2 OVERVIEW

Established in 1925, All Stars Sporting Goods is a reputable American retail store that provides high quality sports products and a memorable shopping experience. The company has a vision of impressing customers by offering in-store simulated tests of sporting equipment with the store's own certified and trained staff.

All Stars Sporting Goods' current target demographic is older adults (primarily men). However, the company is interested in reaching out to younger adults (ages 25–45) of all genders, while maintaining loyalty with their current customers.

7 RATIONALE

The new All Stars Sporting Goods logo design fulfills the company's mission and vision by having a unique and iconic "A" symbol in the word "All" to capture the attention of prospective customers. The star shape in the word "Star" functions as a second letter "A," which adds interest to the overall design.

Since the client wanted a contemporary look for the new logo, "Alegre Sans Regular" was chosen for the primary typeface. By customizing the font for the company name, the logo takes on a timeless style. The intended younger audience will be able to relate to this design because of its modern flair, but it still retains enough of a classic concept that the current customers will not feel alienated.

The color palette utilizes a modern adaptation of the American flag colors. Freshening the nation's colors with varied hues of red, white and blue offers the All Stars Sporting Goods company the modern and memorable appearance that they wish to project.
