

Green Angel

Author: Unknown

I dreamed I went to Heaven and on the golden stair
I saw an angel dressed in green with a halo in her hair,
And she looked kind of funny midst all the glorious white,
The others asked her jealously what gave her such a right.
"I'm a Girl Scout Leader; I have no claim to fame,
But being a Girl Scout Leader is more than just a name.
My jobs on earth were many; Praises and thanks were few,
I did more work in one day than ten people ought to do.
I was a ready helper, the best home nurse to be found,
I became an expert discoverer and a whiz at art in the round,
I helped girls to develop values, I taught them to dance and sing,
We learned to relate to others for the friendships that would bring.
I hiked the trails until my feet could never win a race,
I sang the Brownie Smile Song till the smile froze on my face.
But still it was a lot of fun; Life never was a bore,
This role isn't new to me
I've been an angel before."
