FRENCH SUMMER COURSE

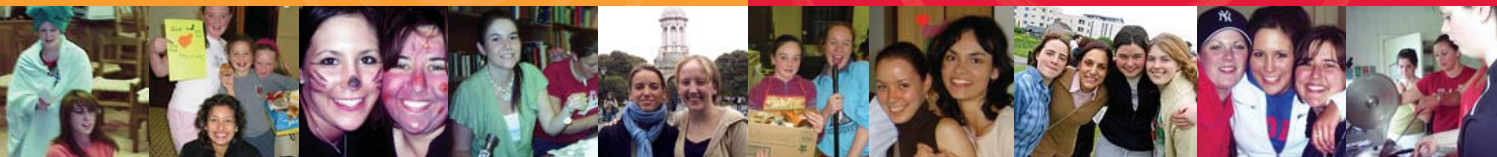

18th-29th June 2007
Pre-Junior Certificate

For the last 30 years Ros Geal has been successfully running language courses. We are now delighted to be able to offer a French summer course to Irish students.

Our course is designed to help girls to prepare for the Junior Certificate by developing the required fluency and competence in oral and written communication skills.

Our team consists of experienced French teachers. All classes and activities are conducted through the medium of French.

FRENCH LANGUAGE CAMP 2007

Camps run Monday to Friday, 10.00 am to 4.00 pm
(Students bring packed lunches)

3 hours French lessons a day. Small class sizes.
Emphasis on communication skills. Personal tutoring.

Joint fun and cultural activities with French students in the afternoons.

Classes aim to:

- Enrich vocabulary
- Develop oral fluency
- Prepare for oral and aural examinations
- Revise grammatical structures

ACTIVITIES

After classes, students will participate in activities through the medium of the language, to enhance their knowledge of French life & culture:

These will include:

French cuisine, drama, debates, films and quizzes.

BOOKING AND FEES

The fee for the two week Camp is €320

Application procedure:

Applicants should contact Ros Geal for an application form and course contract which will be posted out for signature by parents and students. Fees should be paid in one installment by June 8th 2007.
