

One Up....

A soft drink manufacturer delivers its product in cases holding exactly 40 bottles packed side by side. A note in the company suggestion box pointed out that the firm could pack 41 bottles in the same cases by simply rearranging the bottles.

The diagram at the left shows a full case of 40 bottles. The figure at the right is an empty case. Show how 41 bottles can be arranged in the empty case.

