

Pirate bay...are these people criminals?

I do not believe these people are criminals. They are providing a means to gather information efficiently and effectively. The true criminals are the users who knowingly use Pirate Bay's sources, or technology, to download illegal material. For example, if you discovered a new technology that would allow you to withdraw (let's say $5) money from banks, but not your account. You could use it as much as you want and anywhere you want. If you choose to use this new technology then you are committing a crime, not the new technology.
