obeast, is that from the hot desert of Egypt to the hot Middle America, the obeast and horsemen can possible only survive in a hot climate - but a 2nd obeast was created and I don't know of it's capabilities, or even the first. But that's my deduction and why someone knowing thereof drew that horse line. Notice these pyramid civilizations in Middle America:

NOTE: These are the Pyramids of Central America; only Egypt and Middle America has such great pyramid civilization. In reference to the 200 million-man army (Rev 9:16) from the East moving on Israel, I supposed would be made of horsemen of China-Asia, one site noted, "The largest known pyramid is in China, but The government keep them secret." The Egyptian Fallen Angels progenitors not necessarily settling there but created it for that army. Isaiah 65 had hidden encoded on it which I can't explain now but in it shows the difference of the North and South hopefuls of the West, with south being mainly Egyptians and masters at all things to that end, but only a few pressing through and the rest with their overt doings got left, not ceasing. Concerning their secret pyramid in China / Asia and the possible 200 million man army satan will use, "But ye are they that forsake the LORD, that forget my holy mountain, that prepare a table for that troop, and that furnish the drink offering unto that number" (Isa 65:11); or, in another encoding, "That strengtheneth the spoiled against the strong, so that the spoiled shall come against the fortress" (Amos 5:9). China and India alone has 2 billion people and distinguishing real humans from horsemen is almost impossible and a possibility of the horsemen is not necessarily an excuse for earthly war; tact has to be used. Here is little more encodings in Isa. 65 on it, "But be ye glad and rejoice forever * which I create: for, behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy" (Isa 65:18). Asterisk (*) denotes that "in that" was italicized and inserted by the translators; so he was speaking of beings he created, Sons of God, as against horsemen created by Ancient Egyptians from snakes. But the last verse give their end, "The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the bullock: and dust shall be the serpent's meat. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain, saith the LORD" (Isa 65:25). Synonymous to the Moses demonstration of the rod turning into a snake, God will revert back these horsemen or upright snakes back to crawling on their bellies, they shall eat the dust. Also, in the Moses demonstration, unknown to what God was doing, he had Pharaoh also turn two rods to snakes, which also shows that despite the relocating, they are the ones who created the old and new obeast or all of them. What is saddening is that they didn't have to do it, they being overtly religious and overt hopefuls. God himself had Israel go there and populate it, real human beings – you don't have to create this. God made all the surrounding lands famine and all had to come to Egypt under Joseph, more people – you don't have to create this. But yet still; that's why it's saddening. Egypt, so intentionally and/or initially good it is blatantly bad; yet still a portion is left, in that all the saviors come from Egypt, Hosea 11:1. As for the west in the Americas, this verse in the Isaiah 65 encodings comes into play, "And Sharon shall be a fold of flocks, and the valley of Achor a place for the herds to lie down in, for my people that have sought me" (Isa 65:10). Sharon is a strip West of Jerusalem from the Mediterranean Sea leading to it; symbolic of the West here in the Americas (or the Eagle created domain), but also that when Christ returns in 1000 years reign, a highway to Jerusalem will be created from the Americas for the people to make their periodic oblation. So the passing over of the River Euphrates in the East for the 200 million-man army to get to Israel is also a mimicry of this by satan. So the West presently is an Oasis for all those that hope in God, especially the saints that enjoy a free non-governmental denominational interference. But the Egyptian hopefuls would seem to want to break that Oasis and bring the wrath of God with the obeast here, this part of Isa 65:10 comes into play, "valley of Achor." What does that signifies? "Trouble, a valley near Jericho, so called in consequence of the trouble which the sin of Achan caused Israel (Jos 7:24,26). The expression 'valley of Achor' probably became proverbial for that which caused trouble, and when Isaiah (Isa 65:10) refers to it he uses it in this sense: 'The valley of Achor, a place for herds to lie down in;' i.e., that which had been a source of calamity would become a source of blessing. Hosea also (Ho 2:15) uses the expression in the same sense: 'The valley of Achor for a door of hope;' i.e., trouble would be turned into joy, despair into hope" (Easton Bible Dictionary). It first surrounded the sin of Achan, Israel was progressing and increasingly seeing their hope being realized when this suddenly stopped and destruction started. No one could figure out why, as they went up to destroy Ai and fled. When Joshua enquired of the Lord the Lord said Israel, not one man, but Israel sinned in having the accursed thing; then they diligently searched and found that Achan had the accurse thing in his house, "But the children of Israel committed a trespass in the accursed thing: for Achan...took of the accursed thing" (Joshua 7:1). "And Joshua said, Why hast thou troubled us? the LORD shall trouble thee this day. And all Israel stoned him with stones, and burned them with fire, after they had stoned them with stones. And they raised over him a great heap of stones unto this day. So the LORD turned from the fierceness of his anger. Wherefore the name of that place was called, The valley of Achor, unto this day" (Joshua 7:25-26). The said thing should foster in the West today. You're not going to prosper or see your hope until you get the accurse thing from you. Similarly, the North can't go and cleanse the South of the men of Ai if they have and utilize Ai among them. Then and only then, the present valley of Achor will be "for a door of hope;" i.e., trouble would be turned into joy, despair into hope" (Easton Bible Dictionary). So, as for the west in the Americas, rid it completely from it, as it dissipate in the East and Epitomize with that 200 million man army being burnt by the fires from the sky by the Ark-Angel Michael coming with Christ to defend Jerusalem and set up his Kingdom. Also, though I mention China / India from prophecy teachers, the bible only says that an army is coming from the East of Jerusalem; armies can gather at one location from another and operate by land from there; not to mention the Arab nations who already have this in mind.

What is saddening is that the South are supposedly hopefuls, yet God spoke to me concerning things that they are doing, even going to hell and making leagues, what is that? What hope is that? Hence, a similitude or undertone in Isaiah 58? Who are you hoping to doing all these things, surely not me? Knowing and doing yet "Thou art wearied in the greatness of thy way; yet saidst THOU NOT, There is no hope!"

Again, some of this is circles and as advised, don't hang on circles. Also, since then they are other Disney lands around the globe that can further mask innocents; especially careful for Disney is responsible for many family oriented activities/films; though, like the orange county situation, can be allowed to and weave into things yet...and such be a ploy, as in the phrase "a front." Fritz in his book mentioned it being a major based for Mind Science exploits.

On this 2006, possible dawning of new beginnings for "the people among the people," on this Martin Luther King Day Celebration writing this; he would be 77 today. Writing this that hopefully all humans might be truly free - as decreed, to the end of Suckery. And we might finish the work he began, not the equality of the different color skin people, which is relatively achieved; but equality of Sons of God. That is, like his dream, another dream might be realized, that one day all fallen beings, having the ability to be redeemed by God, having changed their ways and stop persecuting their fellow fallen beings - as the whites did the blacks - that all fallen beings might be redeemed and be in fellowship with the other half of this fellowship in Heaven; in what the scriptures calls, "the general assembly and church of the firstborn" (Heb 12:23). So then the church, and the tried of us, is not only human beings of all color and 'races', but inherent 'Sons of God' of all beings in the Universe. One body, not under, but in God - who is blessed and only potentate forever, Amen!

* Asterisk denotes, Disney land in the encoding may only be referential to where the Xbox or obeast / suckerer farm is.

 Asterisks denote, orange county forefront named possibly for the sunshine state and/or orange citrus fruit.

 Asterisks denotes, Surprisingly, Martin Luther King is in the 1955 encodings, this I didn't know last year. That is, his civil rights work really began in 1955 to his death in 1968, and surprisingly, that is 13 years. It can't get any more obvious. One source noted this fact, "Within a span of 13 years from 1955 to his death in 1968 he was able to..." (liu.edu). But if you really want to be surprise, to end the segregation he had to deal with the racial injustice, as the abolitionists had to deal with the slavery issue before him. To end this segregation, we must deal with the suckry issue, fallen man is not inferior to other fallen beings and to be abused and milked. And again I can't help to see other encoding in his very name and initials; that is, MLK, the obvious reading of that would be MILK, the 'i' missing. It even more looks that way when I saw it like this on the website 'mlking' or milking. This suckry issue must be dealt with and stands in the way of the last wall of separation of all beings or "Sons of God." Slavery was ended, civil injustice and racial prejudice was slaughtered, the undetectable enslaving of the souls of men under suckry also needs to be annihilated. And to the people, those that assume hope, what are you hoping for if you exercise yourself in this; as said, "Thou art wearied in the greatness of thy way; yet saidst thou not, There is no hope."

You Leaders And Suckry

I had embed a file in one of the PDF's and made it available for reading on websites, called "Understanding Suckery." More so I had lamented on it in the Student Manifesto, calling these beings and leaders among them to be responsible or suffer the consequences of God's wrath against this great evil. In fact, the last lines of that brief mention of suckry in the Student Manifesto reads, "And the fallen ones ... bigger ones, should be responsible. As a suggestion or warning, be reminded of the invisible hand of God that still watches over humans, to whom he allowed you to have some dominance over (the great part has been taken away by Christ). One cry to God by a human can erode your existence (individually and otherwise), as was done to the first perpetrators (Jude 1:6) who became fallen angels in flesh. This might be the reason your existence as mortals remain an unknown mystery to man." Now, I was writing the intro for a website (YMU – Why Moo) that brings out more on suckery in a milder tone, which reads:

If the cows produce milk when about and after giving birth (or their biology is genetically tricked to do this given that fact), then this analogy follows. Human mothers produce milk for their babies, when the baby is old the body automatically stop producing milk. Does the body stop needing the nutriment milk provides? No, it means you must now start getting your own milk, your own nutriment from the food provided (plants and fish - originally). The milk we drink has lots of nutriment in it, like a type of growth hormone for the baby, so we drink it to so-called grow or for a healthy diet; when it was meant for the babies who can't eat as yet. Any excess milk (nutriment) in the mother would be redistributed in the body to sustain and strengthen her after the pregnancy - needed - that's why lately some human mothers drink their own baby's milk, in you already, don't need to do that.

The point is, cow's milk wasn't made for human consumption, just something we avaricious picked up, like eating meat. What we should do is follow God's way and find our own nutriment via the plants and foods he gave in the earth. The milk is for the mother (rudiments of the gift) and her baby (the gift). It should not be consumed (stolen - suckery) by you (fallen angels).

The correct system of things is that after our infancy we eat strong food with the nutriment needed to live and grow. For instance, they are some plants with more calcium than milk and a good milk alternative is soymilk from plants.

The wiser, older and superior intelligent thing to do is find such plants and agrarian dietary that is superior to milk, live off it and not on the milk that wasn't meant for your consumption. That superior plant or root is God, the root of everything. Hook up to him (especially by salvation) and get the superior juice and stop robbing the cows and leaving them deprived.

Concerning diet Pepsi, though lesser, people drink goat's milk and this probably represents fallen ones if they can be sucked by their peers; possibly only in diving.

Now the reason I say diet Pepsi is that I had also referred to suckery by Pepsi. Not the drink itself, which in and of itself possible have other things I want to expound on, but one advertisement I saw on it. That is, the play for a billion ad campaign. The setting: A few billionaires, old looking guys, were in a luxury room sharing their stories of how they made their first billion. Then a young guy, about 20 or so, was there drinking a Pepsi in the billionaires only club. One of the old guys turned to him and asked, "How did you make your first billion?" He replied, "Pepsi." The old guy exclaimed, "What! You invented Pepsi?" The youngster replied, "No, I just drank one." That is, referring to the play for a billion campaign with the prize under the cork. But this is typically what suckery is. These fat cat fallen angels amongst us men as men, didn't innovate and work to get what they mostly have, they just drank a human; as in sucked a person of their moments, inventions, success, ideas and very life before it comes to pass and adorn themselves with it, as their own. Having experienced it, I only thought this happened to saints for the gospel sake but learnt otherwise. For instance, with the ability to foresee, in 1970 they would see a human being born that would create a billion dollar company, they would dive into that line and completely take that person's ideas, ways of doing and even character. When that person is actually born in 1985, they somehow can't produce their potential, even though no human know of it and often times diverted to "menial" things or even end up on the streets or somewhere. Most divers can't see that far, years on end, some only a few days or weeks, etc. But the Masters of the line can see years on end and not only see years on end (diving) but capture that line (suckry) years on end; with that ability over their fellow counterparts they can create and have a monopoly on lines or suckry business – diving, sucking or milking, then selling people's line. The line is the person's everything or purpose; and your purpose is you and you are your purpose, so they are stealing your lives and selling it or exercise themselves in it. For instance, being a godly musician but when your time comes to be you can't even sing or play an instrument or even retarded; when the line is taken, apart of you is taken that is gone forever, so to speak. Hence, stealing the lives of men. Some have taken it further and enslave the physical man undetectably to produce lines, so humans are bred or controlled, somewhat invisible, to be sucked – suckry farmers. It's a bit hard to explain, so read the article, "Understanding Suckery" and the follow up article, "Understanding Suckery – With Examples." Also, read the pre-excerpt from a possible YMU text, that chapter entitled, "The theory of the line and possible clone."

Speaking of examples, the very thing I'm writing can be seen and attempted deflection; but also, mocked and possibly, not saying, but possibly why another Pepsi Ad was done that has this setting. A young girl drinks a Pepsi in the play for a billion or download a million songs from iTunes ad campaign, at the end of the ad she drank the Pepsi and says, "There is nothing anyone can do about it." In the ad she's referring to the music downloads, but indirectly referring to this. This undertone in the obvious is the language of the underground society of the people among the people – cannot be seen or read by humans.

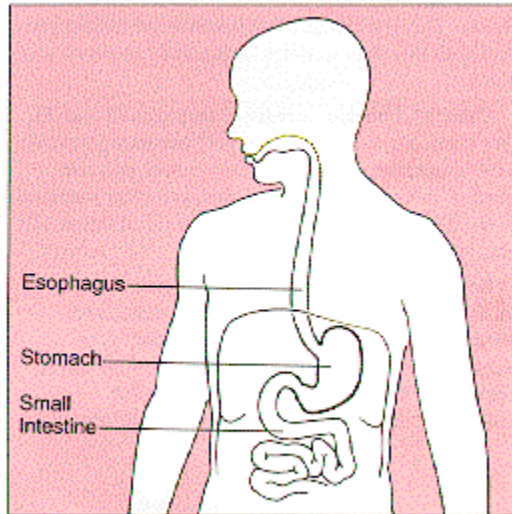

Though using the analogy of the Pepsi to explain suckry, the Pepsi, Coco-cola, Dr. Pepper (notice the name) and other beverages we drink was POSSIBLY created by eagles to combat the obeast epidemic; the original formulas, and not the now water down forms, under the guise of diet, fat-free or added flavor. Again, they seeing that such was written then went ahead and began watering them down or remove the potency or ingredients used to combat it to sustain their horsemen civilization or planned epidemic. Notice this article I found and read late 2005, "Soda before bedtime linked to nighttime reflux...Recent research links the consumption of carbonated beverages to a higher risk of nighttime acid reflux...heartburn, which occurs when acidic digestive juices from the stomach flow back up into the esophagus, causing irritation and pain" (L. Carroll, MSNBC, <http://acidreflux.msn.com/article.aspx?aid=61>1=7338>).

Because someone created a drink that stirs the acid in the stomach more than normal and upwards to kill any lodging obeasts or eggs, to deal with the problem. But as said in a book God lead me to write, Fasting and Prayer, this somewhat solution would be written about and they seeing it constitute the opposite as scientific fact to curtail the solution and preserve their obeast flock. Notice this in the same article also, "'When we looked at all the potential factors associated with reflux during sleep, we found that soda was a very, very strong predictor of having heartburn during the night,' says the study's lead author, Dr. Ronnie Fass, a professor of medicine at the University of Arizona and a gastroenterologist with the Southern Arizona V.A. Health Care System, both in Tucson." However, this is hard to grasp as it mostly reside in the undertones of the underground society of the people among the people.

The esophagus is a pipe from the mouth to the stomach, assumingly, the obeast enters from the mouth avoids going down in the acidic stomach, feeds off the constant incoming food, big enough then crawls (grows) back up to the head and take over. Assumingly I say because I know little of it, only the fallen ones know most of it and there seems to a spinal path as well; but the main would be the mouth entrance as the book of Job signifies. This is not the intelligence, for sea turtles break from the sand and head back to the ocean, and salmon back up stream; the intelligence is taking over the human faculties from the operation room - brain - as signified in the Egyptian pictures of the snake on the head. Here's the esophagus path:

As said, slightly mentioned in the book, Fasting and Prayer, these foreseers see the exploits of exposing the obeast epidemic and solutions and made the cures, solution or expository null and void by scientific facts and modern medicines. Saying things like Ulcers is caused by fasting because fasting is a prime weapon in the fight against the obeast, releasing the gall of asps throughout the body. But notice this picture of an ulcer, bearing in mind what was learnt of the obeast in this section on the sodas:

As said, "An ulcer (from Latin ulcus) is an open sore... often caused by an initial abrasion and generally maintained by an inflammation and/or an infection" (Wikipedia). Now the main ulcer is of the stomach or esophagus. Now what does this looks like to you? A boring / enflaming in the membrane. What would cause this is in the esophagus is the lodging of the obeast. Having lodged there and grew from an egg or infant would swell under the membrane or bore into it heading for the brain and downward, as seen in this picture. What would prevent this even from occurring in the first place would be the soda (or other stimuli) that stirs the acidic juice to move upward; and while lying down at nights flow up to the mouth in a heart burn with that bitterly taste in your mouth. Hence killing the egg or infant before it can grow or swell and/or bore the membrane. On the other hand, what the soda might do is that, if a non-drinking soda person start drinking soda after this already occurred it might inflame it further (a supposition), as said in the definition, "maintained by an inflammation." So the best method is fasting and prayers, where no food or external stimuli is passing over it where it can rest and self heal while the secretion from the gall is cleansing all the body. Some of this is experiential; whereby one night while lying down I felt one lodge in my throat and possible boring it, as I often did, I tried to suck it up to spit it out but it held on tight and I couldn't. I then got up and drank some strong wine (which had sulfur in it), it released (making a sweekey sound), I then sucked it up and spat it out in a container I had with some household detergents. This is hard to find out for it would look and most often masked under many medical sickness – sinus problems, cancers, tumors, tapeworms and many others. Actually, before learning most of this by experience, though having the prangs thereof, I was at a park which had a lake and I picked up one of the clam like shell creatures; the ones that open flat like a book. So I was curious and wanted to see what was inside that makes this creature crawls from the lakebed upward to dry land and opens. Just wanting to open the shell. So with one go at it, thinking it would open with the little opening I'd create with my fingernail, was surprise it didn't. I tried several times till much later it broke open and seem to die from it. I was startled, me this 200 pound individual up against less than 2 pound mollusk; it pulling in to close and I pulling out to open and it even being a contender, much more motion suspended at less than quarter opened shell as I couldn't overcome it and it couldn't overcome me. It was later this hit home to me concerning the obeast, though this tiny with even intelligence, can easily take over the body by killing the individual, even by choking; and though bigger we would be defenseless. What also jumped out at me when I open it was it features. It has this strength and behaviorism, yet has no eyes or hands and it simply looks like "mucus" from the nose. If I saw it on the bench without the shell I would think someone sneezed some cold there. Saying that to say in its infant form or possible that's how it looks in the body, it can be mistaken for many things; and after many years of cover up, it become mainstream to diagnose instances of it caught as some mainstream illnesses. Actually, I'm just making this addition today Feb 13, 2006 having release the Real WMD 2 earlier this year. I lamented to the Lord about, 'yes I know of Jer 8:21 but this thing is a pain and nuisance,' and was consoled with Jer. 10:19, "Woe is me for my hurt! my wound is grievous: but I said, Truly this is a grief, and I must bear it." Then he expounded in personal encoded mode on tenets of the creature. First, I was dosing myself with small intakes of rum for the mucus thingy that keeps prevents me from eating intelligently, etc; it had gotten worse. Then he surprise me with more personal encoded (not contextual but personal touch based speaking to me) on it in what I was doing, "yea, they have taken root: they grow, yea, they bring forth fruit: thou art near in their mouth, and far from their reins." He was saying, they have already grown (ing) and having young ones, probably what is in the mouth coming up. But to the liquor, saying, it is near in my mouth but the core or substance of it is far from my mouth; so I guess liquor and other traditional liquid intakes were mostly preventives. I pondered what! And especially that such a thing can kill. Then after some more personal, explained in the next chapter of where and why not to be afraid. He told Jeremiah to put on a girdle then take it off showing to Israel what will be done to them, but he used it to personally encodly speak to me – 3 Dimensional reading of the word, the best of us can only read it two dimensionally. That is, this is where the core of it is, it only grows tentacles to the brain and webs the body; probably as what we call cellulite, that's why it is related to obesity and why I had related in Real WMD 1 of that abnormal bulge in the lower abdomen of obese people. Then he says, as Jeremiah took off the girdled, that is how easy it is for him to remove it from us if we believe. I had also forgotten one of the first verses given before this started, that is, of Moses, God told him to put his hands in his coat and it became leprous, then back in and it was whole (Ex 4:5-6) – don't fear, this is God, trust him; this also given after the rod to snake vice versa demonstration and hence was dealing with that same issue. I guess someone knowing of the loins location (red or blue, suckry or from heaven), popularize the gastric bypass surgery and the government picked up on it and made it subsidized for obese people; but still only the fortunate can afford it. I said this to tie it in with instances of it caught, passed as other diseases, covered up or otherwise cause major illnesses. That is, the scriptures had said, "he that eateth of their eggs dieth, and that which is crushed breaketh out into a viper" (Isa. 59:5). So I said, anyone that eats their eggs immediately dies, not seeing the folly of this. That is, when it break out into the body it grows down first around the waist and wraps around like a girdled, from there or simultaneously grows tentacles to the brain – the operation room – then take over, whala you have a horseman. It grows like a tree and has it's roots in the loins; much like how you have the brain in the head but connects to every nerve in the body. I guess being there it's at the food sources or can extract from any part of the body, hard to tell. This may take how long, days, weeks, months, years, if not interrupted? I don't know, but it doesn't happen instantaneously, so when growing and webbing the body it causes major sickness we associate with – cancer, tumors and many others. Another personal encoded verse in Jeremiah says, “My tabernacle is spoiled, and all my cords are broken” (Jer 10:20); which simply means while it grows, it disrupts the systems and placement but yet integrated to work, even with it. And there are different types, so growth might depends. I had said in another writing that it is as common as the common cold, and probably affiliated with it or even flu. Mostly, probably, when it gets cold people have these and I guess disrupts it and manifest in these. I don’t know how much cold affects it, for obese people are all over America. I looked at other animals to guess, but still a guess. That is, some snails, in some regions, when it gets cold hibernate; stop functioning (growing up or down) until warmer times. However, the snail is not dead, but if in hibernation over 3 years die. This I know, God’s angels (blues/reds) have been working and the mere fact the medical symbol (snake on pole and the more recent one two snakes up a pole, showing the two) resonate this means they have affirmed it is the cause of most diseases. Some sea turtles reach the water, some don’t; some get eaten, disrupted by chemicals, etc. Concerning the girdle, many people have per say, cancer in one area then have it cut out, only to find that they need to go to the doctor again for another cancer somewhere else. This can go on until death. What is identified is the core brain area and if that be cut out, if it can, then the cancer wouldn’t pop up other places. But as long as that is there it is going to continue to web the body and silently takeover, unknown to that person’s family and friends that he or she is different. This is synonymous to a process my father went through. He was growing cataract and went to a doctor that scrapes the eye in surgery 4 times over a period. So he went to another doctor who did surgery on it once and it never grew again, even until now. I guess the best method is prevention (cook your own food thoroughly, eat bitter herbs, fast weekly, pray, etc) as against treating an infection. Also, a good place to start is to stop the breeders and fallen angel progenitors. Quite possibly, depending on the type, when it grows it cause disruptions that amounts to pain or irregularity. Normally persons would quickly go to the doctor upon such and then the doctor diagnose a major illness like cancer, then says you have such a time to live; hence anyone that eat of their eggs die, whether as intended or like this. An exception is what we call early detection, if that be so, seen earlier with the cataract example. Others who can’t afford doctors would go on with their symptoms until becoming a horseman, normally passing it as life’s pains – like stomach bloating, sinus, etc. The reality of it is that people like me or most homeless persons, we call “mad people,” would fit this category and have such ongoing at present; even worse, as seen with me as told by the Lord, if I’m not an exception, they can bear fruit, and hence spread the more on their own. From that this can become even worse and spread to all animals. I remember walking home several times and stopping by a lake and unconsciously spitting this substance in the water while watching fishes for leisure and they eating it like its food. Not knowing if they could be infected, mutated and even carry it to get to other persons. Surprisingly from the same Jeremiah 12 personal encodings this seems to be related, “How long shall the land mourn, and the herbs of every field wither, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein? the beasts are consumed, and the birds; because they said, He shall not see our last end” (Jer 12:4). Probably as a means of control, their progenitors would make them all sterile, somehow, but failed as what happened in Jurassic Park 2 and said, “life always find a way.” Or, even more clearly, the movie Decoy, probably from the underground society. But not wanting often to use secular visual fillers, lets jump to the bible in personal encoded form, it would be similar to Aaron’s rod that only budded and bear fruit; the rod used previously as the epitome of the snake (obeast form) being upright again, from the Rod to Snake demonstration with Moses. While reviewing this, having just added my new discovery to me about the obeast central core location with the

Jeremiah demonstration given of the girdle, I recalled I had seen hemlock in the definitions about wormwood. That is, there was actually a plant used for the cure called hemlock, again reiterating this central location. Easton; as in hem, loins, locked about it. bible dictionary records, "In Am 6:12 this Hebrew word is rendered 'hemlock' (R.V., 'wormwood'). In Hoshea 10:4 the Hebrew word is rendered 'hemlock.' Rendered 'gall' in De 29:18; 32:32; Ps 69:21; Jer 9:15; 23:15; 'poison,' Job 20:16; 'venom,' De 32:33." And Amos 6:12 has a possible tie in with horsemen and the word hemlock itself, "Shall horses [MEN] run upon the rock? will one plow there with oxen [NOT RIDDEN, BULLS, OR ORDINARY HUMANS]? for ye have turned judgment into gall, and the fruit of righteousness into hemlock." Mentioning the bitter plant used as cure with referential to the hem or loins or abdomen area where the core/operation lies; but also more encoded prophecy on the cleaning needed here in this rock, if we must continue, for though the south make them, some here employ them - which in a sense equate the evil! This seems circles of the newfound loins area to me. That is, things with the seemingly treatments have tenets of this location in it. Like, not ordinary beer, but root beer - goes to the root; though root here probably comes from the fact that it was brewed with a root, etc. Or teabag, the bags down in the mug with the string to the top and the brand I'm drinking (black) is called Lipton. From the Lip to the root is still a viable option of treatment in this latter stage of its development. But I guess that has to be figured out how to do as well, for I guess these traditional mouth intakes were for early stages or eggs. It seems a quick applicable treatment is needed in all stages and a mouth intake is still the most viable - because of its reach ability as against gastric bypass surgery, and even in the mouth-intake-reach some worldwide wouldn't be able to get access, as it would still be for sale.

Just to expose the Underground Society a little but not wanting to do so with this for I denounce it (that is, TV media as written in another piece), but the blues and hopefuls do things, as well as suckry often have elements of the suckeree in it. By virtue of all angels ability to foresee, most things doing now would have been foreseen years ahead and so earthly life now follows this pattern especially with the suckry epidemic, so the exploits and counteractions thereof can surround what they foresee of a person's exploits - that's the basics of suckery or abilities of angels - God, his angels and hopefuls can do the same on the other hand; and in this case, as said in the first Real WMD article, it would seem they rend the term around me, as in obeast from obese, the latter being the undertone of the underground society masked under the fat epidemic. Ahhh, said all that to speak of the film "Star Gate: SG1." Whereby their main exploits are interaction with the obeast, obeast civilization and a team member of there's is a horseman, the black guy with the snake symbol. I think they call it "gua-ool" and "cymbi-oak." But the chief commander behind the expedition is name colonel Oneil or Neil. Either the same blues who coined the term obese as a follow up to why, yet it is not yet is by virtue of foresight; or suckry decoded. In that, if God gives me grace to learn of and expound on it, even in things the inventors know not of, like the Moses rod Pharaoh demonstration, then my findings could be seen as well, before me knowing of or even before I was born and some can begin to exercise in the knowledge thereof. Also, the film can give some details, possibly only typifications, on the obeast itself; especially that it is more than a little mucus membrane or tiny animal, but capabilities to take over a human without the friends and family of the person knowing that the person is different and hence, can take over a nation. Let us pray to the God we trust. Better than the movie Star Gate: SG1 is Acts 28:1, "And when they were escaped, then they knew that the island was called Melita...And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastened on his hand. And when the barbarians saw the venomous beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to live. And he shook off the beast into the fire, and felt no harm. Howbeit they looked when he should have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no harm come to him" (Acts 28:1-5). God using this personally to console me, who from an Island, even though while there (a possible heaven of such) and after, afflicted with such obeast attacks survived by his grace and you can too (another personal encoded is in Amos 5).

This last part is not counteracting myself in denouncing suckry, for it is not, just balancing it in light of former lashing out. Not that any part of it is now legal or profitable but just noting the abilities of the beings involved and giving grounds of the foresight of God's angels. Also, in the Job 20 encoding, it says the heavens shall reveal this iniquity and hence, we are doing it together.

Obeast In The Loins Area Reaffirmed

"For my loins are filled with a loathsome disease: and there is no soundness in my flesh" (Ps 38:7).

I looked at this verse and thought this fit the description perfectly of the obeast base being in the loins. Then I realized that the word disease was italicized, meaning it was put there by the translators. But the verse still mentioned that David had a disease in his loins and there is no soundness in all his flesh. So I looked at it with the Strong's number or the actual sentence with the Hebrew words. I noticed that loathsome wasn't an ordinary adjective placed there but had the Hebrew word kaw-law (qalah) or 7033. This means, to toast, i.e. scorch partially or slowly; "identify with 7034 through the idea of shrinkage by heat" - 7034 meaning, base, contempt, despise, lightly esteem, etc. In other words, this is the area of operation or based of the obeast, yet it is lightly esteemed to be, because of the intelligence of the creature, which functions the body from the brain. Destroy the brain webbings, if one can, and it grows back. When I looked up loathsome in my old 1996 oxford dictionary, nine definitions down, under lobbyist, I saw the word lobotomy. I then recalled a documentary or an article I read in people magazine on lobotomies done in the pass. While I was viewing that it had jumped out to me that they were probably dealing with the obeast in the brain; which might be. Because lobotomy means, "incision into frontal lobe of brain to relieve mental disorder." It wasn't a mental disorder they were dealing with, but the obeast that cause the mental disorder that took over the individual. If I recall correctly, in that material, they were patients who had to do several lobotomy over the years - when I saw that I thought AHHH! Just one alone is terrifying, putting a knife like instrument into the brain. However, they may have known of the creature and it's exploits but not this core area. Things can be before us, yet not known to us. Can't help but employ the circles, though shouldn't be banked on. For instance, lobotomy from lobe, however, the circles was speaking to them in the word lobotomy - its residence is not there but in the Low Bottom, the lower parts of man - Loins. Kind of unscholarly but it computes in this thesis. Ironically, an 'L' named plant was before the word lobotomy; in the circles, saying, use a natural intake cure than pushing metal instruments in the brain. However, from the Hebrew word Kaw-Law, it did suggest something like a gastric by-pass surgery; that is, "shrinkage by heat," but...

However, dismantling the brain tentacles can give time to do the same in the "low bottom;" even so, more time to escape and even to think straight (Deborah Song). After fully mapping the brain, life is gone. So though they that eat of their eggs die, it is not necessarily suddenly. This was mentioned in Psalms 38 as well, and give explanation to the things I was feeling, no soundness in flesh, eyes going at age 25 (not cataract heredity), nerves out of order, etc. It was the process of taking over the body; I guess lastly goes the eyes. That was terrifying the other night with the right eye uncontrollably opening and shutting and lights and at one point binoculed to see the roof (pop corn ceiling) close up, like right before me, then done, ignored, went back to sleep, wake up, forgot it, but symptoms/instances still occur. Yeh, that sentence is whacked but get the feeling of it. The verses in Psalms 38 of this process read;

"For my loins are filled with a loathsome disease: and there is no soundness in my flesh. I am feeble and sore broken: I have roared by reason of the disquietness of my heart. Lord, all my desire is before thee; and my groaning is not hid from thee. My heart panteth, my strength faileth me: as for the light of mine eyes, it also is gone from me (Psalms 38:7-10).

Personally encoded; though this might be the main cause of these problems individually, other personal elements and wickedness factor in as well that cannot be mentioned here, by my enemies.

Spider's Web

Just reading the dual prophetic of Isaiah 59:5 shows that they who made them, created a back up to kill them, at least the individual ones that get out of line. It reads, "They hatch cockatrice' eggs, and weave the spider's web: he that eateth of their eggs dieth, and that which is crushed breaketh out into a viper." So they made two things, weaved spider's web and made the obeasts. I had two thoughts, one, they made something like a nest from spider's web to spread the agenda - having pondered something on another level, another mock at me, *Nestle Quick. So like us making drinks in cures, "they" would make a drinkable substance to nestle the creature in the esophagus, etc, for hatching. It ties in with another point, I learnt, for one fear of the angels in America was me exposing their hidden cures for the nation, like the common soda. However, the Lord told me of their hissing (Jer 13:12), after notifying congress, and expound that from ever since, each hidden cure had a counteraction, but it is such a time for this to come to the light. It was noted that as way back as ancient days they were counteractions, so hidden doesn't make the fight more victorious in this case, for we are dealing with beings that can far see. For instance, I had noted of the tradition to fast when someone is dead so as to release the gall of asp to prevent infection from the disease. A counter action tradition was the opposite, that is, "Both the great and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them: Neither shall men tear themselves for them in mourning, to comfort them for the dead" (Jer 16:6-7). In other words, a tradition that crept into Israel was to cut themselves, eat and shave their heads upon someone's death. Easton Bible Dictionary noted, "With the Jews artificial baldness was a sign of mourning (Isa 22:12; Jer 7:29; 16:6)." So what this cutting in the flesh, eating and baldness does is more open up themselves to be obeasted, from it and its possible offspring leaving the dead. This was opposite to the tradition set down of fasting upon death to prevent such. This was not only opposite to tradition but also God's law; "The Jews were forbidden to follow the customs of surrounding nations in making themselves bald [heads, eyes, cuttings in flesh] (Due 14:1)." So there is often a counteraction, but only obedience to God prevented this. For the people to be obedient, under a democracy, they must know of such to avoid such and/or consume other such. Under a theocracy, they would follow God blindly, but here they didn't, how much more now they wouldn't follow what is said to do blindly, even more with ignorance of it. Another point for their probable hissing is from the encoding of Amos 6:12, they probably employing such. This would be disastrous if they bear arms in the military or local police, I guess they often can be controlled if sold this way (like a computer) and their rebellion, touched on later down, was because of the long absence of their progenitors and it was left on autopilot; so to speak. So this definitely needs to be cleanse and dealt with and it shouldn't have gotten this way in the first place!

This is gone from the point at hand, of weaving the spider's web. That was one point, but I more lean to the second point of why they weave the spider's web, that is, as an individual cure for termination of disobedient horsemen. One author noted, "Satan's Web is a piece of fine silky material about two by three inches in size. It is swallowed in a ritual. The web is placed as sort of a time bomb which goes off if the person ever turns against Satan. It produces an intense acid in the stomach and will eventually destroy the stomach completely. It produces all sorts of severe stomach pain and even bleeding, but little is found on physical examination because the process is purely demonic" (Dr. Brown, Becoming A Vessel Of Honor In The Master's Service). And rightly so, the last part that is. Notice that horsemen are possible witches, warlocks, vampires, etc., employed for wicked. Not only having limitless tenancies in the flesh like angels, but further empowered with magic – AHHH! Upon pondering if this is so I found another encoded prophetic verse in the book of Job that made this spider's web cure a reality. Job 8:14 reads, "Whose hope shall be cut off, and whose trust shall be a spider's web." So they made something from spider's web in attempt to control the population of horsemen, but it got out of control, as the A.I.'s in the movie matrix did, especially with beings like satan waiting to further a cause to waste. So this cure proved futile on that level. One would think of mass production, if possible, and even employing this demonic invention. But I guess it should be avoided as in the statement that says, "fool me once, shame on me if you fool me twice." They created this plague and anything from them will have those same tenets in it. Moreover, they will be tempted to try the same thing, having controlled it. I guess this is reason for the plague overtaking them in the like manner, said to me several times over. And why the previous verse read, "So are the paths of all that forget God; and the hypocrite's hope [Spider's web] shall perish" (:13). The verse before that (:12) seems to suggest a plant cure. Surprisingly, the rest of Job 8:14-22 seems to have encoded prophetic knowledge of the obeast itself, like Job 20. Which reads:

:He shall lean upon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall hold it fast, but it shall not endure. (Job 8:15):

Those who made them and have them as proxy bodies in other flesh, when destroyed here and go back to the strong hold of them or place of creation (south), the proxy flesh of horsemen or their wheels shall reject them within their flesh. This encodly speak of that horsemen rebellion, "Yet he [Horsemen] also is wise, and will bring evil, and will not call back his words: but will arise against the house of the evildoers, and against the help of them that work iniquity" (Isa 31:2).

:"He" is green before the sun, and his branch shooteth forth in his garden. (Job 8:16):

He has many horsemen proxy flesh; for instance, one fallen angel can be all the same men in the band U2. That is, he would use the obeast to wrap and take over a man and the obeast would keep the flesh going and take orders, following a script, but "He" possess and use that flesh when needed, probably simultaneously; especially if a flesh he is in died. Now imagine that concept, say, on all members of congress. It can be a problem, or is a problem. The sad part is, the 'he' here is said to be a hopeful.

:His roots are wrapped about the heap, and seeth the place of stones. (Job 8:17):

That is, the obeast roots or place of operation, loins, shall wrap around a man's heap or dodo; I guess that's why it has its roots in the loins. It shall also see the place of stones, probably in such a time of this age expository or align themselves around it in ignorance or be able to get to it. I didn't want to touch on this, at least not for some time to come, especially that I had lamented on gall stones creation. Well, let me give a brief of my little gathered, in the resurrection we will receive new stones with our names on it (Rev 2:17). A new stone suggests we had an old one. Why, where and what happened to it? The stones being purposely cut out by excuse of gall bladder disease, like a stone can grow by cholesterol in acid; we would have to be born with it (like a spirit is placed in body at conception), somewhere between the neck and loins. I don't really want to lament on it, for it would seem foolish and devalue the credence of this hard to understand thesis thus far. But that new stone we saints will receive is central to our beings as humans, even protection and probably tie in with our souls. Having it can be the key to having someone's lines and probably removed from ordinary infants born in hospitals; those who escape this infant removal were born elsewhere, probably underground. However, pertaining to this encodly, but I don't know how, "he caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them: he clave the rock also, and the waters gushed out" (Isa 48:21). "And Moses lifted up his hand, and with his rod he smote the rock twice: and the water came out abundantly, and the congregation drank...This is the water of Meribah " (Num 20:10-13). It seems this rock in us is tied to it, probably by fasting, though seems fanciful.

:If he destroy him from his place, then it shall deny him, saying, I have not seen thee. (Job 8:18):

When he goes back to obeast Mecca to destroy them, this now gone out of proportion, they shall deny him, saying, we have not seen thee, we have taken over.

:Behold, this is the joy of his way, and out of the earth shall others grow. (Job 8:19):

Other Meccas shall spring up, as well as other snake charmers. Also, they had employed something that is most detestable to think, which these horsemen now in control shall employ. Prophetic Encodly said to me here, "Their widows are increased to me above the sand of the seas: I have brought upon them against the mother of the young men a spoiler at noonday: I have caused him to fall upon it suddenly, and terrors upon the city" (Jer 15:8). That is, the women remain alive while the men are obeasted, died, hence the mothers become widow; yet have a husband by their side. But the women are not obeasted so they can breed or bring more humans to be obeasted. THAT IS A GREAT EVIL!!!!!! "She that hath borne seven languisheth: she hath given up the ghost...the residue of them will I deliver to the sword before their enemies, saith the LORD" (Jer 15:9). So this spoilers shall kill the mother and waste the rest; startling is if this area is a tourist destination, hence unknown fresh meat.

:Behold, God will not cast away a perfect man, neither will he help the evil doers: (Job 8:20-22):

God will help the victims here with captivity, but the Mecca be wasted for constantly doing and stopping, then doing and stopping again and God is "weary with repenting" (Jer 15:6); for the obvious reasons and doing these thing years, centuries and millennium over (Jer 4:22-27).

* Asterisk Denotes, "The earliest bars of chocolate were made of bittersweet chocolate. Milk chocolate was first introduced in 1875 when Henry Nestle, a maker of evaporated milk and Daniel Peter, a chocolate maker, got together and invented milk chocolate, which today is preferred by 80% of the world's population" (walking with Jesus Ministries, wwj.org.nz).

The Terminally ILL

One last thing on the obeast I want to mention. In the abortion essay, I had lamented on the Terri Scivo case or letting the terminally ill live out their tenure until death, perhaps they might recover. I had tied it in with abortion. But just to put another variable in that, the obeast, they can be invested and "miraculously" recovered; when in fact, the creature took them over, operating as them. What to do and when to pull the plug? This is really a tough one given what I had said previously. However, the first obstacle is that if the doctors are ignorant of it then this can't even be tackled in the first place; because only in identifying that such is the case can the doctor at the bedside make that decision. So first, medical research and education in it to all present doctors and med students; it is already available and known to an extent, but too terrible to let the public know, so the blues also allow it to be covered up and work in the background. But such a time as now is needed. More than likely a machine that can screen such terminally ill patients to know whether they are about to be taken and fix it, or is in finishing stages and need to be terminated; yet even then God can. No wonder it is dealt with silently. As for the now, the cures given for the infections can be given or even dilated into the blood of patients (the drip) to prevent such. Similar to how crucified persons were given gall to drink or the piercing of the side. The same "sentiment" can be applied to dead bodies at the morgue. But wait, what about millions who go missing never to be found again; the problem is more than meet the eyes!

The ICI Doubted

The four mentioned in the last article and more clearly expounded upon in the ICI document or Internet Concealed Intentions is not the real issue. The issue is the agenda, people can be moved, call peace or be enlightened, but the agenda still go on with even other persons. The agenda is what must be nipped in the butt. The agenda was clearly outlined in the accompanying ICI document, yet still since that time the governmental departments have approved the chipping of individuals. One source states, not sure of the authenticity someone walked up and gave it to me, "The US Food and Drug Administration has approved an implantable identification microchip' as a means of accessing patients' medical records, reports the Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA). The manufacturers recommend that the chip, comparable in size to a grain of rice, be inserted under the patient's skin in the triceps area. By passing a scanner over the implantation site, medical personnel can read its identification number. This is then used to access information previously stored in a database by way of a secure Internet connection...it 'could also be used for security, financial, and personal identification applications'" (Awake, Nov 8, 2005). The Microchip placed under the skin is the closest epitome of the ICI Agenda, wherewith not only are all computers networked and will control our every lives, we are networked with it being a computer also by virtue of the microprocessor in us, or chip. Also, knowing that the chip has been in used by satanists, suckerer farmers of the south and all evil for years; admittedly. Yet we see it fit to play the whore with this agenda and can't say no. It would be like saying literal (gun to the head) murder is now legal after much lobbying in Washington by the pro-murder groups. Where will the lines be drawn and lobbying be sided stepped for good sense, fear of God and survival of the republic. Anybody can go to Washington and after much years of lobbying get what they want. Lobbying shouldn't determine what is allowed or not, that's ludicrous; especially given the abilities of the beings involved who can live in successive lives years on end. The said thing goes for polling. Polling can be good or bad, but most often it takes genuine leaders to make the right decisions regardless of the public referendums; Judeo-Christian God fearing leaders, that is. Reason being, people will want the bad, but good leaders will make the right decisions. Example, if you take a poll of all children in the USA, on if they want sweets for breakfast, lunch and dinner, the poll would show 99 to 100 % for the cause. Are you going to give it to them. No. Another example poll would show that most unchristian men would want porn sex on public T.V., are we going to allow it? Poll is sometimes futile! (Written while discussing polls in a Public Speaking class Summer 2005).

It would seem the government is not listening, even though "we the people" have RIGHTLY spoken as against these lobbyists and pollsters who are drenched in nepotism; but moreover logics and good sense have been given – the ICI and Real WMD documents - which I also advise you to read a document called “Modern Technology” by me as well, www.threeq.com/pdf/technology.pdf or <http://tracks4u2.0catch.com>. I don't know what else to do to convince you that the current trends of technology weaving is bad and will subvert your souls to New Age slavery and create a handle for a dictator to wheel. Look at the following typical real life web:

What is so particular about this web, except it's often referential to the Internet as in World Wide Web? Do you see a spider? This is how most natural webs are, go outside and look around. You won't see a spider until something is entangled in the web. So those of you who say the Internet and World Wide Web is fine, if problems arise we'll fix them, take a look at this web again – all is fine and actually a beautiful sight, especially with rain water on it. But where is the spider who laid the web trap or who will eat the entangled? Nowhere, not to be found, out of sight, until...be obliged to carry that same sentiment to the Internet and worldwide web and your increasing dependence on it. I rest my case and I wash my hands!!!

Egypt – So Intentionally Good It Is Blatantly Bad

“When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called my son out of Egypt” - Hosea 11:1

This verse is so encoded it is not funny. Hoshea means savior or salvation. But notice what Hoshea 11:1 states and how it is written, it has encoding in it. It said that God called his son out of Egypt. But we see in the New Testament that this spoke of Christ. “When he arose, he took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt: And was there until the death of Herod: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, Out of Egypt have I called my son.” So the savior came out of Egypt, that is Christ the savior, not born there but that it should be said or fulfill prophecy that he came out of Egypt – Hoshea means savior, so the savior came out of Egypt. However, he was not the only savior that came out of Egypt, for Moses more came out of Egypt. Then the verse that says it is Hoshea 11:1 or 1+1+1 saviors came out of Egypt. But Israel had many saviors? This would speak of dispensational saviors, which they are two and possibly one pending. Jews, humanity and _____.

It is only later in 2005 I realized that where I came from can be considered Egypt, wherewith a place can be called Egypt as this verse typified – “which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt” (Rev 11:8); as present America is spiritually called, “The great whore called BABYLON.” But where I come from is called Egypt because the spirit rulers of Egypt run the place – that is, Middle America to the South of America, Islands, etc; to the point that the boss might be RA himself, as hinted in other encodings (Isa 63:1). To the point that what they did in Egypt in creating the obeast, they did there in creating a second stronger obeast. Wherewith the scripture could have said to me in encoded form, “The burden of the beasts of the south: into the land of trouble and anguish, from whence come the young [OTHNIEL 1 - first] and old lion [... 2 - last], the viper [OBEAST 1] and fiery flying serpent [OBEAST 2]” (Isa 30:6). Fortunately, their second obeast was known by Christ and mirrored in the first miracle Moses did. That is, Moses made his rod turn a snake. Then Pharaoh, not knowing what God intends to say, challenged him and made two rods turn snakes. Then Moses snake eat up the two. The Obeast is often referred to as a snake, made from it and would seem that they with the inventors of it are trying to override their first curse of the snake to walk on it's belly. So it would be upright again, in a man, as a man. That's why you see in the Egyptian pictograph, Egyptians holding a snake upright in several rows beside them and why the snake symbol is on the head – horse men – called so for they are riding a man as a jockey a horse, most often dead and so took over their body. So what Moses did was throw down his rod to signify God saying I'm going to make those horsemen (upright snakes) snakes again, walking on their bellies. But the two was brought into play to show the two that would arise.

Now, in the article Real Weapons Of Mass Destruction, I mention an upgrade to the obeast since Egypt – Nano docs. I wasn't saying this is a second obeast or the second obeast, but an evolution of the biological obeast ideology, which can create the same problem. At the time, I hadn't known there was a second type obeast, I hadn't gotten the personal encoded prophecy of Isaiah 30. Even further, like the supposed beginnings of the Nano docs, though completely different, the creation thereof could begin in innocents; though evil can't help but to be seen, just trying to give the benefit of the doubt because the creators (or chief handlers) thereof are supposedly of the hopefuls; their civilization and existence being a possible treasure in REAL darkness.

The Two Obeasts: Sycomore/Fig Tree

More bible encodings on the two obeasts are in some Sycomore or Fig tree sightings. I had said this in a hidden/private post I did entitled Joppa,

....weave an obeast around...but in the process can somewhat be tamed or be used to pseudo-possess, because it would not be possessing [him] but possessing the creature that is wrapped about him (weeds around the head) and have access to his being. This is hard to see so was explained to me in encoded form in Zacchaeus, as staffs were made from trees; staffs from the analogy of the snake to staff demonstration of Moses. So what encoded Zacchaeus (Uzziah) did was to climb in the "sycomore-tree to see Jesus as he passed by (Lu 19:4);" reason being, though fallen ones can see, they really can't in certain things. In terms of Othniel work, they know the tenets but not all of it. So to see it they would have to get it from God, since they can't do that, they made a tree in [him] and climb up in it to listen when God speaks to [him]; that is, in an obeast.

While the creature is wrapped he would have also gotten the pattern to use...So the first obeast can wrap and be like a canopy temporarily [while the person is still alive or conscious]. But in the Jonah encoding the second obeast was brought out, the worm. It seems the second obeast is less taming and once entering a man not waiting or stalling but take over and more brutally; like a zombie transformation, as against a werewolf transformation. The latter immediately forcefully taking over the body, whilst the former wait until death, though they would probably cause that death. So the first is the gourd, plant like, but the second is the worm, animal like, "God prepared a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd that it withered" (Jonah 4:7)...The first probably can be removed before takeover by their progenitors, probably because of it's controlled delay but the worm immediately fills up and take over. So the gourd probably can be destroyed in this stage, as the bible dictionary alludes of the Literal sycamore tree, "This tree was easily destroyed by frost (Ps 78:47)" [though frost could be referential to the worm].

The bible dictionary gives this definition of sycamore tree used in the analogy of the obeast above, Sycamore: more properly sycomore (Heb shikmoth and shikmim, Gr. sycomoros), a tree which in its general character resembles the fig-tree, while its leaves resemble those of the mulberry; hence it is called the fig-mulberry (Ficus sycomorus). At Jericho, Zacchaeus climbed a sycomore-tree to see Jesus as he passed by (Lu 19:4). This tree was easily destroyed by frost (Ps 78:47), and therefore it is found mostly in the "vale" (1Ki 10:27; 2Ch 1:15: in both passages the R.V. has properly "lowland"), i.e., the "low country," the shephelah, where the climate is mild. Amos (Am 7:14) refers to its fruit, which is of an inferior character; so also probably Jeremiah (Jer 24:2). It is to be distinguished from our sycamore (the Acer pseudo-platanus), which is a species of maple often called a plane-tree.

So the fig tree was used to symbolize the obeast in an analogy. Then in encoded prophetic form from Jeremiah 24:1-2, it spoke and gave tenets of the two,

The LORD shewed me, and, behold, two baskets of figs were set before the temple of the LORD, after that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon had carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah, and the princes of Judah, with the carpenters and smiths, from Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babylon. One basket had very good figs, even like the figs that are first ripe: and the other basket had very naughty figs, which could not be eaten, they were so bad.

From this encoding, we see the tenet of the two obeasts. One is good fruits and the first, as in "first ripe." Good relatively speaking to the second and good for the progenitors not us, as in they can be more controlled for various reasons (mass possessions, employment, sale, etc). The second is more evil and avaricious and probably just used for destructions* – "cannot be eaten" (Jer 24:3). The point at hand is the existence and nature of the two obeasts. The second more dangerous, avaricious and uncontrollable than the other, mostly for destruction. The second also can eat up the first, making the epidemic worse, especially if the second can procreate on its own.

* Destructions as seen encodly in the verses above, after encoded Nebuchadnezzar (North) got the nobles of Judah (South) they either came here and release the obeast eggs of the two sort; or, back in encoded Judah (South) where priests of the temple were removed, horsemen of the two sort stand in their stead; also representing that the South hopefuls are split in two, those carried here for good and the rest scattered/destroyed for evil. Either way, both type eggs and hatching of the obeast was released somewhere upon encoded removal of the things/people of the temple/ark from the South; such removal for the evil of the South. Wherewith my surmising is that it was done so by retribution of the evils in the South on the North at such a time as current as now. However, this is not the point at hand, especially that such has been ongoing for a while.

The Two Obeasts: The Exodus

The following encodings of Exodus 16 given to Moses will show more tenets of the two. That is, the Children of Israel were cursing God, saying, when we were in Egypt we eat this and that and were full. God in this chapter was showing that might be so, but what you were eating is not what it seems, so be quiet – as with the brazen serpent demonstration of their complaint.

Ex 16:1-3 - And they took their journey from Elim, and all the congregation of the children of Israel came unto the wilderness of Sin, which is between Elim and Sinai, on the fifteenth day of the second month after their departing out of the land of Egypt. And the whole congregation of the children of Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron in the wilderness: And the children of Israel said unto them, Would to God we had died by the hand of the LORD in the land of Egypt, when we sat by the flesh pots, and when we did eat bread to the full; for ye have brought us forth into this wilderness, to kill this whole assembly with hunger.

Complaining of their former relative luxury the Egyptians had provided, namely, food.

Ex 16:4 - Then said the LORD unto Moses, Behold, I will rain bread from heaven for you; and the people shall go out and gather a certain rate every day, that I may prove them, whether they will walk in my law, or no.

Okay, I'll show you, mostly us now, what you were eating in Egypt; now also pertaining to the many wise exploits given, the same sentiments should be carried over to now.

Ex 16:12-13 - I have heard the murmurings of the children of Israel: speak unto them, saying, At even ye shall eat flesh, and in the morning ye shall be filled with bread; and ye shall know that I am the LORD your God. And it came to pass, that at even the quails came up, and covered the camp: and in the morning the dew lay round about the host.

The quails (sea birds) represent the first obeast and the Manna the second. That is, the first obeast is not only more controllable by their progenitors but liken unto a plant as with the plant and the gourd. That is, the first map the brain fully like a plant spread and grows, tapping into the inner core of man and accessing his most archaic and post-archaic features; in this case, learn how to fly, as with witches. As seen earlier, from Dr. Brown book, rebellious satanist/witches were given the satanic web whereby their stomach explodes killing them, or excuse for termination; some of these satanist flying witches were probably horsemen. Not only learn how to fly but also astutely intelligent, more so than man and hence aptly fit for highly qualified Jobs – hence, companies opt to use them here. For instance, we will live, they say, and only use about less than 1/5 of our brains, image all of that in use. Fortunately for them, the good part of figs from Jeremiah 24, the first obeast is relatively controllable by their progenitors and buyers. This success of them able to fly was also a pride to the Egyptians, as they not only wore the snake symbol on the head by the Head dress, but also a bird. I had thought the two symbolize the two obeast, but wondered how, because I surmise the second was later created near up to our times or in our times. But this bird on the head dress, vulture like, was a symbol of this. And actually, some Egyptian picture writings have men sitting on snakes flying up to the clouds. But this is all in secret, even till now. I think the blues probably instituted the term staff for employees, staff as in horsemen they are using as workers* – in heaven's case, illegal immigrants.

* If the obeast are tropical from the hot desert of Egypt, then it means that the second obeast could be made tolerant to cold temperature. If so, any employment of them in the North would be of the first obeast because of the advantage/disadvantages cited so far, which would be in Tropical Florida. If further North, it would have to be of the second obeast and that type is mostly for destruction, not as intelligent as the first, but simply a filler; hence there employment further north might be none-existent, but inadvertent destruction. This might or might not be so, as time has evolved, to things as temperature control environments and also it might just be lesser than the south plains of America. I had thought the obeast area of survival is in the tropics, that belt that passes through the Middle America and Egypt and South Asia. And as I pondered the possible encoding of Florida given earlier, the xBox circles, a civilization for such a growth in North America from middle America, I notice this of the sycamore tree - "therefore it is found mostly in the 'vale' (1Ki 10:27; 2Ch 1:15: in both passages the R.V. has properly 'lowland'), i.e., the 'low country,' the shephelah, where the climate is mild..." That is, the plain, of which Florida is. 2 Chron 27:28, "the sycamore trees that were in the low plains." The bible dictionary called "the shephelah," it denotes the plain along the Mediterranean from Joppa to Gaza.

Ex 16:14-15 - And when the dew that lay was gone up, behold, upon the face of the wilderness there lay a small round thing, as small as the hoar frost on the ground. And when the children of Israel saw it, they said one to another, It is manna [What is this]: for they wist not what it was. And Moses said unto them, This is the bread which the LORD hath given you to eat.

This manna or bread-like-thing represent the second obeast or worm in the Jonah encoding. Bread in that, unlike the first, plant like with deep roots, it is like a filling – fills the body like the first but in takeover than tapping deep in man and hence less intelligent but animal like in rage and controllability – more aptly fit for destroying a nation from within. Less intelligent but intelligent nonetheless. As for employability in qualified fields, probably not. What I probably gather from these is that they are built stronger and more durable; however, filling up but not tapping in deep. The bible dictionary said this of manna, "It was capable of being baked and boiled, ground in mills, or beaten in a mortar (Ex 16:23; Num 11:7):" unlike flesh which can't be baked or ground in mills. Hence, it's durability or probability to be in baked products and other goods that go through immense processing (water, cold or heat) and remain alive as an egg or horseman. "Beaten in a mortar" could also suggest the latter one's ability to shape shift like angels can or transferable from one body to the next. These knowledge are still too great for me.

Ex 16:16 - This is the thing which the LORD hath commanded, Gather of it every man according to his eating, an omer for every man, according to the number of your persons; take ye every man for them which are in his tents.

An omer is a "handful, one-tenth of an ephah=half a gallon dry measure" (Easton Bible Dictionary, Strongs). Hence, an omer for every man might suggest the proportion to which this second obeast spread and invest a nation. An omer for every man or 10 of these eggs to every man.

Ex 16:19-20 - And Moses said, Let no man leave of it till the morning. Notwithstanding they hearkened not unto Moses; but some of them left of it until the morning, and it bred worms, and stank: and Moses was wroth with them.

Then it shows the encoded of the obeast more. That is, when they complained and ask for meat, remembering Egypt, God gave them manna, which means, what is that. In other words, that is what you should have been saying in Egypt when they fed you, but you can't see the obeast eggs in the food, as when they saw this manna, "there lay a small round [Egg Shaped] thing, as small [TINY] as the hoar [WHITE] frost [INDISTINGUISHABLE FROM THE DEW THAT BROUGHT IT] on the ground" (Exodus 16:14). Things like these they were feeding you while in Egypt, that bred obeasts, yet you here complaining speaking of the abundance of food you eat while in Egypt.

Ex 16:22 - And it came to pass, that on the sixth day they gathered twice as much bread, two omers for one man: and all the rulers of the congregation came and told Moses.

Concerning the retribution of the South or yellowrites, knowing the dawning of the present (mostly encoded in 1955) they more than usual release the obeast eggs knowing the promise / the rest.

Ex 16:23-25 - And he said unto them, This is that which the LORD hath said, To morrow is the rest of the holy sabbath unto the LORD: bake that which ye will bake to day, and seethe that ye will seethe; and that which remaineth over lay up for you to be kept until the morning. And they laid it up till the morning, as Moses bade: and it did not stink, neither was there any worm therein. And Moses said, Eat that today [On the Sabbath]; for to day is a sabbath unto the LORD: to day ye shall not find it in the field.

This pertains to fasting / the rest. Following the Lord, for on the Sabbath, the gall of asp was released that killed the obeast eggs and infants. So those who would be over filled with eggs for the day of resting, will not be obeasted on the day of sabbatical rest / fasting – as the gall of asp would take care of them all. Baking it, etc, suggest storing up eggs more than usual for that day. But none will break out in an obeast whilst we follow the Lord's commandment of sabbatical rest / fasting – "it did not stink, neither was there any worm therein." This is how important fasting at least one day a week is, as said in Ex 31:14, "for whosoever doeth any work therein, that soul shall be cut off from among his people." The soul will be cut off but the body or person remain because it is obeasted; speaking to us now for back then they were literally put to death.

Ex 16:26 - Six days ye shall gather it; but on the seventh day, which is the sabbath, in it there shall be none.

Backs up the above, if they consume more eggs than usual because of the coming fast it will not work but all die and normally all is cleanse from the body on the day of rest – "in it there shall be none."

Ex 16:27 - And it came to pass, that there went out some of the people on the seventh day for to gather, and they found none.

This will happen to the eggs if the Sabbaths are employed. So the growth to any permanence takes more than a week, and if any was picked up in the week on the day of fasting there would be none, all dead by the release of the gall of asps in us. However, when and if someone who had not employed such a regular method of cleansing is infected and the roots take hold, it seems the sabbatical gall of asps release might not work. Hence, the urging to always keep the weekly Sabbath. The periodical cluster days of sabbatical holidays might do that job, but that also still might be futile. It's just safer to employ weekly fasting to the Lord. Concerning someone with the roots already established and permanence set, which makes death certain, this verse might help, "And the Lord said, If ye had faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye might say unto this [sycomore] tree, Be thou plucked up by the root, and be thou planted in the sea; and it should obey you" (Luke 17:6). In other words, even if the roots take hold and death is certain, with faith you can say unto this sycomore tree or obeast, be thou removed, through Christ, and you can be healed. And like the Leper, "thy faith hath made thee whole" (Luke 17:19). So faith is much more potent than any thing where by it we "shall take up serpents [obeasts]; and if [we] drink [or eat] any deadly thing, it shall not hurt [us]" (Mark 16:18).

Oh, also, to secrete the gall of asp is not just fasting and prayer for 24 hours, but being still, as in not going out of your house on that day or in there doing any house work, paper work, leisure, etc. Not even going to church; so it is best to do it on a day when church or any other event is not is not session. Many verses allude to this, for instance, "hallow the Sabbath day, and not to bear a burden, even entering in at the gates of Jerusalem on the Sabbath day" (Jer 17:27). Or in this chapter where encoding on the obeast is, "the LORD hath given you the Sabbath...abide ye every man in his place, let no man go out of his place on the seventh day" (Ex 16:29). Fortunately the Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath, so you can do so privately, on whatever day is the seventh for you. Devotion and Judaic religiosity became private and fulfilled in grace, so when Matthew 6 alludes to you to rise and wash your face and let no one see that you are fasting, it didn't mean going out and doing other stuff while fasting. It meant that if someone somehow sees you on that day, normally by coming over uninvited, then by your appearance they shouldn't know that you are fasting. It becomes a secret and somewhat individual when the theocracy of Judaism was ended and we opt to choose democracy, or, every man for himself. But the secret to the gall of asp release is abstain from food and drink for 24 hours while at home being still, which can be occupied with praying, reading, meditating, reflecting and to a lesser extent sleeping.

Ex 16:28 - And the LORD said unto Moses, How long refuse ye to keep my commandments and my laws?

In other word, God was saying that this is all my laws are meant to do, protect and keep you, but they and us refuse to hear, because we can't see!

Ex 16:29 - See, for that the LORD hath given you the sabbath, therefore he giveth you on the sixth day the bread of two days; abide ye every man in his place, let no man go out of his place on the seventh day.

See, the Lord told of the two types of obeast and dealt with it before the second arose. Follow him.

Ex 16:30 - So the people rested on the seventh day.

You should find a day or days a week to abstain from food and drink and reverence it to God.

Ex 16:35 - And the children of Israel did eat manna forty years, until they came to a land inhabited; they did eat manna, until they came unto the borders of the land of Canaan.

Easton describe Manna as, "Heb man-hu, 'What is that?' the name given by the Israelites to the food miraculously supplied to them during their wanderings in the wilderness (Ex 16:15-35). The name is commonly taken as derived from man, an expression of surprise, 'What is it?' but more probably it is derived from manan, meaning 'to allot,' and hence denoting an 'allotment' or a 'gift.' This 'gift' from God is described as 'a small round thing,' like the 'hoar-frost on the ground,' and 'like coriander seed,' 'of the colour of bdellium,' and in taste 'like wafers made with honey.' It fell for the first time after the eighth encampment in the desert of Sin, and was daily furnished, except on the Sabbath, for all the years of the wanderings, till they encamped at Gilgal, after crossing the Jordan, when it suddenly ceased, and where they 'did eat of the old corn of the land; neither had the children of Israel manna any more' (Jos 5:12). They now no longer needed the 'bread of the wilderness'."

It might be noted that God have them wander in the wilderness for 40 years yet they were so near to it, because he was probably cleansing the obeasted or horsemen from among them before entering the promise land. The ways of God are unknown and too high for us, we must simply follow (theocracy), if we are told them it might be too painful and make living sorrowful; but some of us rebelliously have to have this knowledge to follow (democracy), I guess so let it be. The ways of God are not hard, it is meant for our benefit, all of it, though all we see are laws and orders.

"Our Lord refers to the manna when he calls himself the 'true bread from heaven' (Joh 6:31-35; 21:25). He is also the 'hidden manna' (Rev 2:17; comp. Joh 6:49,51)." John 6:31-35 reads, "Our fathers did eat manna in the desert; as it is written, He gave them bread from heaven to eat. Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven. For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world. Then said they unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread. And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst" (John 6:31-35). Now, one of the main purposes of the obeast was for life endurance, they wanted to extend the life of their people (yet only the bodies were walking around), the Egyptians were obsessed with the afterlife. Here Christ is saying you don't need these things initially used to extend life, but look to me, who is life itself and gives life. I am that bread of life, the true manna. The wicked always counterfeit was is brought out, that would sound like this, eat this and you shall live forever; not telling them that only the physical body would be extended while their souls or real life is snuffed out in hell - As encoded in Christ saying, "Your fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, and are dead" (John 6:49). Then Christ said that he's the only one that can truly let someone live forever, "This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die" (John 6:50). This should be exciting to you and like the people in John 6 say, "evermore give us this bread!" How can you get this food and live forever in your flesh, "To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna" (Rev 2:17). To overcome you must be born again, see how to in Acts 2:38.

Ex 16:36 - Now an omer is the tenth part of an ephah.

I didn't remember this was here when I looked at the Easton definition given above. Now, this was here to signify that it was not only speaking of now but existent then with the one obeast in Egypt. Ten eggs were being eaten to one Jew or, of the Jews in Egypt there were ten Jewish horse men to one real Jewish man. Easton bible dictionary had also said this, "Ephah, a word of Egyptian origin, meaning measure; a grain measure containing "three seahs or ten omers."

The Two Obeasts: Sycamore / Fig Inherents

Though we have cited the two obeasts, there are some things inherent to both. These can be seen in the analogy of the fig tree / fruit used; which has been used as a paper trail left by God to me to speak on the obeast. The Bible dictionary had this to say of the fig fruit:

First mentioned in Gen 3:7. The fig-tree is mentioned (De 8:8) as one of the valuable products of Palestine. It was a sign of peace and prosperity (1Ki 4:25; Mic 4:4; Zec 3:10). Figs were used medicinally (2Ki 20:7), and pressed together and formed into "cakes" as articles of diet (1Sa 30:12; Jer 24:2).

Our Lord's cursing the fig-tree near Bethany (Mr 11:13) has occasioned much perplexity from the circumstance, as mentioned by the evangelist, that "the time of figs was not yet." The explanation of the words, however, lies in the simple fact that the fruit of the fig-tree appears before the leaves, and hence that if the tree produced leaves it ought also to have had fruit. It ought to have had fruit if it had been true to its "pretensions," in showing its leaves at this particular season. "This tree, so to speak, vaunted itself to be in advance of all the other trees, challenged the passer-by that he should come and refresh himself with its fruit. Yet when the Lord accepted its challenge and drew near, it proved to be but as the others, without fruit as they; for indeed, as the evangelist observes, the time of figs had not yet arrived. Its fault, if one may use the word, lay in its pretensions, in its making a show to run before the rest when it did not so indeed" (Trench, Miracles).

The fig-tree of Palestine (Ficus carica) produces two and sometimes three crops of figs in a year, (1) the bikkurah, or "early-ripe fig" (Mic 7:1; Isa 28:4; Ho 9:10, R.V.), which is ripe about the end of June, dropping off as soon as it is ripe (Na 3:12); (2) the kermus, or "summer fig," then begins to be formed, and is ripe about August; and (3) the pag (plural "green figs," Song 2:13; Gr. olynthos, Re 6:13, "the untimely fig"), or "winter fig," which ripens in sheltered spots in spring.

This reveals a great deal to why the sycamore-fig was used as a paper trail. One, the tree was first used by the first man and woman, to do what? Can you believe it, to make an apron to wrap around their loins, just like a girdle. The same experience encoding the Lord has used of Jeremiah to teach me where the core area is and drinking small amounts of liquor is not necessarily getting to the core but tentacles or eggs. If the first man and woman was used, it means this problem was serious from the start, as in if God didn't watch over us humans, there would be no real humans left on earth; epitomize with the south Asia's 2 billion (1/3) people that are possible mostly horsemen. And if God didn't intervene, with just the simple example of the omer encodings in Exodus then no real humans would have survived to the present age; as in with the omer, there was ten real eggs eaten to every man in Egypt. So you see how grave the problem can get, thank God for God! Notice that this was done after the tree of life was taken away and man would die, when they could have lived forever. So the Egyptians had made this initially to prolong life, I guess more accurately, the life of their workforce and their own flesh.

The other part that jumped out at me was this, "lies in the simple fact that the fruit of the fig-tree appears before the leaves, and hence that if the tree produced leaves it ought also to have had fruit." From this I draw another theory. In likening it to cancer, I had notice that within one person they are several cancerous cells, a tumor in the brain, under the arm, etc. One documentary had showed that they wanted to do a surgery on someone to remove a cancer in the upper part but needed uncontaminated tissue from elsewhere of the body for replacement; they cut from several areas but it was all contaminated. Yet the person could be alive and the core area is in the loins. This seems to be explained in the fig fruit. Before the fruit has leaves it has fruits. Before the oboast has fully mapped the body and branches out, it has fruits or young ones. If the fig tree has leave, it means that it has had fruits. If the oboast fully maps the body and takes it over it has had pseudo-young. Now the young might not be hatchable-transferable, but for the sole purpose of mapping the body; as some animals lay sterile eggs for consumption. In that, when it bears and a young breaks out in the legs, brains, arms, etc., resulting in cancers or tumors, for an example, in these areas, is that they begin to weave and network that part. Then from the loin tentacles all the network parts are join together and a horseman is created. So upon examination, the dangerous tumors, for example, wont show in a body after the networking is completed and takeover achieved, as no fruits will be on the fig tree after bearing, only leaves. But the mere fact leaves exist, means that fruits had been. There still might be a period before take off after networking is completed. Saying this, when for the pass few years I've had symptoms of major disease but can't go to the doctor. Though, like most this would only be fiddling with the problem while the core area remains intact to continue; even worse, after such a major doctor visit and surgery, after operation symptoms might occur and ignored or treated with a pain killer when in fact the creature has continue releasing fruit, mapping and hence would take over – alive or in the grave, the latter waiting to be dug up. Likewise, a possible underground / undertone society remedy was acupuncture, if that is the right name. Whereby needles are stuck in all parts of the body, possibly sticking all the fruits or major places the fruits will be. But that still would only deal with the offspring and not the core. Like cutting off the arms of an octopus to see ten more grow in its stead. So by God's grace I've done the only real solution, sought the Lord, to get this revelation. After the eggs solution of the weekly Sabbath, his solution for me now is in the said paper trail of the obeast, the fig tree, recorded here before the infamous faith verses of Mark 11:23-24, that is, Mark 11:20-22.

“And in the morning, as they passed by, they saw the fig tree dried up from the roots. And Peter calling to remembrance saith unto him, Master, behold, the fig tree which thou cursedst is withered away. And Jesus answering saith unto them, Have faith in God” (Mark 11:20-22).

This is indeed by faith, for after permanence death is certain and only faith can pull that apart, because it is so meshed and woven into you that it would seem to reach unto the soul, pulling on the spirit. For the unbelievers, this faith escape might be non-existent and so hope in that department is very dim.

Though, Spirit filled believers congregations are the target and manifestation of persons obeasted. Unfortunately, it manifests in some of the mainstream Pentecostal jiving, shaking, etc. That is, the creature will kill, but Christ gives live, so it can be suspended. In that suspension the attempt at takeover will always be present. While in this state or even tamed by a fallen angel pastor/leader, it can be there to attempt mass control of the congregation. When activated by this snake charmer or when the believer is reaching out to God, the creature gives a great strain on such, which by Christ's spirit in the person he or she pulls back or reach out to God; resulting in a bodily vibration from the stomach area, where the creature reside prominently. It was after being infected and as usual started to reach out to Christ that I noticed this, but was glad for I always wanted to be like everybody else who was jiving when praying aloud. It is a tug of war between your spirit through the Holy Spirit trying to touch Christ and the creature pulling back or see an opportunity to take over or animated by a charmer fallen angel; the creature having wrapped his tentacles around the individual. What will happen is that Christ will cut this projection of the creature off, or the person's angel standing by will swipe his sword and do the same. So the individual is not overcome by the creature, as Christ promise we will overcome, but plagued thereby. As with when it was said of a man in the bible that a spirit went out of the man not harming the man, yet the man's body was rocked to and fro on the ground. He wasn't harmed in the intent the spirit possession had. Likewise, residing in these innocent souls are creatures that if they weren't saved, would be dead already. This I thought not to mention because now a stigma will be given to Pentecostals, as was in the pass, when they said they have snakes. But the mere fact this is happening in the Pentecostal circles means Christ is in those circles. For had he not been, this wouldn't be happening; the tug of war that is. And the mere fact it is not happening in the other churches, mean they are already dead, spiritually and probably literally. Also, those under the power of Holy Ghost do give off bodily vibrations and ecstatic behaviors, so to distinguish it from the obeast tug and war might be impossible. I recommend praying for the health of our people specifically about this and they themselves give heed to our private sabbatical rests. On the other hand, the Holy Spirit in us prays directly about such through what we call tongues and so tongues can take care of things we don't know of or too hard for us to understand. However, this problem is grave and should be taken care of directly, as said, if it had not been for God and the salt of us in the earth, we humans would have since been extinct.

Though things like the acupuncture don't rid the problem from the body it sort of prevents such networking if applied regularly. But can you be punching holes over your body that often? No. So the similar thing that works in this capacity is regular exercise. I was exceptionally physically active before this present state took place in my mid to late teens - lift weights almost everyday, as well as swim, run and play basketball, plus exercise every morning and night. But I noticed that often times I was sidelined by a groin (loins) injury; one day I couldn't walk properly and had to stay home, though some of this is to over exertion as a zealous ball player. Nonetheless, these groin injuries didn't hinder me as I was still exceptional because I was overtly physically active, captained the basketball team, made the national team, played on two to three professional clubs/leagues. When I came to God, and even receive the Holy Ghost, that faith helped my sports before retiring. In fact, when those injuries had taken place I thought it was because I was overweight, as I was always the most muscular one on the teams I play for, not fat either pure muscles, and why though never the tallest or near it, most often put to play center. So I prayed to God to loose exactly 50 pounds and in one week, I lost 50 pounds without any sickness, nausea or any such thing – that was a miracle. So whilst it had been there it was not a problem, even when I turned to faith. It is only these day, while inactive physically, that I'm almost taken over – it would even seem to speak to me. I had always been in church but never had the shakes: Exceptionally used by God as well, to the point that what we call the anointing came down strong often while ministering and most people were getting the shakes but not I. At those times I was still pretty much overtly physically active, but only the last couple of years I've been at the computers night and day, trying to finish the Truth Series. It is during these times I got the shakes, I was elated, I'm getting powerful like everybody else in church. It was even getting stronger, just an inward prayer to God and the shakes. It is only now I realize that most time this is the obeast tug-of-war. This not only happened in prayer, but when I'm casting out demons; more strongly when I'm casting out demons on me, as the demons would use the creature to pseudo-possess. I actually did little runs, to catch the bus, and surprisingly, is as if I was being choked (the two cords of my neck has a life of its own), as the creature has wrapped me up and my whole system is out of order. So I stop chasing the bus and wait for the other and started walking with a knife for I thought, wow, in this condition I couldn't run from an attacker – but stopped, oh me of little faith, God watches over us. If so, I might recover, which is impossible, if I believe. Unfortunately, the impossible recovery has a condition, believe; which is just simply believing, yet. Now you and I might understand why preachers preach every Sunday and ministries spend billions to preach to people, to arouse them to believe, for though it is simple, it is not simple; especially with the arch-nemesis working against faith with doubt, and with his money would seem more creative.

The Two Lions: The Young And Old

Isaiah 41:4 had jumped out at me because the Lord himself was dealing with me concerning my purpose and shockingly enough that reference of he being the first wasn't a reference of being God or exaltation of that divine attributes, but the first dispensational savior of the Tribe of Judah, that is, Christ of Nazareth; Moses was the only one before him that issued in a new era of God's grace, but he was not of Judah. From Isa 41:1, he is not the last either, that's why he said he is "with the last;" the last liberator from Judah. The liberators and Kings were to come from Judah, as Jacob prophesied. This first began to happen with Othniel, the first Judge of Israel, then David first King of Israel of Judah and God's real first choice of Kings, then the Kings thereafter to Christ, who is King of Kings. Yet, he is not the last, though the greatest and epitome or reason for the Lions of Judah; Othniel being the first, young Lion and the Last Lion being the Old Lion (Gen 49:9, Isa 30:6), of course, Christ is THE Lion, the middle or the Lion in his prime or prime age. He is the first Lion of Judah to usher in a new dispensation, grace as against Law, Moses being the first dispensational liberator but not of Judah. But there might be a last dispensational liberator and Lion of Judah. Jacob prophecy says, "Judah is a lion's whelp," a whelp means children or offsprings. So Judah will breed or furnish Israel with Lions. As said, this first began to happen with Othniel first Judge of Israel down to David then to Christ. Jacob continued, "he stooped down, he couched as a lion, and as an old lion; who shall rouse him up." That is, "he stooped down" means the young Lions; "he couched as a Lion" means The Lion Christ Jesus (Yahoshua). "As an old Lion" means a last Lion to come after Christ. Let's go to another book. The book of Job tells us, "The roaring of the lion, and the voice of the fierce lion, and the teeth of the young lions, are broken. The old lion perisheth for lack of prey, and the stout lion's whelps are scattered abroad" (Job 4:10-11). The "teeth of the young lions" speak of all the Lions before Christ. The "stout Lion" speaks of Christ, stout meaning the Lion in his prime – heavy, solid. But it mentions something else, "the stout lion's whelps are scattered abroad," meaning this stout lion, Christ, has many young Lions that are Scattered abroad in the Earth; of course, these are the Christians where the scriptures says this stout Lion "hast made us unto our God kings and priests" (Rev 5:10). But at last it also said, "The old lion," meaning an Old Lion of all the Lions scattered abroad – many lions, but you have THE Lions; and because of the stout lion's whelps, which the old is of, the old Lion is overshadow, "or perisheth for lack of prey" because the others are eating them up – speaking in analogy, because it means by the zeal of all the lions all the prey (strong holds, devils, works of God) is being defeated greatly and the old Lion wouldn't seem as great by his works because of the many great works of the stout Lion's whelps, he would be more like a goldsmith putting on the beautifying finishing touches after Christ the carpenter laid the foundation, structure and entire building. However, Jacob said, "as an old lion; who shall rouse him up" (Gen 49:9)? This old Lion mentioning because he would be the last Lion or last "new era liberator" which Isa 41:4 alludes to: Or, the last Lion to breed more Lions or have whelps. Judah bred the Lions leading up to Christ, "Judah is a lion's whelp," then Christ bred the Lions leading up the Old Lion, "the stout lion's whelps are scattered abroad," and so a last Lion would be another King Lion who spawn another set of whelps. Notice the word whelps, could easily read helps in analogy; though meaning young or cubs. For Christ whelps were his helps to his cause and so the whelps before him to the cause of God. This could be an indirect call for those that have an ear to ear.

In Concluding

As said in the first article, “we should prayerfully combat the obeast, stand for the faith of our Western domain and avoid such traps as nano-docs and other modern technological dependence. How best can we do that? It is more than just saying “In God We Trust.” We must recognize who that God is, Yah or Yahovah, of Judeo-Christianity only. Then we must follow his method, which is summed up in this verse, “If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land” (2 Chron 7:14). Notice how important the name is, “called by my name,” hence you must know the name of the God you “trust.” His personal manifestation for such deliverance and healing today is through the name of Yahoshua Ha Mashiah, or commonly called, Jesus Christ.”

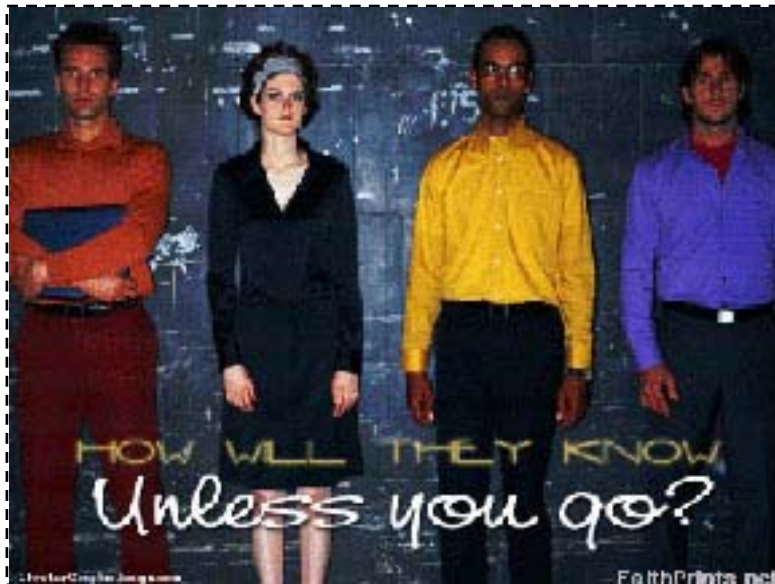

I said more than a mouth full and in great courage, for what is said can be considered unstable, especially that by God I feed God’s flock with articles and books, and writings like these can make that void to them; a reason for the warning at the start. But even them of the learnt sect or angel can deem someone like me mad by saying these never before public said things; especially when physical, social, financial and economic standings is less to be desired and sometimes seems synonymous to those who are truly overtaken in lunacy. But like John the Baptist in animal skin and eating wild insects yet ushered in the very God, so I ask that “no man think me a fool; if otherwise, yet as a fool receive me” (2 Cor 11:16).
