

Potential Uniting Motionless Public (PUMP)

(Please don't read this article if you are happy with present Indian condition or system, because if we go on doing what we are doing we will get the results what we are getting, hence we have to think beyond the box in order to get additional benefits, as thoughts are mother of all results.)

The chances are remote and least possible, but without this we cannot achieve much about the progress of India.

We all must have heard the story of Akbar who had a minister named Birbal asked him one day that "can you make the line I had drawn on the sand smaller but condition is that you will not touch the this line". Birbal who was a smart man, said after thinking for few minutes yes sir it is possible. And coolly drew a bigger line next to the original line. In present situation we have to ask this questions "Are people in India working to keep this system running, is this system serving the public?" In order to do just that to the system, we the people have to be stronger than the system then only then this system will work for us. System cost effectiveness is necessary and we should do Value Analysis. Do we still need the departments of rationing and the refugees (only to mention a few) even we have surplus of food and 58 years after division of India. We have done enough pumping for system and now it is time to pump the public for a change as well for progress (balloons can be pumped easily).

We all know that circular objects can be brought to motion and will have smooth motion as well. But if we try to move a triangle it will be more difficult and if it is square it will be most difficult. If you don't believe me see the Pyramids of Egypt they have gone nowhere in last few thousand years as they are both triangle and square.

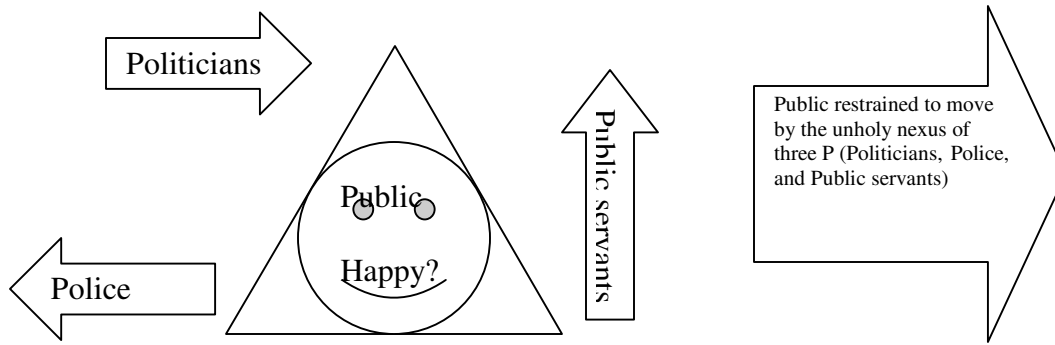

I am going to use these three basic shapes to explain the present conditions and problems our India. Our population which can be represented with the circle as we can draw a similarity from our national Flag; it has a wheel with 24 spokes. That is different that our IAS (mind) & Ministers (heads) had made 30 states (old formula of divide and rule). Triangle represents nexus of three P, Politicians, Police and Public servant. Problem represented by Square.

Motion is progress
Stagnation sucks

It is as simple as it can be that are we here to invest in system or in public? Choose Public.
Even Public servant is bonded slave of system and we are not against all of them.

Obviously we are doing the investment in the establishment, and system does not want public to be in control over their affairs or let public be in control of momentum to take over the system. So we can see the Chakra of our flag that we as public of India are divided into many ways in cast creed and statehood based on languages in the name of keeping the language alive. This could not be far from the truth. As we are not united we cannot take control of our destiny but these petty politicians for their narrow mindset and interest will ruin our beautiful India and us (as if they have not done yet during last 58 years). Three sides clutch the population of India, representing the three big clamps, unluckily all three parts of these unholy nexus, all start with P; Politicians, Police and Public servants. Now you see the new picture as it emerges as a big triangle, which contains and covers all the public in clutches. Public have to remember here that only few hundred British ruled us for hundred of years, with the help of this rotten system. We are still helping to continue this system if we don't try to change it, then can be getting ahead?

Public is squeezed from three directions (clutches)
As we can see these three components are not tuned to public directions.

* Middle Stage of pumping the public

In this stage public have handle over the unholy alliance of three P

The public have cushion between them, and keep them apart then they have no choice but to serve Public. Hence happy public.

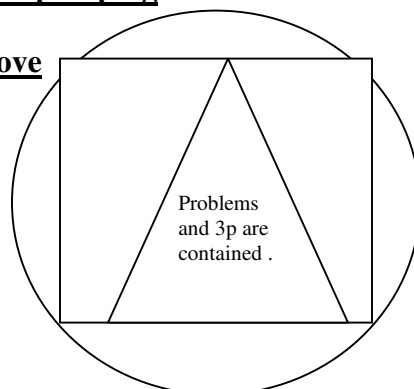

Now we see that the problems we are facing in India like big square. We know how difficult is to move square. But remember golden rule- PUMP. The problem can be solved if the circle of Public can cover them, i.e. Public is surrounding the problems. I.e. population's have ownership and handle over controls of the problems. Process is not simple as it sounds.

So far the tall claims of Politician, Police and Public servants that they can only solve all the problems Public have, so the public should sit and relax, did not worked yet..

These three component of society are having fun at our expense and problems are still there and rather increasing. Hence we have to have the ownership of the problems, and then only we will have solution as per our own satisfaction as these will be under Peoples guidelines. So get involved.

* Final stage of pumping

Circle will move Smoothly.

Movement is easy as public own problems and contains the unholy nexus of three P

Now we can see how we can own the problem and by pumping the confidence and will in the people, we can take our population to new heights. Think for a minute that we only with 300 of out of one Billion people we are no. three economy in the world and with all as potential middle class our economy will have to No. One (Uno) in the world for long time to come. Our Bharat will be great as we just say it now. Once we have the momentum going no body can stop our people they know how to survive under worst and best conditions. Indus civilization is only one civilization, which had survived the onslaught of time.

Now we can bring the analogy of inflated football to this final shape it may still look like the Circular in shape but it need pumping in order to have bouncing quality. Hence remember the Mantra PUMP.

It means here the Proactive Unbroken Mentoring of People. (PUMP)

How can this be translated into pumping process into a real action plan?

Public inflation program in seven steps:

1. Capacity building and empowering of our rural masses, by explaining them how this Government is working and how can this system work for us. We should resolve not to work for the system. Let them know that in democracy we the people are supreme and neither Politicians nor Public servants, including police is the master or rulers. So we should have recall mechanism for Politicians and Public servants and their perks including raises we should decide by majority Ballot. Police, Education should be transferred to local bodies as their needs depend on local conditions these are not same everywhere hence had to be controlled by local population. There should be provision in constitution to raise their funds themselves not to be provided by Central Government. All public services should be termed based, not permanent. Rules to be robust and can only be changed by majority and by Ballot only. Least governance is the best governance. All laws, which are antique, should remain in museums only and had to be revised to reflect the pro-public and based on encouragement not as they stand now, based on mistrust and deterrent to public progress. There is no holy cow law, when it comes to public benefits and interests.

Public right to know everything should be norm, Freedom of Information Act.

Corruption and black money is about 50% of total economy and unemployment is only 30% you figure out the relationship how easy we can solve this problem. Unemployed please in your own interest keep track of the thieves.

All Governance departments should have a local advisory commission managed by local public and there term should not be more than two years and some travel cost to be reimbursed for such meetings. Balance the budget. See the effect of system we have so far, in spite of our believe in social equality, what we got more disparity between haves and not have daily necessities of comfortable lives requirements of roof, shelter and food.

2. As we the Public don't have house for all of us, but can we afford the houses for our Public servants and Politicians? All housing of central and state Government should be sold to public and money thus raised should pay off the loans. No transfers. Local will have affinity to solve the problem and their alliance to local public as well. No permission to open schools, college and university especially in rural area (why we have only one rural University in Bharat Ravindra Bharati) but independent authority should accredit them all. As we have done for small scale and medium Industry can be opened and no permission of Government needed. The post of all Judges to be filled by election, for a term of five to seven years, other than Supreme Court Judges, court fee structure should be able to cover the cost of running a judiciary system. But they can be expelled by majority of Lok Sabha members in case of dispute. No free bees, neither to public nor to three P. Rastrapati Bhawan should be made museum as suggested by Gandhi ji. In order to reduce corruption three-tier service should be there in each and every department, if you pay more money your work will be done before but still as per laid down norms that less paid also will be done in timely fashion (As it is being done in railway and passport). All Governance jobs should be term jobs and no more three terms for an assignment. And these should be open to bids and if people are anyway going to make money that is why they pay money as bribe to get jobs. Then why not government coffers should be filled than individual's pockets.

3. All India services should be scrapped like IAS, IPS, IFS and IRS etc. Also posts of DM, Commissioner and Governors etc which are not adding any value to public services, should be abolished, as they do not add any value to serve public or add any thing for progress, rather they are impediments and their big mansions should be sold at public options. People with right 'serving the public attitude' are to be appointed as and when, where they required by local bodies. Again please note we are only talking against the system not the people, we have to figure out together how to invest in people.
4. A white paper about how our tax Rupees collected and spend be published every year and informed the public about it. Secrecy then only corruption will come down. Secrecy should be only limited to military and National security issues, all others issues including budget provisions should be publicly debated.
5. At present our so-called Politicians, Police and Public servants (only 60 lakhs) spending 60 percent of resources on them selves. What is then left for developments and to solve other problems? Our motto "Small government is best government".
6. Ballot issue should be Prime mover for Money, Manpower, Management (MMM). Three pronged Taxes are required Local, State and Central so tax sharing is simple Public should be the prime mover for economy not the Government.
7. That is my Dream of Bharat Mahan and you can have yours, but in the end we all have to compromise on one dream and act on it then only our Bharat will be Mahan We don't need the professional politicians and their term should be restricted to two only. As we also don't need the politics as family business. The Tulu pump is most popular in India for a solution of water problem we are sure there must be more than 10 laks pumps working in Delhi alone, we only need some 500,000 PUMP for rural India in order to take care of poorest of poor.

These are all my way of saying things should be, order or extend can be changed but these are seven steps to pump up the public.

Now some of the prevailing abbreviations and their new meanings.

| Abbreviations                          | Old                   | New                                                                                                              |
|----------------------------------------|-----------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| PM                                     | Prime Minister        | Public Managed                                                                                                   |
| PMO (Most influential office in India) | Prime Minister Office | Public Managed Organizations                                                                                     |
| PUMP                                   | Pump                  | Promote Uninterrupted Motion is ProgressPublic Understand Mentorship ProgramProblem Understand Mentoring |
| MP                                     | Member Parliament     | Managed Public                                                                                                   |

In the end this seven steps can be summarized as first stage sharing the power (education, police) and duties, second stage PMO (NGO now) empowering rural masses, third stage as use of technology for improvement, forth stage mentoring others who are under privileged then us, fifth stage confidence building and modifying system, sixth stage real local control of problems and solutions at local level and seventh and final stage supporting public efforts in all fields. Once we own the problem we can have the solutions to our satisfaction as well with in our means and capacity. *Don't forget we get the Government what we deserve, first deserve and then desire. Stop complaining but start collecting benefit once we get united.