

After practice today, my buddy and I wandered out the back doors of the school only to find a group of 5 or 6 guys smoking. One person I recognized for sure- but the others...I really couldn't tell who they were. We tried ignoring them and walking past but when eye contact was made with the one person...he proceeded to tell me, 'he'd kill me if I told anyone'...and that, 'if anyone found out the gang would come after us.' Using UNITE what should I do?

My brother is in grade 11. We do not speak. It's too bad because used to talk all of the time. I love him..he's the best. Well, recently he came home with a few of his high school buddies and walked down to the basement with a laundry basket. I asked to see what was in there- he said 'that it was none of his business'. From my brief vantage point I could tell that it was filled with beer and liquor. He has completely shut his family out of his life and I miss him. What do I do?

My grade 9 year started out fantastic. I started for the volleyball team and the basketball team. When football season came around~ I was a little worried about making it but somehow I managed. I wasn't quite as tenacious as some of the other players but I worked hard and wanted to get better. I asked the coach 'what I needed to do to get to the next level- and he told me that I should start working out with certain players on the team that are known steroid users. Their tempers were short and their shoulders and backs were covered with zits. But it was true that they were strong and dominant in the game of football. What to do?

My friend since kindergarten and I went to our first grade nine party when a grade 11 student asked us if we were "cool". Not knowing what he meant- I proceeded to ask. He asked if we wanted to smoke a 'doobie'. I looked at my buddy and before I could even answer- he reached out and smoked it. He then passed it to me. What to do?

I don't know what it is but it seems that whenever my father picks me up....he reaks of alcohol on his breath. If we go to a family function or anything for that matter, my father drinks a ton of booze and then drives us home. It worries me a bit that he always says 'he's fine to drive'. I can't understand why he continues with his drinking and driving antics when he has a family who loves him very much. Please help solve this problem using UNITE.

After lunch I went to my locker to get my coat for recess. When I pulled my coat out of the locker I noticed that some powdery substance spilled onto the floor that seemed to come from out of my coat pocket. I have no idea where it came from. Perhaps my locker partner put it in there, or maybe even someone else. Some of it was still inside my pocket inside a clear zippie bag. A teacher nearby stopped me in my tracks of confusion and asked me 'what I was doing?' What should I do??

My mother is a smoker. She always has been. It drives me nuts. She smokes in the car, in the house, everywhere!! She even smoked during all three pregnancies which is probably why I have asthma. I want her to quit now!
