

A fairy tale

In a well-known city in the middle of Germany strange took place.

Exciting.

That was pretty exciting. We were 6 people at a table. A tall man, 4 tall women and me. We introduced ourselves first name. The ladies even said how tall they are. That would not have been necessary. The lot to me also so while sitting on, these are the other part considerably taller. Since you can still stretch you so. This always falls on, I do not have the required minimum height. I thought I would be sitting a little smaller than the smallest of the tall women. What are already 2 cm. If you are sitting next to it, you think differently.

Since the women began about small men to blaspheme. So loud that we two men could hear it well. They smiled at it. If I had been alone, I would have known that this is ironic.

If the tall man also talked stupid about short man, I would have gone immediately. Thus one sells the little men from a tall group. Or Is that a woman meeting? We two men would ignored. Or is this a non-tall men self-help group.

So we stayed 6 sit and told. The others all seemed to know. Therefore, one must be very careful what you say. So I listened to more. And sat quietly. After a while the waitress came and asked if we want to eat something. The other ordered some. I do not. Since I had been too nervous anyway. To eat in peace. Also the restaurant was quite full. And the table closely. We chatted. Also about how long they are a member of this site for a tall people. Some of 2007, 2006, etc. I'm member there since 2003. During the first years im only as a silent reader. Without someone to write. Respectively. Without going to tall groups meetings. After several hours, I paid and left.

At home I've been thinking a long time about the event. I am sure that the blasphemous estates are ironic. I also had the feeling that my user profile is not entirely unknown.

For the women who get lost on my user profile, all are tall. And attractive. They are even taller than the tallest women at this meeting. Otherwise, only men get lost on my profile. Not only women are curious. The text is too long now. I can't write about this in a small men tall Women sites on the internet. No one believed me this. My English is not good. And I speak only French Google.

Thanks a lot
