

Jealousy

Jealousy is as we were told is not a good human trait, but I will say that is not so. Let me say that it is not a bad thing unless it used to prove some inferior than your self, or used only to show off. Jealousy in it self is a human virtue, but when it is mixed with other traits it will not be a good thing. Let me make one point here all these so called bad human traits are inter linked and if one settles with in you, sooner or later others will follow, hence we should be careful while using it.

If we go through the pages of history this particular Trait may be cause of many inventions or discoveries, or it is necessary for the progress of mankind. If it is their, trust me it had be there by a great design of our creator. Hence so called bad human traits are necessary mandate in order to complete a big scheme. How every one to be a better than other will create a healthy competition and things can use jealousy will improve for better in the mankind? But should guard his or her actions jealously that action are not hurting any body else emotion will it be a bad thing I would say not at all.

Love God jealously and your neighbor's property jealously in order to keep it safe will not be a bad case of jealous, rather it will be nice thing to do. From this we can conclude jealousy is not a bad thing after all. What we have to careful here when we are using these so called bad traits are not used for only our selfish intentions, but it should be used in order to make it useful for some or general goodness. We should also be care full that these traits should not be used all the time even if our intentions are good, otherwise these will have a permanent place in our attitude and behavior. Jealousy some times comes as a lightening strike, and it hits you. But you should be in control of things not the other way.
