Australia's Greatest Consumer Rip-off

What the consumer doesn't know about Air Conditioning installations.
What Governments & Retailers Don't Tell You?

USE ONLY a full "RAC" Arctick licence holder to install/service & repair your air conditioning units.

Consult a Full Refrigeration & Air Conditioning licence holder before purchasing an air conditioner for your home – Yes even before purchasing from a retailer

- Make sure it's the correct size – reduce power consumption and save YOUR $$$

Remember:

- Electrical contractors are only necessary to supply power to your unit from the power mains and new interconnect wiring between the outdoor unit & the indoor unit.
- An Arctick "SPLIT" licence holder cannot by law, repair or service Air Conditioners, allowing them to will void your unit warranty
- Choosing to contract a "SPLIT" licence holder such as electricians and plumbers is choosing to use a non-trade qualified specialist who is not trained to place the correct amount of refrigerant in your unit, cannot warrant their work as they cannot repair their own faults and cannot guarantee your unit is operating at peak performance of the designed parameters. Units over 18kw cannot be installed by "SPLIT" licence holders and they cannot install ducted systems.
- Non-trade qualified RAC specialists are not trained to estimate the correct size of the unit you need – yes even retailers.
- Don't be fooled by the $$$savings on installation- choose poorly and you will pay through increased power consumption and if the refrigerant levels are incorrect, you will to pay extra to a qualified RAC specialist to re-gas your unit.
- Poor installations = more of YOUR $$$$$ spent
- Many retailers now recommend "SPLIT" licensed installers as this enables retailers to offer you the lowest prices – Don't Get Caught Out

Make your first choice the right choice.
