

Support The Unprofessionals raising money for Cancer Research UK.

Team Unprofessionals are competing in the 2006 Home 2 Rome challenge, and are looking for sponsors to help them on the way to raising £1500 in sponsorship money for Cancer Research UK.

The event is a challenge to drive a car costing £100 or less from Calais in France on day 1 through the Swiss Alps to Rome in Italy by the end of day 4, a distance of 1500 miles. Challenges will be set for the teams to complete on the way.

The Unprofessionals are a team of friends from Oxford, Swindon and Leeds including
Bus Industry Discussion
Yahoo group moderators John Hammond & Craig Miller.
