

Contents Page

Chapter One: Introduction

1.1 The Modern Cinderella

1.2 A Macro Vision of the World

1.2.1 Old Theories and New Methodology

1.2.2 Examples of Macro-Analysis

1.2.3 Information Revolution

1.2.4 A Sceptical View on the Information Revolution

1.3 The Knowledge-Value Revolution

1.3.1 The Innovation of Sakaiya

1.3.2 Errors in Sakaiya's Theory

1.3.3 Lessons from Sakaiya and Others

Chapter Two: Popular Culture

2.1 Introduction

2.2 Twins and Popular Music

2.2.1 December 1st 2001 – A Day of Insignificance

2.2.2 A Closer Look at Twins and Their Production

2.2.3 The Superstars Phenomenon

2.3 Comic and Movie

2.3.1 Comics and Popular Visual Arts

2.3.2 Movies and Modern Literature

2.3.3 General Comments on Popular Culture

Chapter Three: From Homer to Christ

3.1 Introduction

3.2 Humanism and Classical Greece

3.2.1 Greek Polytheism

3.2.2 Music, Literature, Sculpture, Athletics

3.2.3 Thrive for Knowledge

3.2.4 Perception on Wealth and Goods

3.3 The Rise and Fall of the Greek World

3.3.1 The Shaping of the Hellenistic World

3.3.2 Signs of Decadence in Classical Greece

3.3.3 Collapse of the Classical Mentality

3.3.4 The Hellenistic Age

3.4 Last Phase of Antiquity – The Roman Age

3.4.1 Latin culture of the Romans

3.4.2 Reasons of Roman Cultural Backwardness

3.4.3 Embrace of Christianity

3.4.4 Fall of the Western Roman Empire

3.5 Hagiography and Dark Age Europe

3.5.1 Miracles, Magic, and Early Christianity

3.5.2 Variety of Saints

- 3.5.3 Merger of Heaven and Earth
- 3.5.4 Literary Style in the Dark Age
- 3.5.5 Concept of Wealth and Political Instability

Chapter Four: The Rise of Europe

4.1 Introduction

4.2 The Spiritual Awakening

- 4.2.1 Economic, Political, and Social Mutations
- 4.2.2 Revival of Humanism
- 4.2.3 The Attempt of the Scholars
- 4.2.4 Origins of the Great Awakening

4.3 Renaissances and Reformation

- 4.3.1 The Italian and Northern Renaissance
- 4.3.2 The Coming of Reformation
- 4.3.3 Lutheranism, Calvinism and Puritanism

4.4 Philosophers and the Scientific Revolution

- 4.4.1 Study of Nature in the West before Copernicus
- 4.4.2 The Copernican Revolution
- 4.4.3 The Cartesian Revolution
- 4.4.4 The Enlightenment Age

4.5 The Romantic Protest

- 4.5.1 Conflict between Science and Experience
- 4.5.2 Arts in the Age of Reason
- 4.5.3 Romantic Philosophy
- 4.5.4 Romantic Paintings, Literature and Music

Chapter Five: The End of Humanism

5.1 Introduction

5.2 Impressionism and the Modern Age

- 5.2.1 Monet and the Beginning of Impressionism
- 5.2.2 Evolutionism and Transience
- 5.2.3 Human Experience and Scientific Vision
- 5.2.4 Passivity and Aestheticism

5.3 Information Age, Post-Modernism and Beyond

- 5.3.1 Civilization and Humanism
- 5.3.2 A New Vision of Western History
- 5.3.3 The Long Twentieth-Century
- 5.3.4 From Expressionism to Minimalism
- 5.3.5 Popular Culture and the Contemporary World
- 5.3.6 A Bold Projection into the Mysterious Future