A chimp there was, he lived in the Ukraine.
This is the story of his rise to fame.
His life as a monkey was lived just fine,
Until Democrats came, cruel by design.
5 They dumped nuclear waste right by his home.
His family was consumed by deadly foam.
He was the only chimp still left alive.
And he played in the waste 'till he was five.
His mind and body grew beyond belief.
10 He grew real shrewd and then became a thief.
He moved to England, there to start a life.
He stole and mugged and later bought a fief.
He met a woman and this changed his mind,
Of his continuing a life of crime.
15 For Her he would do almost anything.
His love led him to want to dance and sing.
It turned out that his voice was very keen.
He was adored by almost every teen.
His popularity grew without bound.
20 He loved this new talent that he had found.
His name was plastered on every billboard.
But never did he thank his King and Lord.
The Lord wants thanks for gifts he freely gives.
Not greed and spite no matter how he lives.
25 This chimp took counsel with the fools and liars.
For this the Lord gave him to his desires.
His life lived in selfishness was a waste.
For he disregarded Gods loving face.
But now this tale is coming to a close.
30 I'll show you now how God deals with his foes.
