

Rewired Bio

AUSTIN, TEXAS - Over the decades, Austin has gained the reputation as a hotbed of new and original music. Rewired keeps this tradition alive with their original sound, diverse style, unusual instrumentation, three vocalists and many years of experience.

Born in Paris, France, guitarist Jacques Grant, has played up and down the world renowned 6th Street and just about every other venue in Austin since 1978. He serves up his Chicago style blues with a powerhouse flair. Jacques has performed at festivals and appeared on the Austin Music Network and CapZeyeZ Live well as opening shows for Malford Milligan and Omar and the Howlers.

Houstonian bassist Brian Jobe played the Houston scene including AstroWorld, Full House Band featuring Clint Black and a stage production of Hair until 1984 when he moved to Austin. Since then, He's played many Austin venues with bands such as The Suspects and The Ruins. With his power pop hooks, Brian brings a Beatlesque feel to the house.

Born in Washington DC, drummer Dan Vela came to Austin in 1980. His unique style is understated with a rock solid beat, coupled with creative fills at the appropriate moment, resulting in a pleasant surprise for the audience. Dan's resume includes playing at the grand opening of Disney World.

Don't miss seeing this dynamic band!
