

KOKIRI

The Kokiri are small, elf-like forest people who originated from the Lost Woods, although they have spread to forests all over the world. Though their minds mature and age, their bodies never age or grow old. They are the immortal children of the forest. No one knows where new Kokiri come from, other than that it is somehow connected to their guardian spirit, the Great Deku Tree, whom they worship as a god.

They are a very friendly, playful race, as befits their appearance. They take great pride in their combat prowess, however, despite their diminutive size. They are aided greatly by their guardian faeries. Every time a new Kokiri is born, the Great Deku Tree sends a faery to aid and accompany them. The faeries are all unique individuals with names and identities. They are often rambunctious and hyper, although they often possess vast knowledge and wisdom from their time with the Deku Tree.

Kokiri favor green for their clothes, to the point of ignoring all the other colors, and they are deeply connected to the forest and the element of Earth. They gain a +2 bonus to Agility, +1 to Charisma, and a -2 to Strength. Kokiri are naturally musical, and gain a free point in Perform. To represent their life-long bond with the Deku Tree and the faery spirits, all Kokiri start with the Guardian Faery Special Ability.

Kokiri-only Special Abilities:

Guardian Faery

This represents the bond that all Kokiri have with the Deku Tree. The Faery can help the Kokiri target their enemies. Each round, the Kokiri designates a target. Against that target, the Kokiri gains a +1 bonus to Defense and Attack.

Faery Healing

Prerequisites: Guardian Faery
The Faery may now heal the Kokiri. She can heal a number of hit points equal to the 5 + the Kokiri's level in one burst, and can only do so once per day.

Faery Fire

Prerequisites: Guardian Faery
Now, when targeting an enemy, the Faery rings the target in harmless purple flames. The target may not turn invisible, or otherwise gain bonus from darkness or concealment. Also, the Kokiri gains an additional +1 bonus to Ranged attacks against the target.

Faery Wisdom

Prerequisites: Guardian Faery
Once per day, the Faery may commune with the Great Deku Tree, and attempt to gain some knowledge that may be useful or helpful to the quest that the Kokiri is on. Also, the Faery gains the ability to speak to any magical creature, or others with intelligence, regardless of language barriers.
