

Connie: She never gave up.

Subject: 704 came home.

It is amazing what some good fanciers will do to help a lost bird get home.
Last year it was a fancier near New York who went way beyond the call of duty to get one of my birds back to Canada.

This time it was Connie who I wrote about in a previous article that did the same.

<http://www.pigeonracing.org/>

First she looked after the bird and gave him first class treatment after he got lost coming home from a 'mean' Matheson race. Then she tossed him at 15 km and the bird came back to her loft. Then she drove 80 km past Kingston and tossed the bird again. This time he found his home after 4 hours on the wing.

People like Connie will keep you in the game.

Thanks for all your effort and good sportsmanship.

You deserve a medal.

Tom Brouwer.

