

SPIRIT MESSAGES

Where do they come from?

Morris Bradley 1981

This relates to all forms of messages and information that one can receive through para-normal sensitivity. These are perceivable on different levels of consciousness in accordance with ones own inner development in relation to SOUL growth.

MESSAGES CAN COME FROM:

1. The seven levels of the Fairy Kingdom.
2. The uncleansed dead (i.e. those who are still in an earthbound state.)
3. Elementals. (Sometimes referred to as spirits who have been denied the flesh)
4. Elemental creations (These things are the products of thoughts that collect memories from dead beings, or other forms of information or personalities, but are not 'thought forms' as we know them.
5. Ministering angels, Guardian Angels, archangels, Seraphim and Cherubim, etc..
6. Spirit Guides, teachers, helpers, etc..
7. From one's own subconscious. When one has an inner desire to bring something about but feels that they lack the prestige or authority to give weight to this desire, then the subconscious mind gives birth to some famous personality, such as God, Christ or some other famous teacher, writer, philosopher or space being. And the thoughts from ones own mind come forth and affix the famous name to it in the hope that the readers or listeners will take the message more seriously. This can be accompanied with accents. Or even in other languages that are pulled out from the depth of the subject's mind in an effort to give more credence to the message. As so many of us have lived through many ages and nations, and the germ of each creation or incarnation is still locked within us, it is not hard to speak such messages in another tongue. After all this manifestation occurs all the time in most Pentecostal church orders, and is called Glossalalia. Because of the nature of this action one will believe in the truthfulness of the 'message' no matter how inane it appears, and in most cases all these messages have a similar style that reflect ones early childhood teachings and belief in a traditional God concept. Nothing new ever seems to come out of these messages, which are full of the same well-worn cliches that one hears over and over again or reads in religious tracts.

8. Unconscious telepathy from others. In this instance there can be people who are psychics, but don't know it, and with the intensity of their desires to hear something about a dead relative, or pet or friend, (and this can be done on a conscious level or through the sub-conscious desires) a type of transmission takes place from the sitter to the sensitive, who is sitting there as an open channel waiting for the vibrations from beyond, which in reality are only crossing the room. An experiment to conduct in order to prove this is to get a small group of sensitives, and prior to attending a circle, séance or clairvoyant demonstration, formulate a fictitious personality who has once lived. Then sit and consciously project the thought. 9 times out of 10 the 'sensitive' operating the group will pick up the groups thought projection and relegate it to some member in the audience.
9. Messages can come from ones own spirit family. This is a group of spirit beings that you are aligned with and they have been cleansed and uplifted from the pull of the physical plain. This can be a great source of help.
10. Ones own intellect or spiritual ability to tune into the Logoic Consciousness will produce messages and information of a very high standard and this is called Spiritual Vision.
11. Being able to tap the Akashic records can also be a source of information., and people like Edgar Cayce are able to do this while in a state of self-hypnosis.
12. Psychometry. This is a sensing of vibrations or radiations, so one can say that 'if it exists, then it can be sensed', no matter whether it is mineral, vegetable or animal. As well as all this it is possible to sense the etheric vibrations, such as radio waves, magnetic fields, electricity, and light waves. This is often referred to as soul reading, meaning the soul of everything. Occult science tells us that everything has a physical and spiritual vibration. Some call the spiritual vibration the etheric emanation or the bio-energetic life force. This energy force seems to trap other vibrations of the things around it, and when the psychometrist feels for these vibrations, they are often portrayed in the mind symbolically, or as real pictures.
13. Dreams. These can be a source of information often with pre-cognitive trends and the Bible verifies this in the Book of Isaiah, where it says that 'God will teach man through dreams and give warning in a like manner'. This is born out in the case of Joseph, the man with the coat of many colours, who was able to forecast the 7-year famine that would descend upon Egypt. There are many other instances as well covering this facet of revelation. In fact there are whole textbooks that relate solely to dream interpretations, giving symbols for different forthcoming events, and I know personally from first hand experiences of dreams predicting events would happen, and have had symbolic dreams that when translated gave a clear picture of things to avoid or to action. One dream I had seemed so impossible that I recorded it in exact detail and let as many people read it as I could, and they in turn thought it to be impossible. It occurred in exact detail as I saw it in the dream, but this was 4 years later.

14. Extra-terrestrials. This relates to people or beings from other dimensions or people who once existed but moved into an etheric state and often materialise from the past to see how we are progressing at the moment. The Atlanteans are notorious for this type of behaviour and can help or hinder.
15. Delusions/Hallucinations. This can produce messages and one may be freaked out on drugs or saturated in alcohol, while others may be sensing psychic possessions or obsessions, or due to prolonged stress factors are suffering severe psychological disorientation which could result in a break down or bring about some form of mental disease.
16. Divination. This includes Tarot Card reading, Palmistry, I Ching, Spin the Glass, Teacup Reading, and Numerology. Dowsing could come under this , but I feel that it is under psychometry.
17. Astrological Sciences. This can show the past, present and future trends based on the scientific movement and dispositions of the Sun, Moon, Planets and Stars in relationships to the movement of our Earth.
18. Tape Recorders. This is a system that has been tested where a microphone on a tape deck is left on with a new tape in there to record anything around other than the extraneous environmental noises. Some operators have captured thousands of messages in this manner, seemingly out of the atmosphere, and often they are in a variety of languages. This phenomenon is being soundly investigated as there are many possible explanations. And some of the messages could be simply captured out of the 'ether' under freak conditions from people who are still alive and don't know that their voices are being recorded in this manner. However, some of the messages received in this way definitely seem to be from people who have expired from the physical, for they state this in their recording. There is much to be learned in this area.
19. Photographs. Messages and pictures of past or future events have appeared on photographic plates or polaroid films, and these have been tested by experts who can give no rational explanation for this phenomenon.
20. Spirit Writing. This is divided into two sections. One is called automatic writing, where the writer feels someone or something take over the physical manipulation of the pen or pencil and quite often will write in a whole variety of styles, each totally different from the writer's style. For instance, I know a left handed writer who when under 'control' will write with the right hand, which is something they cannot do under normal circumstances.. The automatic writers will also write in other languages. Of which they have no knowledge. Some often do what is commonly termed mirror writing where after the message is written one has to take a mirror and read the reflected image. Many spirit writers are what one could term as inspirational writers, where they use their own style of handwriting and seem to sense the words in their mind, or in some cases see the words written down, so that all they have to do is copy what they see.

21. There is also a type of writing that one could term as 'spirit graffiti' and authors of such works are wide and varied, from the lowest type of poltergeist to the highest of the ministering angels, as was the case in the Book of Daniel where Nebuchadnezzar saw the 'writing on the wall' at the Feast of Belshazzar. It is said that God wrote these words on the wall with a fiery finger. The same action would apply to the Tablets of the 10 commandments, where it is said that God's fiery finger etched the words into the stone slabs. I have firsthand knowledge of written messages appearing on mirrors or bits of paper and have seen flaming words written in the air, giving advice.
22. Hypnotic regression. All types of messages and stories (or should we say flights of fancy) come through this medium of communication. Although I am a rabid reincarnationist I find that there are too many other possible explanations for such information, and it in no way proves that one has lived before. The reason for this is that once a person goes into a hypnotic state they are virtually in a normal medium trance condition, the same as any psychic medium would be if giving a trance control talk or a reading. I was very interested in hypnotism many years ago and in a concentrated study of the subject using the famous Professor Orton method. I also worked with the Great Norwood, who was an illusionist and hypnotist, and I learnt much from him. Now through the use of my own clairvoyant ability I was able to see that when regression experiments were conducted, and I sat in on many of them, the 'spirit' or being that was speaking through the entranced subject was in no way at all related to that person, and it was purely a case of the uncleansed dead person taking the opportunity of speaking through a living human being, while the ones gathered around documenting the information were believing that it was a part of the sitters pre-existence. Naturally if this was the soul of someone who had lived before, they would be able to give details of their own incarnation, but this does not prove that the sitter was that person in another life. It is my personal opinion that if such regression tests were done with accomplished mediums in attendance, that contact with the spirit contactee judged scientifically would prove that this was the case in a great number of instances. I am not saying that it is impossible to find out about previous existences, but I don't believe that the average hypnotist has the ability or the occult knowledge to discern truth from fiction. Some say it is impossible, for how can you hear of a past existence when the person has reincarnated. To these people I can only say that you lack the understanding of the reincarnative process. One must understand that as soon as one finishes a cycle on Earth and the person concerned has been uplifted, then the spirit-soul unit separates from the body, leaving behind an etheric impression of that particular existence. with all its memories, and it this etheric-astral body that is contacted by the medium or the hypnotist. The soul unit has moved away and can be planning another trip back to the earth plane as a different entity. This system can go on and on ad infinitum, until the soul unit has developed to the highest degree, and it may leave behind it in the Akashic records or some other form of storehouse 50 or 60 impressions that it has been during those life existences on this earth. All so called proof of previous incarnations through hypnotic regressions can be looked at very critically. Personally I find it helpful to do a natal horoscope of all such practitioners and the subjects. This when done properly can tell what level of understanding people are working on and where they are getting their information from. (I do a natal chart of every one that I work with, for this tells me from whence their inspiration is coming and why.)

23. Materializations. These ectoplasmic formations can take on really solid identities and give information from the lowest realms again to the highest, as it all depends on the spirituality of the physical medium, for in the spirit world like attracts like. Messages here can only be judged on their practicality, for there can be delusions even with this form of phenomena.
24. Out-of-body experiences. Here ones astral body can move away from the physical body and in some cases travel long distances, read information, and then return to the physical body revealing all. This could be used as a form of spying where one can move ones astral body to the enemy camp or stronghold, read the notes and reports, then return home with all the information. World experts on such subjects like Dr Andrija Puharich believe that both Russia and USA are perfecting these techniques of psychic spying.

Here we have at least 24 known ways of getting messages, or other forms of information through intuitive awareness or by psychic manifestations, and there could be still more methods of which we have yet to hear.

I think that it is very important for all people who work in the field of parapsychology to know the source of the 'contact' or spirit mentor and be able to determine the level of consciousness that they are 'tuned' in to. Astrology is a great help in this area, for one can compile a natal chart from ones birth data and be able to see which planets are activating the P.S.I. factor. If one receives a message at any given date, then the time and date should be recorded, and then it is possible to check all the planetary positions for that point in time to see if the aspects are favourable. I use this system always when vetting information if I have the receivers birth data. If not, then I check my own astrological aspects for that day and time which enables me to determine whether I am receiving 'truth' or the ravings of some confused and deluded person.

P.S.I Factors in the Natal Chart related to the Planets.

You can take the letters PSI and separate them out as follows:

P = the physical facts of psychic sensitivity relating to the Earth vibrational forces and includes the devas which cover the lower 4 levels of the fairy kingdom, and the two planets which feature here are the Moon and Pluto. The position of these two orbs on ones natal chart will show to what degree these are functioning correctly. It also relates strongly to the physical curve of the biorhythm scale.

S = sensitivity, and this is the factor that brings us into the realms of the spirits of humans who have passed from the Earth Plane. This combined with Solar energy from the Sun gives one trance mediumship and other true psychic faculties. Once again the quality of this faculty is determined by beneficial trends or detrimental factors.

I = Intuition, or intuitive awareness on an intellectual level, and this relates, I believe, to mental mediumship, the quality of which is determined by the signs and house positions of Uranus and Mercury and whether they are in benefic positions or in detriment.
