

UNDERSTANDING SUGGERY

Name: Oneil McQuick Date: August 11, 2005

Having briefly mentioning it in the Student Manifesto written in 2004 and given to my school administration, reference in Part 1 Section 14, I thought to do a follow up. One, it was not clear and probably wont be much clearer if not asking the Lord for guidance. Two, it might be puzzling to see two persons having the same exact experiences and wonder how the lesser and latter seems like an echo of the former. Three, it serves to deter the hopefuls from persisting in doing so to their own hurt, whether hope achieved or not.

LET US RECAP "THE EXACT" THING WRITTEN IN THE STUDENT MANIFESTO

This section is advised not to be read if you're neither a fallen angel or aware of them. This is not a taboo section, but without the knowledge of their existence, then for certain this will be deemed as utter rubbish. This might not even seem to fit in an output on education, but it affects it more than we realize. DO NOT, and I repeat, DO NOT read it if you are not aware of fallen angels in flesh, which is 98% of all real humans. And DO NOT, I repeat, DO NOT seek to be aware of it; only revealed to select born again believers - though those who seek will find. Moreover, away from the divine covering that Christ gives, you could go mad. If the wisdom of God seems like foolishness to men, it follows that the wisdom of one person who is wiser than another will seems like foolishness to the latter. No wonder the bible also said that the foolishness of God is wiser than men. In other words, it is a principle. If the animals could speak and they saw humans constructing a basic irrigation system, they would say, "these stupid humans are playing in the water." A wise man wisdom is foolishness to the less wise. That's why all the greats were considered mad in their time, and always will be, until the rest of the world catches up. Therefore, this knowledge will seem foolish to most, because it is unfamiliar and not easily attained to without madness.

That intro was also purposely made long to block further reading. Now, to the readers who are fallen angels, it is obvious that I nor any human don't know the "ordinances of the heavens" or angels, as they really are. But what I do know is that fallen angels in flesh exist, unaware to many humans; plus shown to me with their several abilities. They coexist beside us as mortal men and not only so, ruling amongst, as the bible endlessly reiterates.

I've already written literature concerning their dealings on earth and possible investigation of any redemption (Proverbs 18:1); taking in many variables I did not previously know, and why this section is even written. If I begin to mention their earthly involvement and abilities, many would think I'm regurgitating scenes from the movie and comic X-Men. What I want to mention and focus on is the involvement of fallen angels among schools; as teachers, board members and other staff. More so, certain queries any bold one willing to answer in a written form. Are our schools a heaven to "suck" the potential talents and abilities of unsuspecting individuals; as briefly discussed in the book "Demonology Revealed*." Or, are there watchers or other angels or angelic order in place to prevent this and other exploitations from fallen angels in flesh. What I know is that there is a hierarchy of fallen angels, but don't all come to kill, steal and destroy? If the scripture is correct (Ex 22:28) and it is, then most leadership positions would be held by them, including this board and all educational boards. I found out they are not as ruthless as previously thought, but like any rebellious person, acting out of their fallen state. That doesn't justify or give grounds for killing, stealing and destroying. But if, like all things in existence, they are constrained by the invisible presence and intuition of God and also being bound here under the vicissitudes of earthly dealings, then their presences in the education system can be good or bad. Bad in the sense that they can use it as a place to "suck" the lives of individuals. This is not what it sounds like, the Book *Demonology Revealed gives a brief outline - it has to be read. But fallen ones know what they do; in stealing the lives (ideas, abilities, thoughts, inventions and even character) of persons unaware to them. Often times leaving that person confused, doing something just to survive and even becoming "madmen." All by virtue of their abilities, being fallen angels in flesh. They could also be agents to persecute Christians and also promote humanism. As such, I not only pray God's intervention, but those in authority among them to take action, for you amongst all beings know the wrath of God.

The thing is, there is too much to know about them even to begin this section, but someone had to mention it and it had to be me. The books on demonology* has to be read (published or to be published).

What I do know is that their involvement, both bad and potentially good, should be taken into consideration. And the fallen ones on our country's education boards, who are bigger ones, should be responsible. As a suggestion or warning, be reminded of the invisible hand of God that still watches over humans, to whom he allowed you to have some dominance over (the great part has been taken away by Christ). One cry to God by a human can erode your existence (individually and otherwise), as was done to the first perpetrators (Jude 1:6) who became fallen angels in flesh. This might be the reason your existence as mortals remain an unknown mystery to man.

LET US RECAP "THE EXACT" THING WRITTEN IN DEMONOLOGY REVEALED

...the part that I was saddened about is truly hard to explain. You see, the gifts and the calling of God are without repentance so no devil can stop it. But they can know the end from the beginning as you will too when we shall cease "to see in part." They knew who Jesus was, as he had to shut up one of them over it (Matt 8:29). They cannot stop it so throughout the years they have devised this most evil thing of sucking it before it comes to pass - spiritual abortion. The very word that should come off your lips, the very songs that you should write and sing are all sucked and they steal it for themselves. Imagine sitting in the pew watching a preacher going at your message, weaving their made up lies around your testimony and producing your songs. No wonder Paul could have said, "Redeeming the time, because the days are evil" (Eph 5:16). When Paul taught us that "the days are evil," he meant E-V-I-L. Remember, God knows all evil and from the dawn of creation they have always been evil. But what Paul wanted to emphasize is that they are some evil that have never been done before.

Now, when he says to "Redeem... the time" it literally means to buy back the time. Or to redeem means that the thing is already yours, you're just taking it. In other words, buy back those stolen messages, lyrics and moments when you should be feeding and serving the flock. Why? These fallen ones have populated our churches robbing the people blind of their moments of glorious servitude and when your actual time comes to give it, you simply cannot because it is gone. Coupled with this is audio video capture (tapes, etc.) to permanently seal what was "sucked," in an attempt to prevent it from ever coming to pass from you, at the time intended, and when taken ceded with delusions, directly or selected omissions. So when Paul says redeem the time, its not always that the time has passed for you to do what God says to do because "your time is always ready" (John 7:6), but seize the moment because these fallen ones in times pass had "sucked" it.

That's the reason we have so many zombies in church. In the pews but dead, not going up, not going down, sucked, robbed and taken advantage of by things unexplainable. It's really hard to explain and the only thing I can liken it to, is the movie "The Matrix", as it is seen on the surface. To the point that predestined preachers and ministers of God are spiritually bound to be sucked; many of these televangelists are fallen angels preaching your messages and sucking your ideas. If necessary I might share some personal experiences; nevertheless, the mere fact I writing this to you is a witness and all the words that were probably stolen and lost somewhere by some messenger of satan pretending to be a minister of light are redeemed. Nevertheless, it's so hard to explain that Paul didn't even bother to get into it, he just said, "Redeeming the time, because the days are evil." Especially as he knew many of his letters were already hard to understand (2 Pet 3:16). My tearful caution to you, as you receive me as a fool, ask God to personally redeem the time; then, regardless if your moment was stolen before, still do it, still say it, because nobody can do exactly what God meant for you; "All that ever came before me [YOU] are thieves and robbers" (John 10:8).

On the other side, it is sometimes done through the same method they used to trick Adam and assume godship of the earth (Matt 25:28). That's the reason for the verses before and after the redeeming the time verse in Ephesians 5:16. That is, verse 15 and 17; "See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise" and "Wherefore be ye not unwise, but understanding what the will of the Lord is." Nevertheless, because of Christ, you can redeem it.

As for the fallen Angel Ministers/Pastors, except God reveals this unto you it is impossible to know them, though they are loopholes; so don't attempt to. It has become so pervasive that an entire church can be dominated by them, from the Pastor, elders and all leadership to "yes men" in the congregation. As I said they bound true born again believers who have much potential to these churches; where they are sucked of their "moments of glorious servitude." Not knowing a thing, much more how great God intended them to be. If they try to leave that congregation these devils will do everything to try and pull them back to these churches. If they try to teach and speak truths they'll be held down and evil worked against them to let people avoid them. Even causing rude odors and lack of self-worth to present a displeasing decorum (outward dress). Even causing people to believe they are mad, yet still attending church. As I said, by the spirit of the Lord I've seen them in action and have had things stolen, but as God promised, "All that the Father giveth me shall come to me" (John 6:37). These bastard lavish themselves with God's gifts to you not just for exploitation but mostly to try and stop it from coming to past as it should. For instance, holding down an apostle in a small church in Florida, robbing him of his 'moment' and releasing it to a church of 400 when it was meant for the world and the saving of many; they'll even put words in your mouth to try and corrupt what you're going to say if they dive and saw that God revealed it onto you and you're going to speak about it. These fallen ones have become so good at it that they term themselves like "divers," and are rated by it. Who can dive into a soul and go the furthest to bring out the exact manifestation of the God given word, song or innovation. Some can only do it at the moment, 1-2 days in the future while others can go years on end, the best traveling minister of darkness pretending to ministers of light in our circles are the best at this. It's really hard to grasp, but don't over worry about it; as suggested by Eph 5, just walk holy, seek, know and go after your purpose, fast often, pray often and constantly ask God to redeem the time!

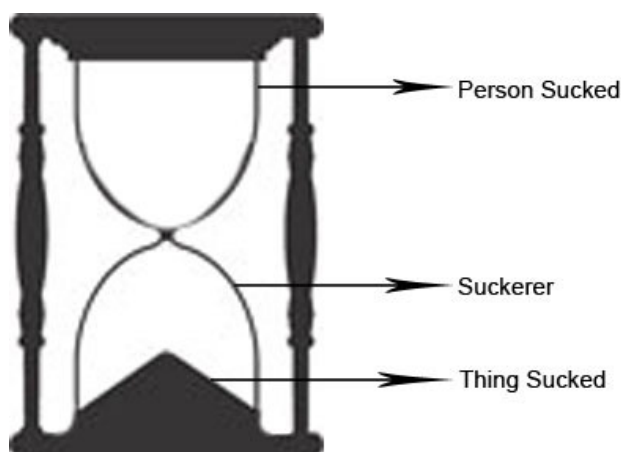

The only reason I'm not calling names is because Christ personally warned me to let the wheat and tare "grow together until the harvest" (Matt 13:30). I prefer leaving that assembly (1Co 15:33) if I recognize it. Because while uprooting tares by identification, some wheat can be uprooted as well, "lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them." (Matt 13:29). Moreover, with a network of them woven in our churches it's hard to not allow "through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died? But when ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ" (1Co 8:11-12).

In addition to the fallen angels in our churches, God also sends his angels to do special service in the Kingdom of God. Being ministers to the heirs of salvation (Heb 1:14) means that they can get involved.

That's why the book of Revelation was first written first to the Angels of the churches (Rev 2:1,8,12,18; 3:1,7,14), not the Pastor or Bishop necessarily. Jesus himself said, "I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. I am the root and the offspring of David, and the bright and morning star" (Rev 22:16). Who knows, sometimes they 'might be in the flesh' too, that's why Paul could have said, "Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares" (Heb 13:2). A lot of this would be unseen or unknown to many, if not all. For instance, the two witness of Revelation, they were also present at the building of the second temple through Zerubbabel and constantly stand by the God of this world (Zech 4:11, Rev 11:4). In other words, the two men spoken of in Revelation are not human beings but pre-existed as God's angels; and great ones too, because they "stand by the Lord of the whole earth" (Zech 14:4). Now, on earth if you see them will you know that they are angels? No. By appearance alone could be looking less in statue. The same could be happening day to day in our lives, hence a reason for Paul's note to entertain strangers. Nevertheless, they are other angels in flesh preaching. If so, to differentiate them would be difficult to those who can recognize them. But like all true sons of God, by their fruits ye shall know them and especially what is preached. That's why Paul could have said, "But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed" (Gal 1:8).

UNDERSTANDING SUCKERY

This might be oversimplified but true nonetheless, that is, the hour glass analogy.

When the sand is emptied from one side to the next, the substance is the same, unchangeable and none is lost either; but where each sand falls differ greatly. So all the thing sucked is in the suckerer (or his prop), but how it comes out might differ, especially if it diverted greatly from what it was supposed to be. The suckerer himself might not know how it exactly is or how it will come out, all he knows is that he has milk and it's working for him (money, fame, power, fortune, accomplished evil, etc). When draining from the former, the sands spread un-uniformly, the grain on top go the bottom or middle or side or right or left, you know how it goes. But satan, I presume, is more skilled at this than all and can pin point to the tee; or it is inherently known that some things will be obvious – even the exact words one would have said. But most often, in the case of truth it becomes error. In the future, if God be willing, I might give a detailed example of such probability here.

It can also be likened unto clay on a potter's wheel, the clay is simply reshaped into what the suckerer wants – a gospel line becomes the devil's music in Rock and Roll, etc. However, what happens is that he reshapes it, but on his wheel, leaving you without your (or any) clay on your wheel to spin – a great injustice worth the full extent of force. So all your life you're feeling for the clay while the wheel spins, with your hands trying to form a pottery, but nothing is there and you can't realize it. Up to this point in human's history (6000) no human knew what was happening to them to cause failures, hurts, torments, anguish, unproductiveness, pain, madness, suicide, angry against God and the list goes on. But the saints and many cry to God from these experiences, but only he knows what is happening to them, and now everything hidden must be made manifest (Mark 4:22).

They are two forms of suckery: 1) Diving, farseeing what you're going to do and do it before you; like an invention, song, book, etc. 2) Suckery, the line can be ripped from you completely, no feeling of striving just the hurts. One is like deleting something on your computer, but it isn't really deleted but in the trash and even with emptying the trash it really isn't deleted. Two, however, is like using "file wipe" with delete to overwrite the file several times to make it irrecoverable, so to speak; the latter they probably start perfecting/doing in Paul's time. Or,

Diving = like when *Cows eat = they eat the top of the grass and it will grow again, but... = average secular person

Suckery = like when sheep eat = they eat the top and root of the grass, never grows back = Saints, most threatening

Now thinking of it, it really hurts and bring tears, that analogy of the potters wheel really hit home. Your hands there trying to form a pot from your clay on a spinning wheel (your life) and nothing or no clay is there, but you don't know, except that with all the spinning of the wheel you can't produce, can't succeed, can't amount to anything. No clay is there, it was stolen...hope to God such perpetrators be brought down low in torments, after seeing what has taken place and still continue in their impudence. This picture gives a better hourglass;

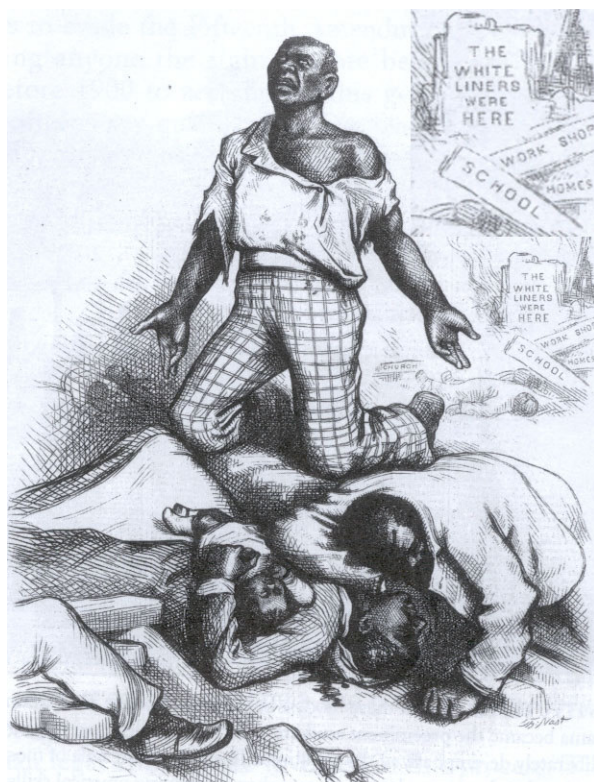

After violent prayers, I've heard these "bastards" with the stupidest of excuses, "taking garbage," "things you can't use," "too big for you, I, as a T.V. preacher, have the better platform," "this little bit wont detract from the hold." Lies! Lies! Lies! Suckery can never be justified. It is eternally wrong. If you couldn't take it, God wouldn't have given it, because he'll not put more on you than you can bear. And all of your life is needed. If you took portions of sands from the hourglass, would it still be an hour, even though it looks fine and the sand still flows? No. Another excuse (I shouldn't be hearing this, don't talk to me devils, talk to yourself) is this, "I'm removing the carnality from your mind to help you." One is your teacher, one is your helper, one is your guide – God's spirit. Imagine if you took the carnal inclinations from Paul, would we have his exegesis in Romans 7 to 8 that has helped millions and will continue to do so – "o wretched man that I am" who will deliver me from this death, only Christ. How could he conclude himself wretched when his overt carnal inclinations and wrestling was gone, to which only Christ is the solution? Let them have their clay and form it out of God's will and he'll crush it and cause them to reshape it to his will; don't suck it and say I can do it better (hopefuls). But if they have nothing to work with that's a great injustice. Don't fret about it going to waste, it cannot, for Christ gave the parable of the men with talents, one hid his (unproductive) and God, not a fallen angel, took it away and gave it to someone else; though this scenario is unlikely with saints, for it is contrary to our nature and God's word will not return unto him void. Suppression is what hinders such, not hiding it. For instance, me trying to write books mandated by God and feeding the flock through letters and evil keep presenting itself to prevent; that cannot equal hide. We should be on course, let the obstacles come; you don't be in the red. You progress to the promise land and let Pharaoh come to stop you, you're on the right, and he's not. Let God work, only don't give up, you endeavor to do your part.

And all our experiences are needed, "For like sands through the hour glass, so are the days of our lives."

ARE THEY SINNERS OR WHAT

Though I dare not directly communicate with the beings referred to as Fallen Angels and continuing in faith to violently blast as much with prayers who commit suckery on a personal level, to eradicate it (wish to God such evil would disappear), I find a weakness in me because of a possible 3rd seed and indirect interaction with them – as librarians, bus drivers, teachers, police officers, cashiers, etc – seeing them as “someone.” That is, with the heightened awareness and teleplay of force (prayers) and retraction, I’m beginning to unfortunately see them as sinners and not inherent evil. Sinners do “evil” because of their fallen-ness; with inherent evil, it is just their built to do and be evil, and if the former is true, the latter becomes false. Hence, all creation would have sinned because of fallen-ness and if so, if it is a disadvantage before God, only redemption, which is already demonstrated in Judeo-Christendom, would be the solution – God’s grace pulling the sinner back from fallen-ness and pardons, in the sense of a Justification. Not that I now conclude the evil - called Fallen Angels, devils, demons, etc – as sinners. As in former times, the whole world know such evil is just evil, inherently so and worth out casting / fire imprisonment, but given the pre-history of them in heaven and their “human” characteristics I’m subject to seeing, it looks promising that a status of sinners might be given; and if so, salvation might also be promising.

As for now, I must continue my stands against the evil of suckery and believe enough to banish perpetrators to the netherworlds in the worst of torments, where they may never see what would become of the Fallen Race. If it weren’t for God’s grace in me to detach I would sigh and cry out in anguish in words unutterable. This picture sums up my scenario,

From My History Text, by A. Brinkley. Cartoon by Thomas Nast, 1876 Reconstruction.

An 1800 cartoon, that depicts something else, but it is a good picture also for what was mentioned previously. What is a person under similar conditions to do? My personal use of it is, me kneeling in prayer but in anguish of the fact and the white liners are the angels sent against these imposters in flesh who flood your homes, school, church and work, and are even near kin. Destroying them because of their killing, stealing and destroying – suckery. The real narration said, “Is this protecting life, liberty, or property?” In this case, destroying one being to protect another; in this case it warrants it, but it doesn’t or might not have to be so – simply stop. Let love and hope reign and hence, reverence for God and respect for those who are his (saints). The cartoonist was expressing dismay; though celebrating justice, I too may be expressing dismay. For I once was lost but now I'm found, peradventure such grace maybe extended to all.

* denotes, Under another context the suckees or those sucked, both by diving and suckery, are considered cows, by virtue of they be liken unto that animal for the "milk" taken by the suckerer; where with it is churned into cheese (Prov 30).
