Twelve years ago, the world was round. Today, globalization is changing the way a flatter world works. Skyrocketing trade and increasing business travel are presenting unique opportunities—and challenges—to local, state and federal governments.

IBM is helping governments prepare for these changes with everything from global collaboration tools to advanced analysis techniques that can help tighten port and border security. Get ready for the next twelve years. Download the IBM Government 2020 study at IBM.COM/DOING/GOVERNMENT
