

Types of rock

1 Match the words to the descriptions.

The rocks made when hot liquid rock cools and sets. The rocks contain crystals.

metamorphic rock

Rocks made from the broken bits of older rocks or the remains of small living things. They are buried, squashed and turned into rock.

Hot liquid rock from beneath the Earth's surface erupts to the surface.

These are the remains of once living animals and plants which are found in sedimentary rocks.

A type of rock that is made when heat or pressure changes older rocks.

A soft white rock made from the shells of tiny sea creatures. It will fizz if tested with acid.

A hard, grey rock made from the shells of tiny sea creatures. It will fizz if tested with acid.

A sedimentary rock made from mud. It is soft and grey.

A black igneous rock made up of tiny crystals. It was made when hot liquid rock cooled very quickly.

An igneous rock made up of big crystals. It was made when hot liquid rock cooled very slowly.

