

MEDICAL ASTROLOGY

Morris A Bradley 1978

Do the actions of Planets affect a person's health? Are people born under certain Sun Signs of the Zodiac predisposed to certain diseases or illnesses? Can forthcoming possible sickness be predicted through the examination of Natal Horoscope Charts? If one knows of these weaknesses in advance can preventative action be taken? Is the Medical Fraternity investigating the claims made by Diagnosticians that employ astro-analysis or astro-psyche-therapy? The answer to all of these questions is a definite, big YES!!

A natal horoscope is a chart that has been compiled for a person who has supplied all the details to a competent astrologer, and these details would be~ date of birth, place of birth, (latitude . longitude) and the time of birth, down to the exact minute if possible. Once this chart is formulated from this information we then have the stellar patterns at the moment of birth of that individual, and it applies specifically to that person alone.

Once the chart is made, an Astrologer can see the relationships of each of the planets plus the Sun and Moon, to each other and their relationship and effect that they have on the individual. How can we be affected by the Planets, one would ask, or why should we? Well, firstly, I feel that by now most enlightened people realise that the Sun and the Moon have an effect on every organic and inorganic type of matter that exists on the Earth plane, and as we humans are composed of this matter, why should we be so smug as to think that it does not apply to us as well.

People plant by the Moon, fish by the Moon, even mate by the Moon .the tides are affected by the Moon, and Sun spots send out vast clouds of electro—magnetic energy that affects the Earth atmosphere, causing storms, nervous disorders in people and may even trigger off earthquakes and volcanic eruptions. Little by little, the space moguls are gathering information that the other planets such as Jupiter, Venus, Saturn and Neptune, even little Mercury, all bring “lines of some strange magnetic current” into the Earth's Force Field and have some significant effect on the growth and production of all life forms.

If a person's chart at Birth shows that several planets are in bad aspects to one another during the conception period, then it must be obvious that the cells that are growing in the Foetus must be influenced by these “Lines of Force” that are flowing through them; therefore there could be some directions implanted in the coding system that will dictate the growl ~ intellectual pattern of the child when born. It is also known that the envirc>: per~m~ thrust into will have an added effect on the strength or weaknesses portrayed on ~he chart, so one must consider this factor as well when making predictions in respect to health patterns.

Take, for an example, two people who had similar configurations on their Charts that indicated the susceptibility to catching colds etc. Naturally, during transits (tran— sits are when a planet or a luminary are passing over another planetary position shown on a Natal chart) the health could be extra good or really low, according to the configuration that it is aspecting at the time. However, if one knew that some specific period was bad for catching colds, then more personal care can be exercised, thus mm— imising the risk, or even avoiding it altogether. So here we see that to be “Forewarned is to be forearmed” and if this works, as I feel it does, then we have true preventitive medicine.

Transits definitely “trigger off” action in sensitive areas of a persons chart and there are a great number of ways that the Planets can aspect each other, therefore this complexity does make it difficult to establish exact formulas which will pinpoint the presence, either latent or active, of any given disease. However, there are certain guidelines that one can follow that can suggest broadly that certain diseases do tend to be associated with certain Signs of the Zodiac, and I have listed some of the more common ones believed to come under these signs on the page in this book with the drawings of the Chakras on it. Many of you, as you read this chart, may say “I am a Piscean, and I have never had any of these complaints”, but remember if you are still alive, there is time yet, and also remember that it is only suggested that these are the ailments that you could suffer from, providing you get sick first, for if you have abundant good health and always have had to date, then naturally you have not been affected by any of these maladies.

Then there could be others who read the chart and find out that they have had all the illnesses attributed to the Libra Sun sign, yet they were born under Aries, the opposite sign of the Zodiac. When this happens, it is called Reflex Action, indicating that you suffer from the sign opposed to your own birth sign. Another aspect to consider is the RISING SIGN on a Natal Chart, for if this is a strong point one would tend to suffer from the ailments associated with that sign. My own chart is an example, for I am born under the Sign of Pisces and have had all those sicknesses; my Rising Sign on the first house of the Chart is Sagittarius and I have had those health problems and I have a strongly posited MOON in Cancer, and in times past I have been troubled with the Cancerian ailments; so there it is.

Over the last few years, I have collected and done hundreds of Natal Charts for people suffering from just about every known complaint and to me a pattern has emerged from this study that is highly reliable in diagnoses of diseases and sicknesses, especially those associated with mental and nerve disorders that result from psychological problems. Not only that, it can reveal one's unconscious motivations quicker than any other known type of psycho-analysis and many well known Psychiatrists in different countries are now employing the services of competent professional astrologers to help the location of hidden mental disturbances. Why, some of the early "fathers of psychiatry" were astrologers and used this method of diagnosis.

TI stars and the Planets incline us towards certain actions, but don't compel us, so even if a chart does show inherent or congenital weaknesses in the health patterns, one can still largely overcome these by self discipline, proper diet, personal hygiene and harmonious thoughts.

After all, it must be remembered that even modern day medical diagnosis, with its Xrays, blood tests and other means of detection falls far short of infallibility and it has been said in several research polls that as much as 25 percent of normal diagnostic work is wrong.

I, myself, always place a lot of importance on the position of Jupiter and Saturn on a person's chart, in respect to health patterns and career choices, for many prominent scientists, for instance, have the planet Saturn rising in the Eastern Zone, in the 12th House, just above the Horizon, and when this position is occupied by Jupiter instead, one tends to find a predominance of Actors or Politicians.

In health patterns, if Jupiter is above the Horizon and in good aspect, then the illnesses attributed to Saturn will occur more readily, and if Saturn is rising and above the Horizon, while Jupiter is below, then the Jupiterian illnesses can occur.

Jupiter is the planet associated with EXPANSION, Wisdom and Law, whereas Saturn tends to be a restrictive influence giving LIMITATIONS, or having an inhibiting effect. If a person's chart shows a lot of Malefic planets such as Saturn, Uranus, Neptune, Pluto and Mars, rising in the Eastern Zone of the Chart and afflicted to the Ascendent, the Mid heaven point, or the Sun and Moon, or even if they are afflicted to the 6th house (health), then one can expect bad health problems over a prolonged period for this person.

sow, on the other hand, if the MOON is free from affliction and is well aspected to Jupiter, Venus and the Ascendent house is not tenanted by a malefic planet, then one can expect good health, and if the Sun is sitting unafflicted in the 6th house as well, then the health should be excellent. If a person has a serious complaint from early childhood and one is trying to find out when it first started, you will find that if the Sun is below the Horizon, then you were born with it, but if the Moon is below the Horizon, then the chances are it started after your birth. People with Saturn badly aspected in Scorpio tend to suffer from constipation and bone calcification or rotten teeth as well.

The 6th house on a person's chart is considered to be related to the Health patterns and when tenanted by different Planets can indicate benefic patterns or sickness; for example:

	Unafflicted:	Afflicted:
The Sun	Good health	Organic complaints
The Moon	Good emotional balance	Functional complaints, stomach trouble.
Mercury	Good nerves	Bad nerves, breathing difficulty, intestines(bad)
Venus		Bad throat, kidneys, diabetes, genital organs.
Mars	Great vitality	Operations, accidents, fevers, cell damage, burns.
Jupiter	Good health	Leukemia, obesity, anemia, liver and pancreas trouble
Saturn	Good bone structure	Colds, rheumatics, sprains, debility, slow
Uranus	Miracle cures	Nerves, cramps, paralysis, incurable diseases
Neptune	Very sensitive	Atrophy, hypochondria, comas, mental confusion. contagious diseases, deformities, epilepsy, drugs, alcohol.
Pluto	A healer	Deep seated and chronic diseases, toxic diseases, bowel and bladder disorders, infectious complaints, suppressed emotions and other psychological disorders.

This gives some indications of possible health problems that could occur under adverse circumstances when these planets are tenanted the 6th house. Now if you look at the Chart with the Chakras on, showing the signs of the Zodiac with their associated diseases, and combine the two you can get an even better indication. For example, Aries shows the relationship to head, face, teeth, eyes – so, if the Sun was in Aries and posited in the 6th house, and badly aspected by affliction to other planets, then one could expect the possibility of organic complaints (6th house Sun position) to the head face, teeth, etc. (1st sign of the Zodiac). So, finally, when some transit occurred over this area, or in bad aspect to this area, something could be “triggered” off healthwise.

Attached to the start of this article is a copy of a natal chart used in compiling a person’s Horoscope and listed on this are the “Houses” and their function. The chart is drawn for the first point of the Sun in Aries, and Aries rising with the Moon in Aries as well. Located in each house near the centre of the Circle you will see marked the natural ruler for each house, such as Mars for Aries, Venus for Taurus, and so on.

It would take several volumes to deal with Astrology alone, and many more for Medical Astrology to be discussed or to be proved, and this is not the purpose of this article. I have only briefly touched on it so that the reader may understand that “there are more things under Heaven and Earth that we yet have to know”, so don’t brush things like this aside lightly, just because some prejudiced “big head”, who has never as much as read a book on the subject tells you it is a load of rubbish.

Astrology, in the hands of a professional operator, is a divine science and has a very definite place in this physical world. The Churches, on the whole, condemn it, and accuse us of being fortune tellers, black magicians, peepers, mutters etc., but they have condemned a lot of things in the past, and were wrong about them also.

They condemned Kepler, Issac Newton, Copernicus –even Paracelsus, Farraday and a whole host of others –at one stage the early Catholic Fathers, back in the 5th to 6th centuries, even had a go at banning sex in some areas. I am sure glad that one didn’t take on, otherwise I might not be here today. I am not going to suggest that they stick to subjects they know, for judging by the mess they are in nowadays, they don’t even know their own subject. Then, again, I suppose if your own thing is falling to pieces around you, then the only other thing left to do is to attach everything else in the hope that others will look away from you, to someone else, thereby saving you some embarrassment.

There are many good books being published on Medical Astrology, even though it isn’t yet a widely popular subject; however, my suggestion is to look around and to give some study to this “new age” diagnostic method. I have been working on a book myself for some considerable time and it is hoped that one day I will finish it, and get it published, GOD willing that is.

One paradox I find often occurring today is that certain famous Religionists give praise and the credit to GOD for inspiring scientists in the present, and the past, to produce “new revelations” that assist in the growth of Mankind.

When these people are trying to convince us that GOD is “alive and well” and that Men like Sir Isaac Newton etc., or Men of his scientific calibre claim, or have claimed, to have received “divine inspiration” from up above that helped them in their discoveries. Often you will see them use this as an example of GOD’s concern for his children on Earth, yet a great proportion of these scientists in their days were practising Astrologers or were involved in Occult studies. Yes, that is correct – the self—same studies that the Religionists banned then, and still do now. Herein lies the paradox; if Astrology and Occultism are the products of Satanism, why did GOD work through these men; does GOD take evil people who are alienated from him to do his work? It doesn’t make any sense to me.

Astrology is like many other studies, one can work with it to help mankind, or to hinder, the choice is up to the operator –it is like healing. The same energy force that is used to send out absent healing can be utilised to make people sick; the choice is yours. Scientists can use atomic energy to help humanity or destroy it, and this is the same with all things revealed of GOD, to Man. GOD supplies the information and gives Man the choice as to how he applies it; this is what is called “free will”. If a Man on a horse used it to hold up banks, run people down killing them, or lead people to gamble away their life savings on the horse’s ability to win a race, or rush into your garden and eat up all the growing vegetables, or leave its droppings all over the road, should we because of this ban the horse? It would be a bit of a change from banning the bomb etc. Because some accountants and solicitors have been unscrupulous enough to embezzle the funds of other people, do we banish the study of Law and Accountancy?

Sometimes Doctors have inadvertently made a wrong diagnosis of a patient’s state of Health and accidentally prescribed the wrong treatment, with bad results, do we banish medicine? So it goes on, a whole string of questions that need some answers. Some things are a gift of GOD and man has not realised it yet, and Astrology is one of these. Also, the Religionists think that Astrology demeans GOD, where in point of fact, it glorifies his “creation” and shows one a perfect balance of the universe that could not have been some creative accident. To all condemners of Astrology I offer this suggestion –why not take time to study something about it, without bigotry or prejudice and you may be surprised how quickly you can sense the finger of GOD in this work.
