

On April 20th 2006 I “played” a psychic and predicted who would be in contention for Average Speed at the end of the 2006 season.

In that article I mentioned a few conditions why these fanciers would be in contention. How is the psychic doing??

In that article I predicted that Tony Alves, R. Rotiroti, B. Sheridan (Pondview), Mike & Wally and T. de Munnik would be in contention.

On June 14th 2006 the following fanciers were leading.

1. Rotiroti
2. T.Alvess
3. Pondview.
4. B. Heuvelman.
5. T.de Munnink.
6. Mike and Wally.

I think this psychic knows what he is talking about. Keep smiling. Brouwer

P.S. Some people want me to use my special powers to predict the winner of the world cup. After watching Holland’s last game I am worried. To get to the semi-finals your team must be better than your opponents. The Dutch were not. I am worried about the game against Portugal.
