About Tarrant Council

Tarrant Council on Alcoholism & Drug Abuse is the primary agency for substance abuse services in Tarrant County. We have over 47 years of

In addition to providing substance abuse education, our role is to act as the gateway through which

78% of all illicit drug users are employed

If you think your company is immune from problems caused by drugs and alcohol, think again. Most users don't fit the stereotypes. The majority of drug users work in companies just like yours. That means their problems will eventually show up in the workplace.

Employee drug abuse wrecks the lives of users and their families and greatly impacts workers and customers. Beyond physical dangers, poor performance, mistakes and accidents of drug abusers undermine a company's profitability. Not only will the abuser face consequences, your company's bottom line-in the form of lost customers or lost revenue-will be affected.

People are your organization's most valuable asset. Drug use and misuse pose a serious threat to employee health and safety. It is critical to take a position on substance abuse. Implementing a drug-free workplace program in your company can protect your bottom line and safeguard your company's assets. Your drug-free workplace program may include developing a drug-free workplace policy, providing supervisor training and employee awareness programs, as well as drug testing.

Drug-Free Business North Texas can assist you in increasing productivity and profitability through workplace prevention programs. Our goal is to develop a drug-free business community by providing a framework for each employer to establish a drug-free workplace.

We can provide every business, regardless of size and resources, with the knowledge, opportunity and means to economically address substance abuse in the workplace. We can develop customized drug-free workplace training and services to meet the needs of your business.
