■ Time to Rank

6 years

■ Personal History

Trish was a stay-at-home mom before Nikken; Bob was a Process & Development Engineer in the Semiconductor Industry.

■ Why We Joined Nikken

Trish instantly fell in love with the products after experiencing incredible relief from a 12-year-old back, muscle and fatigue problem. She instinctively knew she had stumbled on the “best kept secret in America,” and felt compelled to share her good fortune with others.

Since those early days, Trish has become enamored with the entire Nikken philosophy encompassing Healthy Body, Healthy Mind, Healthy Family, Healthy Society, and Healthy Finances. Her mission is to alleviate human suffering and uplift the human spirit through sharing the good news of Nikken. Bob became excited about Nikken more gradually, when the many product experiences he heard about became irrefutable. Bob is the “technical backbone” of the Schwenkler partnership.

■ Advice to Distributors

Ask your Higher Power every day to allow goodness and abundance to flow through you into the lives of others. Share Nikken with everyone you know and everyone you meet in a spirit of service. Build wide and build deep. Realize that Nikken is a marathon, not a sprint. Focus everyday on personal growth, as well as results-oriented activity, i.e. talking to new people either in depth or width. Work hard, be consistent and be focused.

■ What We See for the Future

Nikken is a strong, stable company with awesome management, an incredibly attractive spirit, and lots of exciting new products in the wings. I see continued growth and expansion for all of us who continue to consistently work our Nikken businesses.
