To Whom it May Concern:

Maribel Prieto has worked for me at Telemundo/NBC Network for two years, as an IT Exchange Administrator. I am writing this letter to confirm that her recent layoff from Telemundo was not in any way tied to her performance, and to highly recommend her as an employee with your organization.

Had I been given the choice, I would not have lost Maribel. However it was not my decision to make. Our organization Telemundo/NBC has decided to consolidate our resources in New York. As a result, Telemundo/NBC drastically reduced the size of its workforce by restructuring most of the IT organization within Telemundo. Unfortunately, this major reorganization left no other position open for Maribel. We regretfully had to let her go.

Maribel is a conscientious, highly-motivated IT professional, worthy of any position. She has keen technical skills and support abilities. Maribel's willingness to help and excellent people skills have consistently received rave reviews from our technical staff as well as our user base. Should conditions at Telemundo change, I wouldn't hesitate to rehire her.

If you would like to speak to me about Maribel's skills, talents and work habits, feel free to call (305) 889-6961 or my cell phone (786) 412-8186.

Sincerely,

Franklin Davila
