FEW's Federal Career Enhancing Training Best Pricing Deadline Fast Approaching

Orlando Training Program Highlights "Keys to Success – Unlock Your Potential"

[Washington, D. C., May 25, 2009] - Federally Employed Women's (FEW), 40th National Training Program (NTP) continues to be the premier training experience for women. This year FEW celebrates its 40th National Training Program, and the theme "Keys to Success" is reflective of FEW's history as an organization that embraces training as a critical means to helping more women succeed in their chosen career field. The May 29 early registration deadline is fast approaching for courses that target entry-level employees as well as senior decision- and policy-makers in the civilian and military arenas and the private sector.

This dynamic, professional and fast-paced training program offers more than 100 workshops on the most current subjects. Leadership workshops are closely aligned with the Office of Personnel Management leadership competencies. This year we have added "Training Tracks" in the following categories: Executive Leadership, Project Management, Administrative Professional, Military Connection, Science and Technology and Federal Women's Program.

Training Tracks provide employees with a clear path for subject matter achievement within our training program and provide managers an inventory of skills to be obtained while attending the NTP. Training Tracks are groupings/selections of training classes, for a variety of job functions and career paths, in which progress can be easily verified for enrolled students. Training Track subjects are varied, which will motivate one toward goals and provide a sense of accomplishment after the track is completed. Training Tracks provide managers tools to ensure that their employees are enrolled in various courses, which will result in career-enhancing training and a better-trained employee. Training is designed to provide all federal, private and public employees, including military personnel, with the tools necessary to establish and build successful careers. FEW's NTP offers a wide range of activities from motivational speakers to networking opportunities.

"Take charge of your own career by registering for this event. Meet with your supervisor early to discuss how this training program will help you meet your career goals. FEW's NTP holds the Keys to Success. Unlock your potential by joining us in Orlando for a week of exceptional training and networking." -- FEW National President Sue Webster.
