Jacque Schrader

We're starting the New Year off right and so can you! HOF is proud to host one of AOSA's finest and most sought after clinicians: Jacque Schrader. Her workshop is entitled

Inspirations for Movement

Jacque currently teaches music and movement to children in pre-school through age 13 at the Key School in Annapolis, MD. For the last twenty summers she has been helping to train Orff Schulwerk teachers from around the world. In addition to teaching movement at the University of St. Thomas, she also teaches Level II Ensemble at George Mason University in Virginia, and at Southern Methodist University, in Dallas.

In 1983 she was given the NJMES Master Teacher Award and was the youngest recipient in the history of the award. In 1984 she was given the NJ Governor's Award for Excellence in Arts Education. She served on the American Orff-Schulwerk Association (AOSA) Board of Trustees from 1995-2000.

An internationally known clinician, Jacque spent the spring semester of 1999 studying on a scholarship at the Orff Institute, Salzburg. Jacque has presented workshops at eight AOSA Conferences and at AOSA chapters in twenty-four states. In January 2001, she taught in Taiwan. During the summer of 2001, she was sponsored by the Carl Orff Foundation & AOSA to teach at the first international Orff course in Slovakia. In the summer of 2005 she taught at the international course in Krakow, Poland. Jacque has also taught in Austria and Beijing, China.

Great Times in Charlotte

In spite of economic hardships and the professional disappointments of this past school year, several Heart of Florida Orff members made it to Charlotte, NC for the AOSA National Convention. We had a blast!

Here is pictorial proof.

Attendants included Jan Carriker, Tereasa Evans, Sally Fillipps, Carolyn Turner, Michael Roberts (who was a presenter), Joanne Hinkle, Juettie Kelly and yours truly. Forgive me if I omitted anyone.

To the left is your president with our chapter banner. There's an interesting story that goes along with that banner. Ask me sometime. Below is Tereasa with folk legend David Holt. Sally and her Level II classmate. Don't they look like sisters? Finally, there's Tereasa, Sally, Sara and Jan with the banner.

INTERNATIONAL SONGS, GAMES AND DANCES

Children learn through play, and children's games are a natural springboard for acquiring language, social awareness, mathematical reasoning and physical coordination. This workshop will give teachers a useful repertoire of songs, rhymes and games in different languages, and will model ways to present and extend these materials in the classroom.
