

PHILOSOPHICAL AND ESOTERIC LAWS AND PRINCIPLES

Morris A Bradley 1977

THREE PRINCIPLES OF CREATION

- (a) The Universe is filled with pure, motionless, formless Spirits of Creativity, and pure divine light and energy.
- (b) The Universe is a boundless circle, whose circumference is everywhere yet whose centre is nowhere. It is a duality of both the material and the Spiritual.
- (c) The life principle emanates from the pure vertices, of a central Sun (Brotherhood, or Elohim, as written in Genesis). From this inconceivable centre of life emanates Spiritual rays of creative force.

LAW IN ASSOCIATION WITH THE TRIANGLE

It is to be noted that right throughout the World the symbolic triangle appears in its traditional shape, and as it has three sides to it, each being equal proportion to the other, we can guess that the Ancients used this design to keep jogging our memory of the importance of, number 3 in Esoteric Law, for nearly everything seems to be compounded of three parts, or the multiples of three.

Take for instance, the body of MAN, the Trinity applies here, for Man has ~ body, spirit and soul, a conscious mind, a sub-conscious mind and the super-conscious mind.

TO EXIST SUCCESSFULLY IN THIS ENVIRONMENT MAN NEEDS:

1. Physical harmony in ones surroundings.
2. Spiritual purity, plus complete isolation from currents of impure thoughts.
3. To know that if we evolve the states within us, that without, will take care of itself, for the Spirit correctly harnessed, will guide and discipline the body, bringing it to perfection.

The Law for this is to know the divinity that is within you, so that by doing this, you may get to know the Divine Spirit (God Jehovah) of which your Soul is but a Ray of Light.

The LAW OF KARMA is that you meet your past life in your present body and this is known as the Law of Cause and Consequence.

PHYSICAL LAWS demonstrate that for every action there is an opposite - an equal reaction..

SPIRITUAL LAWS show that faith is the motivator of all things, good or evil. (positive or negative) and that all faculties accrued in any life, do not perish on death but are carried forward eternally.

WHO OR WHAT IS AN ADEPT

A person becomes known as an “adept” when they have learned all of the Esoteric Laws of this World, and possess a complete knowledge of the workings of the Spirit. Once these principles are understood clearly, the human Soul can triumph over physical matter. In other words,

THE ETHERIC DOUBLE

The Etheric Double is a substance between the physical body and the Aura. Usually it is bluish grey in colour and is the exact counterpart of the human flesh and blood body.

Etheric doubles that have become unattached from a person on death, and this can happen in explosions that cause death suddenly, quite often turn up at séances or in development circles, their purpose being, to dissipate their electrical energy field. These forms are quite often mistaken for “lost souls”, earthbound spirits, and many unenlightened mediums” conducting these groups waste a whole evening trying to “rescue” them.

On other occasions, the “detached etheric”, when seen, has been mistaken for a wraith, which is a totally different thing altogether.

It is possible to see through the “spiritual eye” the “etheric double” of some good friend who has passed over, and when you try to contact the “shade” physically, in most cases it won’t recognise you, for the etheric is not attached to the person’s sub-conscious mind. Therefore, they have no knowledge of that person’s life style while existing in the earth’s environment. This type of phenomena confuses many people who work with the spirit, and in time the presence of the said “etheric being” can be quite a nuisance, if one lacks the knowledge of how to dispose of it.

There are other instances where a detached etheric will find a “damaged spirit”. By this I mean, due to some type of violent death or sometimes due to suicide, the sub-conscious and the conscious spirit parts, which stay united on death, are separated due to extreme shock, and the energised “shade” of another person will attach itself to one part of the spirit entity, and believe he is someone else. So what you have here is a spirit of perhaps someone you once knew, with all of the form (if it is the sub-conscious mind) of another person, or the personality (if it selects the conscious mind) of another entity.

It requires a lot of skill for the medium controlling the séance, or teaching a circle to be able to discern these variety of spirit forms that can and do appear during the course of development. Therefore, one must test everything thoroughly for it is easy to be tricked.

There are even a lower type of astral form, almost like a Fairy, that seems to take great delight in snatching up some departed beings sub-conscious mind that still happens to be in an earthbound state, then moving into a circle claiming to be “so and so”. They will furnish a whole lot of pertinent information about the particular being long since gone, perhaps, and the gullible controller of the circle will claim that because of the proof supplied to the group, that they have really made a genuine, and important contact from the other side. In the past I have proved this to be true on a number of occasions when Mediums have come to me and said that Christopher Columbus has made contact, or the next door neighbour, who passed away last month is bringing through a wealth of information, but I finally show them their delusion.

How I treat the validity of this myself is not by attending the Circle to hear it at first hand, but by finding out the time and place where the group meets. Then I lie down in a quiet room, allow my spirit to move out into the astral from where I can overlook the proceedings and see who, and what, is present in the spirit, and who is fooling who. I have also done this on many occasions while visiting Spiritual Church meetings and watching “Platform Clairvoyants” supposedly bring through messages from the other side to their loved ones still here on earth.

The sooner these Sunday Clairvoyant entertainers realise that an entity from anywhere in the Astral realm, can attach itself to them as they work and can go out into the Audience sitting there, and pick the brains or read the thought patterns which are visible to them, and then transfer these memories or information back to the medium, who in turn gives off the messages which astound the listeners. It is even possible for these strange astral entities to predict the future, through the medium, concerning the listener’s plans, for as we all work on what is known as “parallel paths” once we pass a milestone in our lives, and there are many of them, we set off a chain reaction of events to do with our Karma, and these events must come to pass, until we reach the next milestone, where we have the chance to change paths, which can alter our thought processes, and our whole way of living. So, some of these people who receive proof, through the prediction of the future, should realise that the Spirit who has identified himself to you through the medium speaking, could be a great big phoney having a good laugh at everyone’s expense, including the Clairvoyant.

Another interesting thing is the “thought form creation”. I have given many public demonstrations to “psychic sensitives” on this subject, and conducted some unusual experiments concerning this manifestation. Briefly, what happens is that if a person has strong Telekinetic gifts, they can conjure up a creation in the subconscious mind, using psycho-kinetic energy. If properly created and projected mentally, other “sensitives” can perceive this “creation” believing it to be a genuine “spirit being”. During these experiments I have created giant Rabbits, Flaming Crosses, six foot high carrots, diamonds and a whole host of things. All of these have been seen by psychics, and have then watched me reverse the process and destroy these creations. This is one of the main fundamental parts of MAGIC known to the “old Magis”, which included the Maori Tohunga of New Zealand, who created these fearsome and quite often, monstrous, entities, and so great was the emanations of fear emitting from them that they kept people away from a certain area, without having to erect fences.

Prior to going out one Sunday to a Spiritualist meeting, I told the people accompanying me that I would create one of these entities and place it standing up, behind a certain person who would be present that evening, as they were a regular attender to that Hall, and see if the working medium that was in attendance that night would pick up the “creation”. I went into great detail, giving it certain information about the period it was supposed to have lived in, which in this case was the 12th century in England. This created personage was a Knight, supposedly just returned from the Crusades, and still in full Armour, with a big cross on the jerkin that covered his chain mail. Finally, I implanted the thought that the creation was a special guide to this man, that had been chosen, and whom was seated in the audience.

At the end of the service proper, the clairvoyant arose and started to work. As the evening wore on, she seemed to get further and further away from my creation, and I was feeling a bit dejected, for it seemed that the demonstration that I had carefully prepared for my colleagues, had fallen through. Finally, the medium said, ~‘I will do just one more, because, it is getting late’, and after a bit: of a look around, she went straight to the man in question, giving more than a reasonable description of the Knight in Shining Armour that was to be his “guide” in the future. I have several witnesses to verify that this is the truth of what happened, so there you are, who is fooling who. There may be some readers who will accuse me of playing games, or trying to discredit “spiritualism”. This is not so, for I am a Spiritualist myself, and my whole aim in life is to remove the “untrained, irresponsible, big-headed knowalls” out of the organisation, and for once, try to make the Philosophy respectable, by casting the “money changers out of the Temple”, as Jesus did in days of old.

Millions of people, throughout the world, seek Spiritual counselling, for many and varied reasons best known to themselves. Therefore, they have the inherited right to receive the TRUTH, not all the exhibitionism that is purveyed, yes sold, under the guise of Church Building Funds, etc, that they could probably get off some wandering Gypsy or an old Aunty that reads tea cups for fun.

It is unfortunate that movies, television programmes, etc, always seem to portray Spiritualism or “mediums” in rather a bad light, but this is not without foundation, for there are some very unscrupulous scoundrels involved in the field of Pseudo-spiritual work, and the whole thing, if one is not careful, can be a big “rip-off”, involving huge sums of money, even sometimes a person’s whole life savings have been donated to some Churches, to allegedly “further the good work”, or so it is announced.

However, GOD blesses those genuine people who may be a bit confused, at the moment, who work for the Spirit, seeking no reward whatsoever, not even public recognition.
