

Foreword

The Green Pages Directory is for people working towards environmental sustainability in Newcastle and the Hunter. It provides contact details for government agencies and community organisations with environmental interests. It can be used to:

- Open dialogue
- Strengthen networks and linkages.
- Promote environmental initiatives.
- Engage the community in consultation.
- Advocate for change.

The Newcastle Environmental Management Plan 2003 (NEMP 2003) guides management of interconnected issues in our city:

Air	Land Use
Biodiversity	Transport
Coast & Estuary	Waste
Energy & Greenhouse	Water

NEMP 2003 is based on a systems approach to environmental management. Interconnections in the web of nature are the foundation of sustainable ecology. A systems framework emphasises interconnections in a similar way. We want to forge connections within and between environmental themes, government and the community, organisations and individuals.

We hope the Green Pages Directory will help you make the connections you need for environmental change.

A digital copy of the Green Pages database is available in Microsoft Word format from Louise Duff at Newcastle City Council: lduff@ncc.nsw.gov.au
