18	Again and again we say, "Goodbye,"	95
28.	Come and rejoice, for April is awake.	124
21.	Did you leave behind you your love, my heart,	104
19.	Do you own defeat at the hand of youth?	99
17.	Gently, my friend, gently walk to your silent chamber	92
14.	How grave he looks, how laughably old,	86
27.	I loose the, to find thee back again and again	121
22.	Leave me, let me go.	75
23.	Let me give all to him, before I am asked	111
10.	Life's spies are we, lurking ambush everywhere	77
3.	My shadow dances in your waves.	59
1.	O South wind, the Wanderer, come and rock me	53
6.	Our hairs shall never turn grey	67
4.	The fire of April leaps from forest to forest	62
11.	The Piper in the centre, hidden from the sight	79
2.	The sky pours its light into my hearts,	56
24.	The spring flowers have woven my wreath of victory	115
15.	The time comes when world shall know	88
26.	Victory to thee, victory for ever, O brave heart.	119
7.	We are free, my friends, from the fear of work,	65
13.	We are neither too good nor wise	84
7.	We are out on our way	70
16.	We cling to our seats and never stir	90
12.	We move without rest	81
8.	We seek playmates	72
20.	We waited by the wayside counting moments	102
25.	When there was light in my world	117
