

THE SALMON MODEL Horse 4-H Club was one of 15 entries in Friday night's Christmas Parade of Lights. Members met Friday afternoon and decorated the float with large gifts, garlands and toys - Bud photo.

Parade of Lights ushers in season

by Bob Johnson

A large crowd turned out on Main Street Friday evening to watch the annual Parade of Lights and the turning on of the community Christmas tree lights.

The parade, led by the American Legion color guard, moved onto Main Street from Terrace Street at 6:00 p.m. with 15 entries judged for their lights.

Judged first place winner was the Conastoga wagon and draft horses entry of Don and Kathy Olson, giving them $150.

Second place was a horse drawn carriage with Breann Westfall and Katherine Blackadar receiving $100. Third place was a float entered by Shepherd of the Valley Luthern Church which brought $75.

The parade was sponsored by the Salmon Board of Realtors with Rachel Nafus in charge.

Riding on a float in the parade were the Salmon River Rodeo royalty and the Little Miss Britches Rodeo Queen of Idaho.

Nafus noted that all the entries showed a lot of hard work and the evening had been a great success.

"The community turned out in droves and we all appreciate those who participated," she said.

Other entries were: Salmon Model Horse 4-H Club, Rocky Mountain Life Ranch, Arlen's Auto Repair, Pierce's Pancake, all with floats; Gayle Sandborgh Girl Scouts walking; Whitewater Therapeutic's Smallest Angels and Tater Tot; Troy Olson, live Nativity scene with wagons and horses; Salmon River-Quality Motors, wrecker with car; With-

(See Parade Page 3)