Unmitigated Technology

As design moves to the level of almost all input/output is technological we have to be aware of the dangers, as taken from this article. Technology is good, because windmill is technology; it aids in a difficult task, human fleshly task. But when the technology is threatening occurs by inter-connection of computers (internet) or you being the technology (insert, cyborgs, techno garments) or you in the technology (control environment); then it becomes dangerous and wicked. This is the intent of Modern Technology. It will look, feel and sound good, plus give convenience, but it's meant to entrap and ensnare the soul. It made you independent (advancement) in one area to make you dependent in another. By interconnection your privacy is gone and you're affairs are constantly being monitored; by you becoming the technology it automatically make you its slave and the democratic dictators (devils) at the other end controls you; by you in the technology automatically makes you entrapped in the slavery. The dangers are:

1. Interconnection: Internet, networking devices and others. This was briefly dealt with in the section on the Internet and can be fully seen in the ICI document found here: <http://www.threeq.com/pages/internet.html>. But here is a little more from Larry Gosshorn. Larry Gosshorn is a man who surmounted to the highest levels in computerization and robotic engineering. He has a company named 'Robotics International'. In other words, this man is a genius in the computer industry, which is clearly shown in his alliance to the universal program called SWIFT (Society for Worldwide Interbanking Financial Telecommunication). Through it, the entire police departments and financial technologies of the world were to be linked to Europe and the Super Computer. Here are his exact words from an audiocassette, "I went into heavy rebellion [as a youngster]. I had seen the movie The Devil and Daniel Webster, where Webster gave his soul to Satan in exchange for the wealth and power of the world. I decided that that was what I was going to do. I made a contract with Satan to exchange my soul for the wealth and power of this world. In my teens, I was traveling with the number two family of the Mafia of America. By the time I was in my early thirties, I had achieved all of the objectives that I had set out to achieve. The chairman of the Bank of America was on my board (Robotics International) ... In 1973, we received the contract for the World Banking Organization to set up the super computer of Europe called SWIFT. We started building the system in conjunction with Burroughs. One day, two Christian men came into my office and said to me, 'Do you know what you are doing? You are building the system that will be known as the Mark of the Beast. Are you going to build Satan's system to control every person on earth with the number 666 and the Mark of the Beast?' I replied, 'I didn't know that that was what I was doing.' With this last reply, the same can be said of most webmasters.

2. You in the Technology or control environment: The very alarm systems in your homes, schools and church are leading up to this; one ADT poster said, "a sign of the times". The best example of this is an old movie called Colossus or a modern one call Fortress. The technology does everything for you so it's inevitable that you'd be dependent on it. Spin offs from this might be even weather control, holographic systems or what is seen in the movie matrix on the surface; that's why in the ICI document I'd touch on the delusion of avatars - your personal holographic you in cyberspace. Larry Gosshorn continues, 'In the new smart programs you will have three dimensional graphics. What does this mean? They can bring an image through your television set, using holograms and place a life-sized person in front of your television set by the bending of light beams, and you could not tell if that person was alive unless you would place your hand in the light beam. Gosshorn continues, "An image of the Beast..." It will have a ghost-form of life. The technology can take on spirit' ... these systems will have knowledge bases. This means that you can talk to it and ask it questions. It stores the knowledge of the experts... knowledge is now doubling every three years... There is no way mankind can keep up with the doubling of knowledge like this. So they are building knowledge-based systems... You can buy the product for your home computer and eventually this image system can be plugged in and you can talk to this knowledge.

3. You become the Technology: This includes cyborgs, which we dealt with earlier. But it also involves computer inserts, which might be the mark of the Beast. Then there is a new trend that is introduced, which many don't realize will ensnare them - that is, techno clothes or wearable technology. One person describes this as, "technology will fuse with the human form." This article by David Pescovitz, a talented writer for several magazines, will shed some light on what this is. This article also indirectly suggests that this could also be or is apart of the mark of beast - though the scriptures clearly states that we shall receive it in our hands or forehead, but not how; because they also a device that can digitally tattoo a number to your skin. David Pescovitz writes [THAT ARTICLE IS IN BT MAGAZINE VOL. 1, FOUND AT www.mcquickenterprise.com/othersites.html]:
